

BACKBONE OF GREAT STRIKE SEEMS BROKEN

Business Assuming Normal Phases as Authorities Assure Protection to Workers and Public.

ers went back to work today, as one instance of this. Typographical members, pressmen and printers remained at work. Stereotypers, longshoremen and street car men violated orders of their international bodies and walked out.

Engineers and janitors employed in the city's 79 schools voted today to resume work Monday when the school board announced that men not appearing then would forfeit their positions. Fifteen schools were open Friday.

Maj. Gen. John F. Morrison, commander of the Western department of the army, arrived here tonight to take command of the federal troops. After conferring with Mayor Ole Hanson and city officials, he said he believed the backbone of the general strike was broken.

"Law will rule," said General Morrison. "If the unions want to quit work that is their affair. If they want to resume work that also is their business. We do not care how long they remain away from their work nor how many. The only thing we are interested in is that the law is obeyed and we are here to see it is. Lawlessness will not be countenanced, and the protection of property will be our duty."

Revolution Attempted.

To call attention to his claim that the present situation in Seattle is an attempted revolution, rather than a strike, Mayor Ole Hanson, in a statement tonight, quoted an editorial published in the labor unions' daily newspaper here February 4. The editorial, referring to the strike, said:

"We are undertaking the most tremendous move ever made by labor in this country, a move which will lead no one knows where.

Labor will not only shut down the industries but labor will reopen them under the management of the appropriate trades. Such activities are needed to preserve health and public peace. If the strike continues labor may feel led to avoid public suffering by reopening more and more activities, under its own management. And that is why we say that we are starting on a road that leads no one knows where."

Commenting upon this editorial, Mayor Hanson said:

"We will not deal with revolutionists. We demand unconditional surrender."

Ole Hanson, Radical of Radicals, Mayor First

Fighting Chief Executive of Seattle in Throes of First Nation's City-Wide Strike.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 8.—(Special.)—Ole Hanson, blue-eyed, slight of build, fiery of speech, radical of radicals in the advocacy of government by the people, finds himself in a strange situation as mayor of Seattle, three days in the throes of the nation's first city-wide strike.

The radical mayor announced that the city would continue to be governed from the city hall and any person who attempts to interfere will be shot. Latest reports show he has the situation in hand.

Ole Hanson is a regular Beau Brummel in dress. His overcoats always outlasted Jim Ham Lewis' vests and pink whiskers in the old days. In a crowd of laborers he always seems out of place until he starts to talk.

Leader 20 Years.

He is not rich but he is independent. He gave up money-making for a public career. He has been a leader of the northwest radical constructive element for 20 years and has taken part in and messed up, according to his enemies, more public disputes than any other man from his section of the country.

Although of Swedish ancestry, he has the impulsive temperament of an Irishman. He was born in southern Wisconsin.

He has always taken an interest in politics; and always been a radi-

BARON PROVES 'BUM ACTOR' AS TELLS OF LOVES

The baron relates how "Nat and I, dear and true friends as we were up to his death," discussed the greatest thing in life, a pure woman.

"Nat ought to know," his excellency said. "He was married a good many times and I am ready to take his place. (The Grand Finale) Yes, ladies and gentlemen, I will follow him for I am open for matrimony again, I am looking for a $100,000 wife as I told Omaha through the papers before. "Thirty" for the baron.

In the second act the two Broadway dandies are taken through the slums and land in Flanigan's alley, the toughest place in all New York. Naturally, loaded dice, beer-drinking cops and the ever necessary "alley rats" are not missing. A patriotic scene, introducing the different allied nations, concludes the performance.

Armed I. W. W. Force Closing of Butte Mines

Butte, Mont., Feb. 8.—A strike called by Industrial Workers of the World resulted in the closing today of the mines in the Butte district. Industrial Workers, some armed, turned back from the mines the miners who sought to enter.

duous operation of keeping it up to time.

Kaiser to go Back?

The powers which are at present entertaining the kaiser in Holland (for nobody of any political authority is taken in by the nonsense in the press about his being there of his own accord as an unwelcome intruder) are much more disposed to put him back in Berlin than to tolerate a social-democratic republic.

The labor agitation is not preventing M. Pichon from making war on the Russian revolution as openly as Pitt did on the French revolution.

In short, just as the 1815 allies, after making war on Napoleon, in the character of the knights of liberty against tyranny, promptly re-established the Bourbons when they had disposed of the Corsican under pretense of ridding the world of Jacobinism, there is every probability that the blockade may be maintained today with the object of restoring monarchy in Russia, Poland, Austria and Germany under pretense of ridding the world of bolshevism.

Monarchy in U. S.?

Mr. Wilson can hardly become an accomplice in these designs. If he did so, he would be entering on a course which would point to nothing short of the restoration of monarchy in the United States and its imposition on the rest of the American continent.

That is not the interest of American capitalism any more than it is the interest of the American people; for capitalism flourishes more luxuriantly in republics than in monarchies, and opens the political career much more widely to the commercial talent. There is a notion prevalent among the middle classes in England, especially in the Liberal middle classes, that kings do not matter, as parliaments have deprived them of their power. Those who are inside the governing classes know better.

Constitution to Colonies.

