

BACK FROM WAR, SOLDIER FINDS WIFE IN JAIL

Charles Wilson Endeavors to Obtain Release of Mate, Whom He is Willing to Forgive.

Charles Wilson returned from military service to find his young wife, Pearl, serving a 30-day sentence in the county jail on a charge of vagrancy. The husband is endeavoring to obtain the release of his wife whom he is willing to forgive. Mrs. Wilson does not believe that the ends of justice are being served by keeping her in Sheriff Clark's boarding house for 30 days. She was arrested on Monday night of last week at her rooms, northeast corner of Twentieth and Dodge streets. She stated that a detective named Brinkman, accompanied by another detective, called at her apartments ostensibly in quest of a "big blonde." They told her they were also after Roy Slack and Carl Rose, but she affirms that they were only bluffing in their reference to the men. "They did find a note on my table.

It was a message from Harry Saunders, a soldier friend of mine who was going to take me to supper that night," she added. Mrs. Wilson further declared that the wife of a city detective had threatened to shoot her.

Two Woman Lecturers Will Address Omaha Audiences Today

Two woman lecturers will be heard in Omaha today. Miss Anna Ryan of New York, a member of the first Smith college reconstruction unit which worked in devastated France, will speak at the University club at noon. Dr. Stella Rubenstein of the University of Paris, lectures before the Fine Arts society in the Fontenelle ballroom at 3:30 o'clock. The University club lifts its ban against woman speakers for the third time in its history, in permitting Miss Ryan to speak at one of its luncheons. Women will be admitted in the main dining room. A sister of Dr. Robert Leavens, pastor of the Unitarian church, Miss Alice Leavens of Boston, was with Miss Ryan in the Smith unit. Dr. Rubenstein, who is a French woman, is a lecturer on medical art. Her talk "Devastated Cathedrals of Northern France," will be illustrated with lantern slides made recently under the direction of the high French commission.

South Side MAY HAVE FERRY ACROSS RIVER ON SOUTH SIDE

Would Tap Largest Hog Raising Section of Iowa; Stock Exchange to Consider Project.

A project for the construction of a ferry line which will cross the Missouri river at the foot of Missouri avenue, was presented to A. F. Stryker, secretary of the Stock exchange, by Edward Townsend, who is at the Howard hotel. Mr. Townsend, an experienced ferry operator, proposes to construct a "cable ferry," which he says is of the most practical type. He is ready to begin work at once, and promises that his ferry line will be in operation in a short time. It is pointed out that over 25 miles in the transportation of live stock to the South Side market will be cut off by the proposed ferry line. Crossing the river at Missouri avenue, the line taps one of the greatest hog raising regions in the state of Iowa. Stock from this section is now brought to the South Side market by way of the Douglas street bridge, a most roundabout route. "We are aware to the possibilities of the project," declared Mr. Stryker, "and it will be submitted to the executive committee of the exchange. I can't help but think, however, of our last ferry project a number of years ago. Almost every one who was connected with the exchange had shares in it. We even bought a boat and were ready for action. Due to natural obstacles, however, it proved a failure. The last we saw of our ferry line the boat was floating down the river in the general direction of the Gulf of Mexico." Mr. Stryker calls attention to the Missouri avenue hill, which is a steep grade. The street is unpaved, and is said to be unpractical for heavy hauling during at least nine months of the year. This is thought to be one of the main obstacles to the project.

If you keep your digestive system free from food-waste, it will keep your blood free from the dangerous poisons which it absorbs from food-waste fermentation which goes on while you are constipated. If your blood is free from poisons it will protect you from colds and the dreadful after-effects, Influenza and Pneumonia.

When you call a doctor, his first question is: "How are your bowels?" Clogged bowels, he knows, are the cause of nearly all sickness. He knows the value of a thorough cathartic, such as SALINOS, a cathartic which will completely empty the digestive tract, including the lower bowel where most poisons are formed.
