

WOMAN'S SECTION OF THE BEE

When the hour of death comes, that come to high and low, then it is not what we have done for ourselves but what we have done for others that we think on most pleasantly.—Scott.

Texas has lost its only woman jailer through the resignation of Mrs. F. F. Conway, who has given up her position as jailer for Tom Green county after nearly 10 years of service.

Miss Margaret Martin, Formerly of Omaha, Has Good Y. W. Position

Miss Margaret Martin, well-known in Omaha as the producer of "Little Boy Blue" for a Child Saving Institute benefit, in the days when the late Mrs. Will Millard was chairman of the orphanage, has been placed in charge of the speakers' bureau for the Y. W. C. A. in national headquarters in New York. The information comes in a letter to Mrs. F. H. Cole.

Miss Margaret at another time produced a light opera here for the Teachers' Annuity association.

Mrs. Buckingham Entertains.

Mrs. Everett Buckingham entertained at a delightful luncheon party, Thursday, at the Omaha club. Following the luncheon the guests were entertained at the matinee and the party included:

- Madames: Mrs. W. H. Williams, Frank Kewgard, Victor Rosenator.

Patriotic Women Object to Flag Bathing Suit

Over enthusiastic without the right idea of patriotism, is the way Mrs. Jennie C. Everson and other members of the George A. Custer Relief Corps, described the spirit with which the American flag has been dragged about on every occasion during the war. These women object to the Star Spangled Banner being used to get "hands" for poor acts, for table napkin decorations and in any manner except as the patriotic emblem of our nation. At a recent meeting the following objection was drafted for publication: "The members of the Geo. A. Custer Relief Corps were thoroughly aroused with indignation at their regular session Tuesday afternoon when a copy of an Omaha daily paper of February 3, was passed for their inspection. This copy gives a photo of Miss Anna Murecroft of Los Angeles posed for moving pictures as a bather using the national flag for a bathing suit. A vigorous protest was made that the revered Star Spangled Banner should be so desecrated and by unanimous vote the matter was placed in committee's hands to bring this question before the public, a protest against the printing of such items, also the desecration of our national flag.

Resolved that this resolution be published in all Omaha daily papers that such desecration be abolished. MRS. MARY JOHNSON, President.

MRS. JENNIE C. EVERSON, MRS. CAROLINE LOCKNER, MRS. JEANETTE FOLEY.

Swartzlander-Carlin Wedding.

Of interest to Omaha friends is the marriage of Miss Marie Elizabeth Carlin of Hensall, Ontario, to Dr. Harry C. Swartzlander, son of Dr. Fred Swartzlander, which took place February 11, in Calgary, Canada. The bride was visiting friends in Calgary, when the call came for trained nurses, and she entered the Holy Cross hospital for training. Dr. Swartzlander was on the staff of the same hospital and the engagement was announced shortly after her graduation with honors. Dr. Swartzlander was graduated from the Creighton Medical college in 1912 and practiced for some time in Oyen, Alberta. He was an employee of The Bee for several years.

Birthday Parties.

Mrs. Ernest Segi entertained at a birthday party Thursday afternoon in honor of her little daughter, Eloise. About 25 children were present and the following matrons: Madames: Harry Smith, Charles Segi, William Yager, Charles Wilson, B. White.

Mrs. Lee W. Edwards entertained Saturday afternoon at her home in honor of the first birthday of her daughter, Anne. The guests included Madames Paul Bradley, William M. Burton, Earl Stanfield, P. W. Archer and Masters William Webster Burton and Paul Bradley, Jr.

Valentine Luncheon.

A Valentine luncheon was given by Mrs. George Koch at her home Friday in honor of her sister, Mrs. Eva Phillips of Los Angeles, Cal. The guests included: Madames: P. A. Dreyer, Paul Peterson, P. C. Grady, Hermanman, George C. Patronnet.

Box Parties.

Those entertaining box parties Thursday evening at the concert given by Madam Olga Samoroff, under the auspices of the Tuesday Musical club, will include, Mr. and Mrs. George McIntyre, Miss Eugene Whitmore, Mrs. S. S. Caldwell and Mrs. R. Beecher Howell.

False Teeth Don't Fit.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I am a married man of 28. About two years ago I eloped with a woman whom I have since discovered to be at least 10 years my senior. She is now very careless about her appearance while at home, seldom even talking the trouble of wearing her wig, and it is a common occurrence for her false teeth to drop out when we are at table, causing me intense mortification when friends are present. However, we get along fairly well, and what is worrying me now is this: Within the last month I have fallen in love with my stenographer, who is a very sweet little girl of 17 and very pretty, and I have good reason to think I am in love with her very much.

Now I feel that this woman to whom I am married has cruelly deceived me, both as to her age and her appearance, and I have long since ceased to love her. Please advise me what to do. How can I get rid of my wife so that I can marry my stenographer? My wife and I fight occasionally, not fist fights, just words. I despise quarrels. My work sometimes keeps me out until quite late at night, and when I come in to accuse me of being untrue. I try to explain, but she thinks I am lying to her and, honest, I'm not.