To avoid the same disruption elsewhere, the British empire had to grant to Canada, Australia and South Africa constitutions which assimilated them to the federated republics and makes it impossible to impose on them the monarchial conditions which still prevail in London and parliaments have deprived them of their power. Those who are inside the governing classes know better.

Before the war one could say that the whole of North America and Australia and a considerable part of Africa had reached the federal republican stage of political development, and were visibly lost forever to what all good Americans call "this king business."

The French republic, one and indivisible, is conceivable in Russia, but hardly possible, whereas it is neither conceivable nor possible in

U. S. LABOR MEN ASK EIGHT-HOUR DAY STANDARD

Right of Trial by Jury Another Plank in Proposals Presented by American Delegates at Paris.

Paris, Feb. 8.—The American delegates on the commission on international labor legislation of the peace conference has submitted the following proposals to the commission:

"We declare that the following fundamental principles should underlie and be incorporated in the peace treaty:

"A league of the free peoples of the world in a common covenant for genuine and practical co-operation to secure justice and, therefore, peace in the relations between nations.

"The entrance of any free nation into the league of free peoples of the world shall be inherent.

"No reprisals based upon purely vindictive purposes, or deliberate desire to injure, but to right manifest wrongs.

"Recognition of the rights of small nations and of the principle 'no people must be forced under a sovereignty which it does not wish to live.'

"No territorial changes or adjustments of power except in the furtherance of the welfare of the peoples affected and in the furtherance of world peace.

"That in law and in practice the principle shall be recognized that the labor of a human being is not a commodity or an article of commerce;

"Involuntary servitude shall not exist except in a punishment for crime of which the party shall have been duly convicted;

"Trials by jury should be established;

"The right of free association, free assemblage, free speech and the press shall not be denied or abridged;

"That the seamen of the merchant marine shall be guaranteed the right of leaving their vessels when the same are in a safe harbor;

"No article or commodity shall be shipped or delivered in international commerce in the production of which children under the age of 16 years have been employed or permitted to work;

"No article or commodity shall be shipped or delivered in international commerce in the production of which convict labor has been employed or permitted.

"It shall be declared that the workday in industry and commerce shall not exceed eight hours per day, except in case of extraordinary emergency, such as danger of life or property.

"The sale or use for commercial purposes of articles made or manufactured in private homes shall be prohibited.

"It shall be declared that an adequate wage shall be paid for labor performed—a wage based upon and commensurate with the standard of pay conforming to the civilization of the times.

"That equal wage shall be paid to women as is paid to men for equal work performed.

"The incorporation of the points laid down by President Wilson."

AMERICAN GUNS SUPPORT ATTACK ON BOLSHEVIKI

British and Russian Troops Advance for Purpose of Heading Off Flank Movement.

Archangel, Feb. 8.—Allied forces advanced five miles south of the Petrograd road from Kadish yesterday. Two bolsheviki guns were captured by the allies during the fighting.

Archangel, Feb. 8.—British and American machine gun and trench mortar units, began an attack at 10 a. m. yesterday against the bolsheviki on the Petrograd road south of Kadish. There have been no final reports on the results of the fighting.

The infantry went forward after the Canadian artillery had silenced the enemy artillery in a bombardment of several hours. The attack was made for the purpose of protecting the American positions at Sredmakrenka, about 30 miles eastward, from a flank attack.

The bolsheviki are shelling the American positions in the Vaga sector continuously.

State Department to Get Details on Trade Policies of Countries

Washington, Feb. 8.—Inquiries have been sent by the State department to Great Britain, France and Italy regarding the British import embargo, the French cartel system and the Italian system of government supervision of purchases, all of which have an effect on American industries.

Farmers' Educational Union to Meet in Omaha

The regular annual meeting of the Farmers' Educational Co-operative State union of Nebraska will convene in Omaha February 11 to 13, 1919, at the Municipal auditorium. Speakers of national prominence are expected to address the meetings, and regular routine business of the organization will be considered.

300,000 Builders of Good Will

In four years Dodge Brothers have supplied to the American people, and to American soldiers, more than three hundred thousand of their cars.

The demand for the car is just as fresh, and just as vigorous, today, as in the first year of its existence.

The simple truth is, indeed, that the war has given a new interest and a new impetus to that demand.

To the natural and normal preference which the American people always accord a product which wins their good will, has been added a strong sentimental attraction.

The car is inseparably linked, in the thought of thousands of homes, with its fine and faithful performance in the service of the nation.

The written and spoken word of American army men, at home and abroad, has given the very name of Dodge Brothers Motor Car a new and a stirring significance.

It stands, in their minds and hearts, as a synonym for pluck and endurance, and ability to "carry on" under the stress of desperately discouraging conditions.

So the war that curtailed production of the car, has now conferred upon it a stronger and more spontaneous admiration than ever.

More than ever is it apparent, now that the American people think of it as a stable and an established value, to be bought on its merits, and without a moment's hesitation.

Thus that national good will which has become almost a trade mark in Dodge Brothers business, after four years, is at the highest point in their history.

Dodge Brothers enter upon the fifth year with a full sense of the confidence reposed in them and the determination to continue to deserve it.

It will pay you to examine this car.
