

GERMANY FEELS EFFECTS OF THE WAR BUT LITTLE

Omaha Man Says Huns Have Been Defeated, But Not Crushed; Looks for Another Outbreak.

The war is not yet over, according to Capt. John R. Nilsson, 1325 North Thirty-third street, who has just returned from Paris, where he was attached to American Red Cross military hospital No. 3.

"Though the Germans have been defeated they are not crushed and have felt the effects of the war but little. Now with the imposition of heavy indemnities and terms they are desperate. They know that the allied armies have been demobilized and that the English and French are so weary of war that they could hold them off for some time. If the terms imposed on the Huns by the peace conference are too severe we may look for another struggle. Many of the most important English and French officers are willing to wager large sums that another war with the Germans will be fought," said Dr. Nilsson.

Other Omahans There.

Dr. Nilsson enlisted in February, 1918, and was sent to France in July of the same year. He was originally with the Nebraska base hospital unit No. 49, but was detached and placed with the American Red Cross military hospital No. 3 in Paris. This hospital is the only one of its kind in France. Only officers are treated at this hospital and some of America's most noted military men were cared for there.

Many of them were under the personal care of Dr. Nilsson. Two other Omaha men were with Dr. Nilsson in this hospital. They were Capt. B. C. Russum, graduate of the American medical school, and Capt. Oliver Chambers, graduate of Nebraska university in the surgical department at the hospital, Col. Samuel Lloyd, founder of the New York Post-Graduate Medical school is in charge. Eddie Rickenbacker, Archie Roosevelt, General Barnett, Lyon and Hoffman were some of the men treated at this hospital.

Founded By Mrs. Reid.

The hospital was founded by Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, wife of America's late ambassador to England. Mrs. W. E. Corey, of $75,000 coat fame, contributed her chateau, consisting of 300 acres and considered one of the most beautiful in France, to men convalescing in this hospital.

At present the hospital is administering to the health of the members of the American peace delegation. Dr. Nilsson described a conversation which he had with a wounded German colonel. The colonel explained to him that the Americans knew very little about the art of warfare and the Germans did not fear the Americans on that score.

"We knew when we saw your men coming that we could kill more than half of them, but we also knew that they were such daredevils that the remaining half would get us all. This took the heart out of our soldiers and we were forced to quit," said the German officer.

Dr. Nilsson witnessed the armistice celebrations in Paris and the ovations extended to King George of England, Albert of Belgium, Emmanuel of Italy and to President Wilson. Of the five celebrations that for President Wilson was by far the greatest and most spontaneous stated Dr. Nilsson.

Most of the men who were injured and recovered were wounded either in the arms or legs. A very small percentage of the men wounded in the head or abdomen ever recovered. Nearly all of these were mortal wounds from the start, according to Captain Nilsson.

Raps Y. M. C. A.

As to the Salvation Army and the Knights of Columbus, Dr. Nilsson reiterated statements made by many of the returning soldiers. "They did Y. M. C. A. sold the things it was supposed to distribute free of charge," and that was all the returned officer would say of that organization.

Captain Nilsson returned on the liner Saxonia. The same ship were 13 blind soldiers, and according to the medical officer, these blind soldiers were the most cheerful men on the ship. Returning on the same liner was Maj. H. D. Parkin of the Three Hundred and Sixteenth infantry. This officer had been wounded four times and had been captured by the Germans, spending several months in the German prison camps. He was the intimate companion of Captain Nilsson on the way over and described many of his experiences in Germany.

Captain Nilsson will resume his practice here in the near future.

Says He Signs Bonds Out of Consideration of Friends

Samuel Mancuso, who interceded with Judge Foster Thursday morning in behalf of Mike Marone, 2236 Pierce street, when Marone faced charges in police court of assaulting and threatening to kill his 12-year-old daughter, Mary Marone, and who was referred to as a professional bondsman, denies that he signs bonds in police court for cash considerations.

Although the records show that Mancuso frequently signs bonds in police court, and at times appears to plead their cases, he insists he does not do it for pay.

"I do this out of consideration for my friends who need the assistance," he said. "Selfishness does not prompt my motive."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They do not injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. Most headaches, "dizziness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lumpy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.