Four years ago she went to Rochester and had a cancer taken off her nose, and, in fact, most of her nose was affected and had to be taken away. I hate to look at her since and, as she is constantly nagging at me, would that be suitable grounds for divorce? I fear that my love wasn't placed correctly, as I saw a nurse later whom I really could love. She took care of my wife when she had the cancer removed and seemed so far above the average woman that I just worship her. She sympathized with me for having to live with this disgraced wife of mine. I want her (wife) to leave me, but she refuses. Can you suggest a way of getting rid of her without me paying alimony, as it will take all my income to support the nurse and pay the bills at Rochester. D. B. G., Rochester, Neb.

Your letter is difficult, indeed, to answer. If your wife were to write me, asking what to do with you, I could answer in one sentence—"poison the brute." Any man who wants to be rid of a woman because she has suffered the tortures of a cancer and then the humiliation of a disfigurement, isn't half a man. But the man who asks me for a plan to discard his wife, without alimony, in order that he may marry another—well, when you begin to have all kinds of bad luck just say to yourself: "It's what I deserve." I ought to publish your name.

Home Economics

Edited by IRMA H. GROSS
HOUSEHOLD ARTS DEPT. CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

Smoked Meats.

In the great art of making a little go a long way, the use of smoked meats must be recommended. There is no meat that will extend its flavor quite so well as these meats. Ham, bacon, smoked tongue, the innumerable kinds of sausages—all add variety to the diet. It must be admitted that the smoked meats are probably more difficult of digestion than the fresh meats, yet the person with a normal digestion will not be troubled by the occasional introduction of such meats in combination.

Honolulu Ham

1 one-lb. slice of ham. Chop green pepper, if desired.
2 potatoes.
Pare and cut potatoes into 1/2-inch slices. Place ham in a casserole, cover with green peppers and potatoes. Add milk barely to cover and bake in a moderate oven over one to one and a quarter hours.

Ham Baked with Tomatoes and Onions.

1 one-inch slice ham 3 medium sized onions.
2 fresh or canned tomatoes.
1 cup hot water.
Lay the ham in baking pan. Slice first the onions, and then place the tomatoes on top. Add water and bake one hour, basting frequently with juice in pan.

Ham Baked with Macaroni

1 cup macaroni, broken, 1/2 cup grated cheese in small pie.
1 cup milk.
1 cup chopped salt and paprika.
1 cup cooked ham. Bread crumbs.
Boil macaroni in salted water till tender. Drain, rinse with cold water. Add grated cheese, milk and season with salt and paprika. Fry onion in a little ham fat; add

Co-Operation

Miss Gross will be very glad to receive suggestions for the home economics column or to answer, as far as she is able, any questions that her readers may ask.

Squaw Corn

6 slices bacon, or 1 green pepper, more if desired, chopped.
1 can corn, drained.
Cut the bacon into small pieces and fry till crisp. Add corn and green pepper and heat thoroughly, stirring constantly.

Spaghetti and Sausages

1 1/2 cup spaghetti, salt and pepper.
1 cup milk.
1/2 cup grated cheese.
1 T. fat.
1/2 lb. thinly sliced sausage.
Cook the spaghetti; arrange in a baking dish in alternate layers with the sausage. Sprinkle the cheese on the spaghetti layers. Make a white sauce of the flour, fat and milk and season with salt and pepper. Pour sauce over spaghetti and sausage and dot the top of the dish with butter. Bake 20 minutes in a moderate oven.

Potted Hominy and Beef

2 cup cooked hominy, 1/2 dried beef, 2 potatoes, 1/4 cups milk, 1 cup carrots, 1 T. fat, 1 t. salt, 1 T. flour.
Melt the fat, stir in the flour, add the cold milk and stir to boiling. Cut the potatoes and carrots in dice, mix all the materials in a baking dish and bake for one hour. Even less dried beef than is called for may be used with very good results, as the flavor penetrates all the ingredients.

Creamed Corned Beef au Gratin

2 cup corned beef, 2 cups milk, cubes, 2 T. butter, 2 slices onion, 2 T. flour, chopped, Buttered crumbs.
Brown the onion in the butter. Strain, add flour to butter and then milk. Stir to boiling. Add beef; turn into a greased baking dish, cover the top with buttered crumbs and bake 20 minutes.

An industrial commission of women will leave for England.

MOTHER! Patient, tender, devoted, always loving, always suffering—ever with a recurring thought for the absent one! What roselate dreams of success and victory; what bitter forebodings of failure and defeat; what sublime faith! Noble mother, I shall write to you tonight!

Mothers of yesterday baked bread in big, generous loaves. Mothers of today are urged to buy their bread in large loaves.

Small loaves mean waste—they require more labor, more fuel, more handling, more pans, more wrapping paper, greater delivery expense. It costs your grocer more to handle small loaves.

The big loaf of Betsy Ross is produced without waste. You use it without waste. It stays fresh. It's better flavored, too, and eaten to the last crust.
