

2,200 STUDENTS HAVE ENROLLED IN CENTRAL HIGH

Large Registration Due to the Many Men Returned from War and Military Academies.

Returning soldiers, men who have been attending military schools and students who discontinued their schooling last semester because of war conditions swamped Principal Masters of the Central High school Monday morning to register for the second semester, which opens Tuesday.

With the largest incoming class of freshmen ever registering at the school mid-term, the enrollment of Central High is now close to 2,200. Only 41 of the 524 graduates from the grade schools have not registered at one of the four high schools.

New System Adopted.

A new system of registration is being adopted. Students are permitted to choose their own teachers, hours and subjects. Each student is expected to make out his own program of studies, subject to the approval of the home room teacher. This program is to be signed by each teacher in whose classes the student wishes to enroll. This system has been used in Denver and eliminates the work of a small group of teachers attempting to satisfactorily arrange programs for 1,800 students.

Several new teachers will begin their work when classes open Tuesday. Miss Helen Sommer, formerly a teacher at the Columbia school, will teach English. Miss Elsie Fisher will take Mr. Wedeking's freshman algebra classes, and Miss Drake, a graduate of Smith college, will teach the classes in French taught last semester by seven different teachers.

Miss Elizabeth Kiewit and Miss Marie Coons will not be back this semester because of illness. Lieutenant Andrew Nelson has returned to the school from the artillery service. Miss Katherine H. Hilliard has recovered from an accident incurred last fall and will teach in the junior English classes. Mr. Louis Bexten has left the school to be assistant Boy Scout commissioner. Mrs. Stephen Davis will be transferred from South to Central High, while Miss Josephine Duras will return to South High from Central.

The High School of Commerce, which has the quarterly system, will not register new students until March. Benson High reports an unusually large number of seniors.

The father, whose request was made through the welfare board, stated he was divorced. Mrs. Plummer writes that she is anxious to obtain the address of the traveling man so that she may communicate with him. She says that she wants a little girl in her home about four years old.

The child has already found a home.

Break Glass Window in Larsen Jewelry Store and Stole Three Hundred Dollars Worth of Jewelry.

Burglars were active Sunday night and several good "hauls" were reported to the police. The largest loss was that of the Larsen Jewelry store, 204 North Sixteenth street, where $300 worth of jewelry was taken. A hole was cut in the plate glass window and the jewelry on display stolen.

Charles A. Brown, 2527 Bristol street, reported that while the family were asleep burglars ransacked the house and stole $250 worth of jewelry and silverware. They gained entrance through a rear window.

Jens Neilson, 2502 Bristol street, who lives a block from the scene of the Brown burglary, reports that burglars raised a window near his bed and stole his trousers. The pockets were searched and when found to contain nothing of value the trousers were left in the yard.

B. P. Boyd, 724 South Thirty-sixth street, reported that while the family were away from home, burglars opened the rear door and stole silverware valued at $250.

W. H. Harlow of the Ekhard apartments reported to the police that his 12 year old daughter frightened a burglar from the house before anything was taken. The family had left the daughter at home alone and she stepped out of the apartment for a few minutes. When she returned she surprised the burglar ransacking the rooms.

Cupid to Blame for But One Nebraskan on Victory Commission

Cupid is to blame for Nebraska having but one representative, instead of two, on the War Victory commission of overseas furlough house workers of the General Federation of Women's clubs.

Miss Margaret Covey of St. Paul, one of the girls chosen to leave next week with a unit of 100 women recruited from all over the United States, suddenly decided to get married instead.

Miss Ena Hamot of Hastings is the one delegate who will go. Miss Hamot was summoned to New York Monday to attend a presiding date conference of workers held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. War council.

Two alternates, Miss Josephine Storratt of Central City and Miss Myrtle Judd of Rising City, were named. Miss Storratt who was first called to substitute for Miss Covey, was unable to go on account of influenza.

Mrs. J. N. Paul, state chairman, who handled the applications, made a strong effort to have Miss Judd substitute, but could not receive action on the necessary papers in time to have Miss Judd included in the unit.

Any Soldier May Be Discharged If His Family Needs Him

The government has sent a formal letter to the commanding officers of the various overseas armies stating that any officer or man may be discharged from the service if he submits proper proof that his family needs him on account of sickness or other distress.

Any soldier who submits sufficient reasons warranting his discharge in Europe may be discharged over there, providing he waives any claim for sea travel allowances from Europe to the United States. However, he will be paid his travel allowances from the station to the port of embarkment and from Hoboken, N. J., to the place where he entered the service.

What If Your Bookkeeper Should Go?

Ask any one of the management of the Paxton-Gallagher Co., wholesale grocers, of Omaha, that question and the answer will come: "Nothing easier! We'll put one of our office stenographers on the work of posting our ledgers, and we know that the work will go forward without a slip."

Burroughs Direct-to-Ledger Posting has prepared the Paxton-Gallagher Co. for this emergency, or for any other difficulty of similar nature—for the Burroughs Machine is so simple of operation that anyone who can read can operate it successfully.

Burroughs Direct-to-Ledger Posting brought perfect accuracy into the Paxton-Gallagher Company's bookkeeping department—automatic adding and subtracting, a daily proof of posting, and trial balances that balance at the FIRST addition.

