

South Side TRANSACTIONS IN REAL ESTATE INVOLVE $70,000

South Side May Have New Hotel and Two Movie Palaces; Standard Furniture Company Buys Property.

Four real estate transactions, involving nearly $70,000, have been completed on the South Side in the last 12 days. Through these transactions a new $100,000 hotel, and two large movie theaters may be added to the attractions of the South Side.

M. Steinberg and A. Silverman, owners of the Standard Furniture company, 2508-10 N. street, yesterday announced their purchase of the three-story brick building at 2408 N. street, which is at present occupied by the Continental Furniture company. The deal was completed Thursday through L. C. Gibson, realtor, with a Boston firm that owned the building. The purchase price was $10,000.

The new owners plan to remodel the building for a large movie theater. The theater will have a seating capacity of over 1,000, and will be called the "Delmar."

Laundry Building Sold.
The purchase of the old Evans laundry building, at 2311 N. street, by Frank Baker, another South Side man, was also announced yesterday. This property was formerly owned by the Packers National bank. J. J. Fitzgerald, realtor handled the transaction. A purchase price of $7,000 was paid. The Citizens Printing company will occupy the main floor. Upper floors will be used for a rooming house.

On January 30, Leon and Samuel Epstein closed a deal for the purchase of the Petelia property at the southeast corner of Twenty-fourth and N. streets, formerly owned by B. F. Thomas, Charles Battelle and A. R. Kimball, for $40,000, through B. E. Wilcox, realtor. A six-story, modern hotel building, to cost not less than $100,000 is planned for the site.

The fourth transaction was completed on January 27, when Krath Brothers, coal dealers on the South Side, purchased the property at 4805 South Twenty-fourth street from the Insurance Building company. The purchase price was $9,600.

Freshmen Outnumber All Other Students at South High School

Freshmen at South High need not feel meek and lowly, as most freshmen are wont to do, for they are superior, at least in numbers, to any other class at the school. A total of 203 ninth grade pupils are enrolled at the present time. The total registration is 497.

On the other hand, the juniors, who prefer to think of themselves as "near-seniors" are the smallest class in the school. Only 77 juniors are present at South High this year. And the mighty seniors, 89 in number, must, in turn, look up with respect to five very superior, post-graduate students.

Night school pupils are not bothered by either "post grads" or seniors. Three nights a week for two hours they plod the paths of knowledge at the South High, and in spite of the "hu" and other difficulties few have dropped out. To those who have dropped out, Principal Marr wishes to state that two and one-half months of the term are left, and that it is not too late to start in again.

Life of Sergeant Sheehan Made Brighter by Ten-Bucks

"A happy man am I," sang Sgt. J. W. Sheehan, as he performed his duties at the South Side police station yesterday, and with good reason. For tucked away in an inner pocket of the sergeant's coat was a letter, and in the letter was a $10 check.

On January 31 the sergeant recovered a stolen car belonging to the Consumers Refining company. The car was identified and restored to the owners. Eight long days passed, and in the incident was forgotten. Then came the letter, and the check, signed by Manager T. L. Wilson of the company. "In recog-

Mogy to Give Doughnut to the Newsways at His Hut

Mogy Bernstein is a Valentine kid. Friday he celebrates his forty-third birthday and is going to celebrate it by giving a big party.

The guests at this party will be his employees, all the newsways and the entertainers who helped him on his rounds for the various war funds for which he worked. He expects to have 500 guests at his party which will be given at his Doughnut hut on Farnam street between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets.

And the guests will all be fed on doughnuts and coffee and ice cream and cake.

Mogy says that the war made doughnuts popular and that all the newsways and the others are anxiously awaiting the party.

The feed is to be staged at 7:30 p. m. and the Orpheum Jazz band will provide the music.

Grand Jury May Take Up Ida Grove Pardon Case

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 8. (Special Telegram).—While it is improbable that the thirty-eighth general assembly will call Gov. W. L. Harding to account for his pardoning of Ernest Rathbun of Ida Grove, this does not mean that agitation over the case will be dropped.

