

WOMAN'S SECTION OF THE BEE

And that invisible bow we call the sky.
Where under covering cooped we live and die,
Lift not your hand to it for help—for it
As impotently rolls as you and I.—Omar Khayyam.

There is no flock, however watched and tended,
But one dead lamb in there;
There is no fire, however defended,
But has one vacant chair.—Longfellow.

SOCIETY

Washington Birthday Affairs.

A subscription dance was given Friday evening by the Major Isaac Sadler Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, at the Hotel Rome. The national colors were used as decorations and a number of unique features in keeping with the holiday were planned. The soldiers and sailors will be honor guests at a Washington birthday party, given by the Victory girls' club, at the Y. W. C. A. Saturday evening.

Miss Norma Mach will entertain Saturday evening at her home. The guests will include: Misses—Hanna De Vera, Madeline Pierson, Misses—Lucia Barr, Mary—Misses—Alicia De Vera, Day Brown, Kenneth Busch.

Informal Bridge.

Delightfully informal was the afternoon bridge given by Mrs. George Keelue and Mrs. Rody Ryan at their home Friday afternoon, in honor of Miss Anna Russell, whose marriage to Mr. Edward Undeland, will take place Saturday. The guests included a few intimate friends of the honoree.

For Baroness Huard.

Baroness Frances Huard was honored guest at a luncheon given Friday at the Fontenelle by the official board of the Drama League. The luncheon preceded the lecture given by the baroness at the hotel, Friday afternoon.

Marriage Announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. Eggert Ott of Bennington, Neb., announce the marriage of their daughter, Nancy Henrietta to Mr. Roy Foster Gordon, which took place Wednesday evening, Feb. 12. The young couple will be at home after April 1 in Bennington.

Personals

Mrs. L. C. Phipps, who is now in Denver, will return shortly.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Dailey, Thursday at the Stewart hospital.

Pleasures Past.

A dancing party was given for the students of Boyles college Wednesday evening by Messrs. John Wolfe, Kenneth Bush and Franklin Kinley, at the Rome hotel. About 200 guests attended the affair.

Members of Our Lady of Lourdes parish will give a dancing party and bazaar Friday evening at Metropolitan hall, and a dinner and dance Saturday evening.

Church Affair.

Members of Our Lady of Lourdes parish will give a dancing party and bazaar Friday evening at Metropolitan hall, and a dinner and dance Saturday evening.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

You can secure a good liquid glue by mixing three ounces of gum arabic, three ounces of distilled vinegar and one ounce of sugar. Keep well corked.

When you buy a rib roast of beef, ask your butcher to cut off the rib end for you. You can get a good soup out of this. If it is left on and roasted you will have considerable waste.

If the cane chair seats sag, you can restore their elasticity by washing the cane with soap and water until it is well soaked. When dry the seats will resume their original firmness.

Sunday Dinner to Come Higher Than Last Week

Vegetables and Eggs Take Slight Jump; Cheese Down With Prospects of Going Lower.

Mark a day again! And this week Mrs. Shopper must have a heavier purse to fill her usual sized basket.

Few though they are, there are several pennies added to last week's prices, and hints of several more. Butter, the best, stands still at 53 cents a pound but eggs, its twin sister in ups and downs, are 42 cents a dozen, which is two or three cents higher than last week. Cheese is lower again and when it sells for 34 cents there is more than a possibility of it falling yet lower.

Meats, both wholesale and retail, have advanced but this week has seen little change in prices to the consumer.

Violin Recital

A violin recital given by Olga Eitner, assisted by Hazel True, pianist, and Mount St. Mary's Choral society, will be given Saturday evening at the Brandeis. The proceeds will be used for the building fund of Mount St. Mary's seminary. The patrons and patronesses include:

- Messrs. and Mesdames: P. A. McMillan, T. J. Flynn, J. J. Donohue, J. A. Nash, J. R. Dwyer, T. P. Rodmond, J. V. Burke, W. D. Hooper, M. T. Martin, T. E. Dailey, B. A. McBermost, P. T. Conroy, P. L. Martin, John Madden, L. A. Hoffman, Mesdames: Nora Wheeler, Misses: Mary Munchhoff, May Green, Ophelia Hayden.

public. Beef is still 30 and 35 cents; pork 30 and 32 fish both high and low, from white fish, herring, halibut to the salt fish at 12 1/2 cents a pound, which is so popular at present, are strong on the market.

Vegetables Advance.

Honey—its price is high—during the week has advanced its price from 59 to 65 cents for strained in jars. Vegetables are making the markets green again and radishes, onions, carrots, turnips, beets are all only 7 cents a bunch. Spinach and mustard are popular at 30 cents a peck and cucumbers, though a decided luxury, are appearing at 25 cents each. Cabbage is a bit higher when it adds a third cent to each pound making 3 1-3 cents. Cauliflower is 12 1/2; parsley and lettuce 5 cents.

Celery seems one of the season's extravaganzas at 30 cents a bunch, but each one includes six stalks and large they are.

Potatoes are $1.15 a bushel and sweet potatoes 7 1/2 cents a pound.

Fruits Take Jump.

Fruits are one of the market's rarities again. Oranges have raised 25 to 50 cents a box although lemons are cheaper at 20 to 25 cents a dozen.