It brought uniform neatness and speed, and made possible a daily balance on all accounts.

Yet, even more than any of these advantages, the simplicity of the Burroughs Direct-to-Ledger Posting method appeals to this firm, because it permits anyone in the office—no matter how inexperienced—to take over the bookkeeping work in an emergency.

With Burroughs Ledger Posting Machines, either card or loose leaf ledgers may be used. The machine prints dates and amounts, extends the balance at the touch of a button, and gives a speedy and accurate proof of the work.

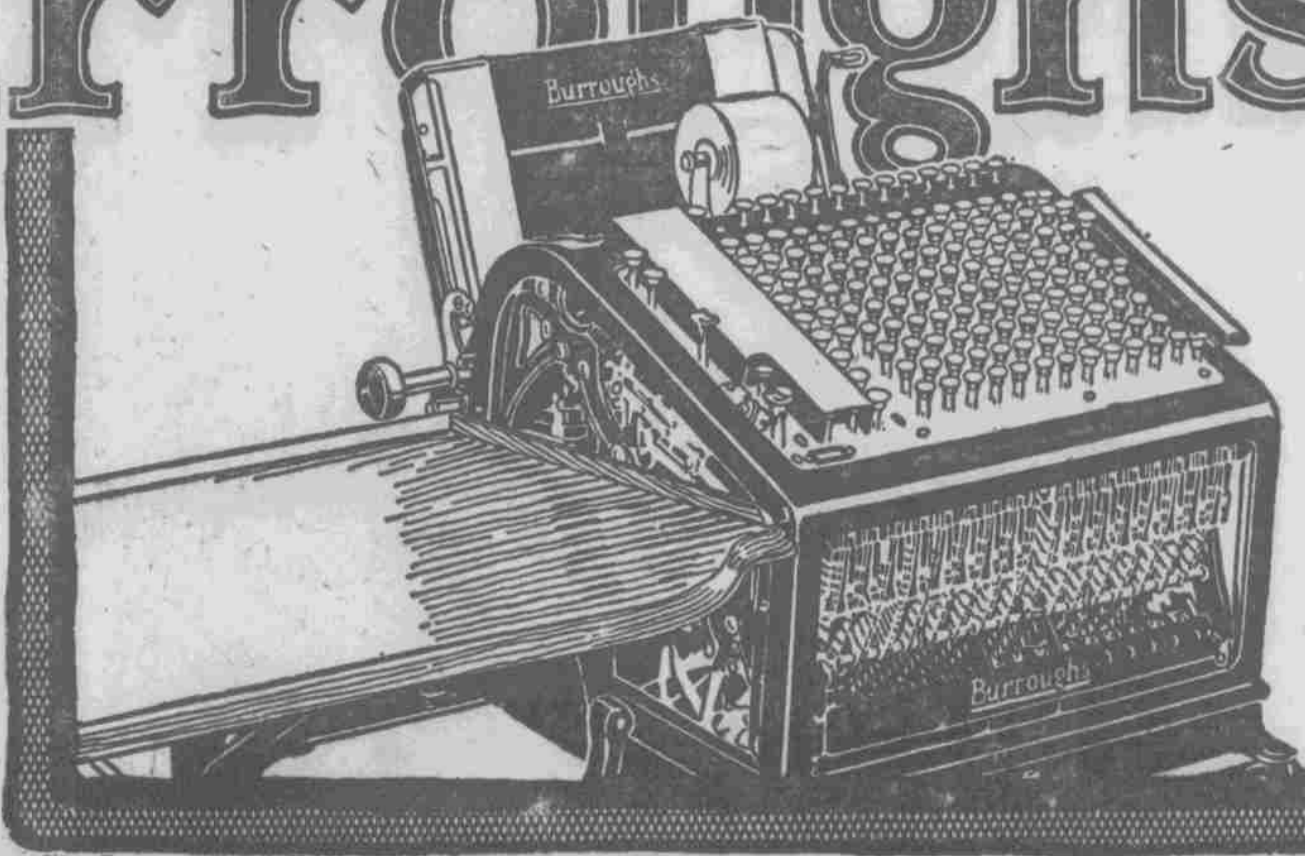

The Paxton-Gallagher Co. is only one of many Burroughs Bookkeeping Machine users and boosters in Omaha. We can give you some very interesting information about the work of these machines, and show you how the machine-posting method can be applied to the bookkeeping work in your own office at a saving for your company. A phone call will bring a Burroughs man to your office at any time. Let him study the way your work is handled, and then draw up a definite outline of what the Burroughs Machine can do for you.

If the machine cannot save you time and money, our representative will tell you so. If it can, he will show you where and how.

DROPS OF MAGIC! LIFT OUT CORNS

Sore, touchy corns stop hurting, then lift right out with fingers

For a few cents you can get a small bottle of the magic drug frezone recently discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Just ask at any drug store for a small bottle of frezone. Apply a few drops upon a tender, aching corn or callus and instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you lift it off with the fingers.

Just think! Not one bit of pain before applying frezone, or afterwards. It doesn't even irritate the surrounding skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also hardened caluses on bottom of feet, shrivel up and fall off without hurting a particle. It is almost magical. Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.—Ad.