Attorney General H. M. Havner admits that Judge Kennedy has been making a thorough investigation of the circumstances leading up to the pardon of Rathbun and will be gratified if the grand jury convenes in Ida county February 17, it is very probable that some very startling testimony will be brought out in view of interest that is being taken in the case. It is believed that Havner will go to Ida Grove when the grand jury convenes.

Story in Omaha Bee Attracts Attention in New York City

A story in the Bee telling of the recreation work of the city and containing a report of J. J. Isaacson has found its way to the Playground and Recreation association of America with headquarters in New York. The association, in a letter to Mr. Isaacson, highly praises him for his work in Omaha which it considers nearly model.

Officers have written for details of the work in Omaha which they will publish and distribute over all sections of the world. They plan to promote recreation more extensively than ever this year and announced their intention of advising cities to adopt plans similar to those used here.

Republican Senators To Abolish Seniority Rights in Committees

Washington, Feb. 8.—Republicans of the senate voted in conference today to abolish some of the long-standing seniority rights in the organization of committees when they take control of the senate after March 4.

Under the rules as they will be amended no senator will be permitted to become a member of more than two of the 10 principal standing committees, and the chairman of these committees may not be on any conference committee upon a bill reported by another committee without the recommendation of the majority members of the committee which had the bill in charge.

The amendments were adopted after a brief session today and without any apparent opposition.

A resolution also recommending that after March 4 no senate committee shall be composed of more than 17 members also was adopted. The resolution would affect the composition of about six committees.

Travelers Subscribe to Fund to Provide for War Orphans

Four hundred and fifty Omaha traveling men attended last night's dinner and ball of the Travelers' Men's Protective association, Post A, at the Blackstone hotel. A collection, taken after the dinner, netted enough money to keep two French war orphans for a full year. The local travelers greeted William Weidner of Lincoln, Neb., president of the state organization of the travelers, and wrote, as their distinguished guest.

The following were awarded prizes in the card contest:

LADIES.
First Prize—Mrs. J. Meyer.
Second Prize—Miss Fay Chamberlain.
Third Prize—Mrs. W. C. Mettee.

MEN.
First Prize—Charles Gallagher.
Second Prize—J. Mota.
Third Prize—A. H. Henson.

Alexander Lawrence of Pittsburgh, Pa., national president of the Travelers, will be in Omaha February 28 to attend a meeting of the local organization. He will also be the guest of the Chamber of Commerce.

Petty Thieves Claim to Be Representatives of Store

Two young men have been robbing Omaha homes by a new method. They gain admission to the house by representing that they are from Orchard & Wilhelm, the company and have come to measure for shades or carry out some small adjustment. It is while they are left alone to do this work that they annex whatever property they fancy. An official of Orchard & Wilhelm explained that men of the company always carry an instruction blank, although they do not wear a badge. Omaha housewives are cautioned against admitting any one without first assuring themselves that the shade man are bona fide workers. The fact that one of the thieves sometimes wears some kind of a uniform and does not put women off their guard.

The shade men from this firm do not wear any uniform at all, but only carry the instruction blank above mentioned.

Labor Leader to Address Readjustment Congress

John P. Frey of Cincinnati, O., editor of the International Moulders Journal, and one of the big labor men of the country, will address one of the general sessions of the Trans-Mississippi Readjustment congress in Omaha, February 18 to 20, on "Labor During the War and After."

In addition to Gov. S. R. McKelvie of Nebraska, who is chairman of the governor's committee, acceptances have been received from Gov. L. Harding of Iowa, Gov. Henry Allen of Kansas, Gov. Oliver Shoup of Colorado, Gov. Robert D. Carey of Wyoming and Gov. Simon Bamberger of Utah. Several governors will be attended by delegations of prominent citizens of their state.

Poultry Course Lecture at Y. M. C. A. Monday Evening

The next lecture of the poultry short course will be given at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening, February 10, at 8 o'clock. Prof. Frank E. Musselwhite of the poultry department of the state college, will talk on "Line Breeding and Out Breeding."

Omaha Zionists to Hold Meeting Wednesday Night

The Omaha Zionists will hold their regular meeting at the synagogue, Nineteenth and Burt streets, Wednesday evening, February 12.

The auditing committee will bring in a report of the financial standing of the organization. A report of the restoration fund committee will also be given.

