

A national conference of women has been called to meet in Washington this month for the purpose of focusing the energies of the women of America upon the new problems of democracy and world organization.

WOMAN'S SECTION OF THE BEE

In Africa the blackest, curliest, coarsest hair makes a girl the belle of the ball, especially if she be plump with piggy eyes, thick lips, a nose like an india-rubber shoe and a skin that shines like a cooking stove.

Advice to the Lovelorn

Love Plays Queer Tricks and Cupid's Darts Are Apt to Strike in Most Unexpected Places.

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Wants Friend.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Would you very much appreciate it if you would help me by giving some advice.

Am a young man who has just come to Omaha and would like to meet some nice girls and young men. Are there any clubs or anything like that where one can meet some real nice girls? Can dance, but would rather not. Isn't there some way to meet some nice young people without going to dances? Not acquainted here. Would you answer more fully if I would send an addressed stamped envelope? Please answer in The Bee. Thanking you, yours truly, Y. M.

A MAID IN TROUBLE.

If the hired man wishes to marry you, and you love him, follow the dictates of your heart. However, if you love the soldier, why bother with another. The fact that you have not heard from him for three months is not unusual as a great deal of mail is lost.

Deny Him a Divorce.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Have been a constant reader of your column and come to you in full trust and appreciation of your advice. I am, indeed, am in trouble and want your advice.

I am 19 years of age and have been married about 3 months. My husband and I have had a misunderstanding and he treated me with respect, but says he does not love me any more and that he intends to answer. Now, what shall I do—stay away and wait? I do not wish a divorce, as I think if we could start over and forget this that we would be happy again.

Parlor Games.

Herman, Neb.—Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Having read your columns daily, I have come to you for advice. Which finger is the engagement finger, and where could we get a book on parlor games.

Some More!

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I wish to ask your advice about getting a divorce from a wife who is very wealthy and is much older than I am.

Two Suitors.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Have asked you for advice once before, but as my letter didn't come in print, so will write again. Please answer me this time. Am a young girl 22 years old. Have been corresponding with a soldier, whom I loved dearly, but I didn't hear from him for about three months, so don't know what to do.

Disgusted Girl's Reply.

The girls who copy their answers instead of solving the problems will lose in the long run. Remember that it isn't the marks you get in school that determine your career—it is what you store away in your head. Do not kiss a boy just to show him that you are his friend. You are too young to be taking a boy's attention seriously. If the boy you speak of is a nice person, and likes you, he will not insist on kissing you. He is not, the sooner you drop him the better.

Lonesome Girls.

Beatrice Fairfax, Omaha Bee: We are two pals, both 18 years old, and are considered very good looking. My pal is a brunette and I am a blonde. What colors are becoming to us?

TWO LONESOME GIRLS.

All colors of the rainbow. I am sorry about the sand hills, but do not know any boys to whom you could write—this being a lovelorn column and not a matrimonial column.

A Cold Wife.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I am a daily reader of your columns and have come to you for advice.

I am 29 years old and have been married nearly three years. Have one child, a boy, 17 months old. I have been living apart from my wife about six months. She has the child. We have both been true to each other and I have no bad habits, and she is a good cook, and both are willing to work. But we are both of a nervous disposition. She has a very cold, distant way, and would just as soon live alone as with a man.

I like to be with my boy, and I appreciate having a home of my own, and feel very lonesome when I do not have a home of my own. Would you advise me to try living with her again, or to find somebody else to share a home with me? Hoping to see my letter in print soon.

Well, Girls?

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: After reading E. G. Fitzhamon's article in The Bee of the 28th, I wondered if the stock of American horsehood could be as much improved by the importation of Belgian and French girls as the stock of American horses had been by the importation of French and Belgian horses a few years back. Can not the American girls find something that is even better than a "coffee pot" to throw at him? What about it, girls? OLD BOY.

Nuga-Tone

DOCTOR RECOMMENDS IT

Read what this Iowa doctor says about Nuga-Tone.