Apples—where are the apples—they are only in small numbers and the cheapest are 75 cents a peck.

Grape fruits are in their very prime and range from 7 1/2 to 10 and 12 cents each.

Fresh coconuts are making their welcome appearance and ask for themselves only 13 cents. Flour is still $1.40 for 24-pound sack and the double sired sacks at $2.75.

High School Girls Give Oriental Play "Abbu San From Old Japan"

Nola Fife. Virginia Davis. Ethel Ross. Many beautiful and unique scenes in the land of the cherry blossoms will be presented Friday night in the Central High school auditorium when girls of the Central High school student club present "Abbu San of Old Japan" with Miss Virginia Davis as the beautiful princess of the Orient.

Amid scenes well reproduced by means of imported costumes and settings a sweet love tale will be acted as the main theme of the plot which blends and yet contrasts the customs of the Japanese with the Americans. In the midst of a love scene in which "the course of true love" is running far from straight a modern newspaper woman accompanied by her old negro mammy appears. Although the baron (not DeOrger) never appears on the stage, he is the cause of much woe to the winsome Japanese maids. In fact, the girls have entirely excluded all of the male species from the play and its management.

The play is being given to raise money for the Central High scholarship fund and to defray the expenses of delegates to the national convention of student clubs to be held this spring in Geneva, Wis. Other girls participating in the play include Miss Helen Bolshaw, Miss Nola Fife, Miss Dorothy Johnson, Miss Hazel Lake, Miss Clara Barensten, Miss Ethel Ross, Miss Mildred Falconer, Miss Fern Goodwin, Miss Lois Goodwin, Miss Mildred Wohlford, Miss Anita Admistr.

Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

A Nice Little Girl.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee I'm a girl of 14 years old and just starting high school. All of my girl friends go to dances and movies nearly every night and always have boy company. I'm very attractive and beautiful, but I never have a big time. How could I? I think I'd like to have their company and not just ask them to take me, as I don't like to be considered forward?

Thanking you for your valuable advice. Is my writing good?

LONELY.

Girls your age, who are properly brought up, do not go to movies and dances every night. You are a child and should be going to children's parties. Perhaps you are too sweet to be approached by fickle boys and their fickle dances. Be proud of this, for the good days come to the superior girls. Remember that when your friends are going out every night with the boys they are only cheapening themselves and their friends will be tired of them by the time they are old enough to go out in society. Practice manumanship during your lonesome hours and your writing will improve.

A Room for Girls.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: My wants are a little out of the ordinary, but I have faith in coming to you. I have a neatly furnished sleeping room, that could be used for light housekeeping if desired, that I would like to rent to two honest, respectable working girls very reasonable. I can furnish the best of recommendations and the girls would be treated as part of the family. I have tried advertising, but all who answered wanted a strictly modern room and mine has no heat. I have an oil heater and spring is almost here. It is walking distance and in a nice neighborhood. Thanking you in advance, I am yours for success. A MOTHER.

I am sure there are two honest, respectable working girls in Omaha who would be glad to rent your room if they knew about it. I am not acquainted with any, however, and can only suggest that you watch the want ads in The Bee.

Love Married Men.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: We are two girls of Ewing, Neb., who have been reading your good advice to the lovelorn, and now that we are in trouble, come to you for advice.

What would you advise two girls to do who are deeply in love with two married men? These men do not love their wives, but we know they love us; they have proven this. And say, Miss Fairfax, is it all right to accept gifts from them, such as candy and flowers? Please answer and give us your best advice, as we are at a loss what to do. We feel that we cannot give these men up. We have never gone any place with them yet. We advise your answer. H. W. and I.

A Worried Girl.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I read the Lovelorn column and enjoy it very much. Would like to have your advice as I am in trouble. I am 18 years old and have been keeping company with a boy since seven months. He is 24 years old. He has proposed to me and as I did not know whether it would be proper for me to take a ring, came to you for advice. He is a real nice young man and has a farm. He thinks the world of me, but I don't seem to care so much for him. My folks object as they think I am too young to marry and there is too much difference in our ages. Also I am a junior in high school. They want me to graduate and teach and my friend wants me to get married next fall. We get along very nicely never had one quarrel since we have kept company with each other. What would you advise me to do? Please print your answer in the Saturday or Sunday morning Bee.

WORRIED.

The difference in your ages is not enough to matter. You should finish school, but I cannot tell whether or not you should marry the man. It takes so little to worry some girls.

BREAKING HOME TIES! The poignant moment of parting when with moistening eyes and suppressed feelings a mother takes a longing, lingering look into budding manhood's eyes. What has destiny in store? What currents shall separate the courses of mother and son? Shall they lead to achievement and happiness? Stout hearts in both—the sublime stuff that molds nations and makes history.

To fight waste is a patriotic duty. You do it when you buy your bread in big loaves. For small loaves are wasteful. Wasteful of flour, labor, fuel. Require more pans, more oven space. Wrapping and delivery expense is higher.

You get maximum bread value for your money in Betsy Ross—better flavor—better texture—better keeping qualities. Also the big loaf of Betsy Ross is a thrifty loaf—means economy in baking and economy in using. It has better eating qualities. It is actually better bread. It stays fresh and every bit of it is used.