Interment at Laurel Hill cemetery.

Provident Loan Does Safe Business Upon Collateral of Honesty

Fifteen hundred loans totalling $125,000 were made in the past year by the Provident Loan society of Omaha according to the report made at the annual meeting just held.

"We met practically no losses during 1918 although our loans were based wholly upon the collateral of honesty," said W. E. Palmatier, secretary and manager. "At this time when so many persons were stricken by influenza and were obliged to meet sudden and unexpected financial demands, they were enabled to provide funds for their most pressing needs through the instrumentality of this organization."

"Additional capital is constantly being furnished, enabling us to make more loans and enlarge the scope of the society, which in the last analysis is for public betterment rather than for gain."

Officers of the society are:
President, Eugene Duval; vice president, W. D. Hoffman; treasurer, W. E. Palmatier; secretary and manager, W. E. Palmatier; directors: Eugene Duval, R. A. Lusk, W. D. Hoffman, T. L. Combs, W. J. Holman, J. P. Palmer, W. R. Adair, M. M. Robertson, E. W. Arthur, L. V. Nicholas, Paul Kuhn and W. E. Palmatier.

The society is backed by business men of Omaha and was organized to fight loan sharks.

Will Give Dinner to Celebrate Election of Rep. A. W. Jeffers

In celebration of the election of A. W. Jeffers to the national house of representatives, the members of the Jeffers Boosters club will tender the successful candidate a dinner tomorrow night at the Rome hotel. Rome Miller, who is chairman of the arrangements committee, announces the plans have been completed.

Guests have been promised a genuine treat with a list of distinguished speakers.

The address of welcome will be delivered by President David L. Shanahan. James C. Kinsler will act as toastmaster. C. J. McCaffrey will respond to the toast. "The Citizenship Interest in Politics," Judge A. L. Sinton will speak on "Patriotism and Politics," and Mr. Jeffers has been assigned the subject, "Republicanism."

Phi Gamma Delta Alumni Holds Annual Election

The alumni association of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity held their annual dinner and election of officers at the University club last evening. Sixty-five members were in attendance, including 20 from the active chapter at Lincoln. Harley G. Moorehead of Omaha was toastmaster.

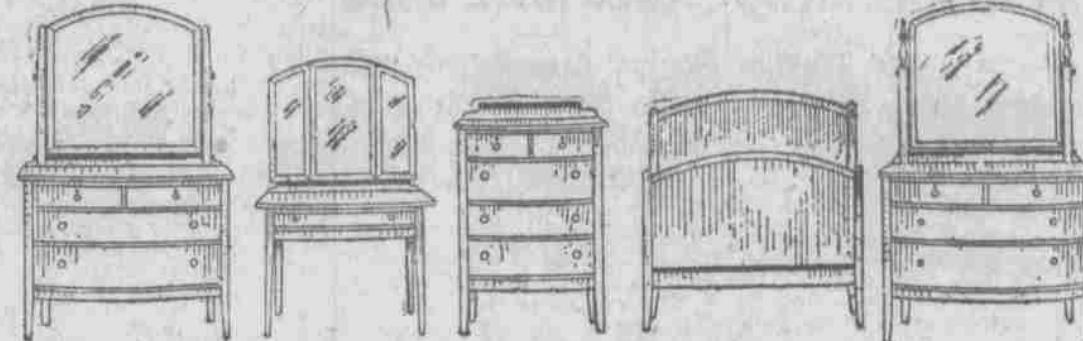

The election resulted in Harley Moorehead being named president, Jesse M. Harding, vice president and H. M. Bushnell secretary and treasurer.

A Modern English Bedroom Suite

of exceedingly practical proportions in English Mahogany or American Walnut

Everywhere Americans are resuming their pre-war activities; returning soldiers are taking up the task of life, making or remaking their homes, in fact our country is making rapid strides toward a normal state with just the difference that we all have a keener appreciation of practical things and real values. It is for this reason perhaps that we look with considerable favor upon the suite pictured above.

The woods used, the construction and finish in every detail, the fine surfaces, are of the type that commands appreciation, while the care given to the interiors of each piece, makes for service and satisfaction.