National Laboratory, 113 W. Madison St., Chicago, Ill. Sioux City, Ia., Dec. 2, 1918

Outstanding—You may send me another supply of Nuga-Tone as I have only a few bottles left. I feel much gratified at the good results I have personally secured through the use of this medicine, and I find it valuable for my general practice, and if a word from me will help the National Laboratory in securing a greater patronage, I feel that you are entitled to it.

Your Nuga-Tone, I have discovered, ranks high as a blood and nerve builder. It acts with special benefit upon the digestive system, improves the appetite, helps the bowels action and aids in eliminating the poisons out of the blood. It appears that Nuga-Tone contains just the elements needed to enrich the blood—elements so often lacking in the food we eat, and taking into consideration the dirt and manner of living of the average man and woman of today, I am inclined to think it is the part of wisdom for everyone to keep such a medicine as Nuga-Tone always at hand.

Cardially yours, Dr. R. B. Crawford.

Use Nuga-Tone, the great Vitalizer, and enjoy a keen appetite, good digestion, steady nerves and sound refreshing sleep. Nuga-Tone will strengthen your body through and through—double your energy—fill you with the glow of health in every vein! Nuga-Tone is a grand medicine for weak, nervous, run-down men and women. Motherhood

By Eleanor Robbins Wilson.

So short a time at my command. These children that I hold to-night, God give me grace to understand, Wisdom to guide their steps aright, That I may be throughout the land A lamp unto their feet for light.

So short a time do small hands cling With confidence of babyhood, Let me not idly dream the thing, But live the noble part I should. That henceforth from such mothering They shall instinctively seek good.

So short a time for my embrace, For love, cheer, comfort, lullabies, God help me hallow the brief space That turns to gold each sacrifice.

So surely does a mother's grace Build her soul's mansion in the skies. —Good Housekeeping.

Insure Against Pneumonia

Be on the safe side. Pneumonia follows a cold, so avoid colds. The best insurance against colds and pneumonia is to keep the bowels open and entirely free from food-waste which ferments and creates dangerous poisons if allowed to remain in the bowels. These poisons are absorbed into the blood and the kidneys, lungs and skin pores are kept so busy trying to throw the poisons off that colds and pneumonia can gain a footing unopposed.

Your druggist has a really pleasant tasting new salt called SALINOS (fully effective in cold water.) It will completely empty the digestive tract, including the lower bowel where most poisons are formed. It acts pleasantly. Its use will stop the formation of poisons and give your blood full freedom to fight disease—ideal insurance against pneumonia.

The supper dance given at the Blackstone Tuesday evening was a great success as 150 guests attended the affair. Mrs. Henry Wyman, chairman of the committee who had the arrangements in charge, is not yet able to determine the amount realized from the dance. The funds will be used to further the work of the Salvation Army relief at the Rescue home.

Sons of the Bureau of Misinformation.

Minc'd Chicken.

The meat left over from the chicken jelly can be utilized as a good luncheon dish for the well members of the family. Chop very fine and season with salt, pepper and parsley. Add enough butter and top milk to moisten the mixture, heat it in a saucepan and serve on thin delicately browned slices of buttered toast.

13 Dollars—13 Cents

When Swift & Company paid, say,—13 dollars per hundredweight for live beef cattle last year, their profit was only 13 cents! In other words, if we had paid $13.13, we would have made no profit.

Or, if we had received a quarter of a cent per pound less for dressed beef we would have made no profit.

It is doubtful whether any other business is run on so close a margin of profit.

This is bringing the producer and the consumer pretty close together—which should be the object of any industry turning raw material into a useful form.

This remarkable showing is due to enormous volume, perfected facilities (packing plants strategically located, branch houses, refrigerator cars, etc.), and an army of men and women chosen and trained to do their special work.

This, and many other points of interest, are found in the Swift & Company Year Book for 1919, just published which is brought out for the public as well as for the 25,000 Swift & Company shareholders.

The Year Book also represents the packer's side of the Federal Trade Commission investigation, upon which Congress is asked to base action against the industry.

Many who have never heard the packer's side are sending for the Year Book.

Would you like one? Merely mail your name and address to the Chicago office and the book will come to you.
