

TOWN MEETING SATURDAY FULL OF HOT PROMISE

Both Sides Prime Heaviest Artillery for Action on Paving Controversy at City Hall.

An old fashioned oratorical "hot time" is looked for at the public meeting scheduled at the city hall, Saturday night, to discuss the bill introduced in the legislature taking from property owners the right to initiate street improvements by majority petition and conferring it on the city commission.

Opposition to the bill is growing among property owners as they become aware of its features and a crowded house is expected. Particularly keen interest is shown by property owners involved in the projected change of grade of St. Mary's avenue and intersecting streets. This grade change has been a live issue in that quarter for two years, and the inability of the promoters to obtain a majority petition is said to be the principal reason for the attempt to deprive property owners by legislation of the right of majority petition enjoyed since Omaha won a place on the map.

Several other large and small improvements are involved which would be difficult to put over by a majority petition. With the city commissioners exercising the right to go ahead with street improvements without the consent of the majority of those who would pay the bills, the way will be cleared for big improvement projects now under the lid at the city hall.

Protects Rights. Supporters of the city hall plans contend that the bill protects the rights of property owners, inasmuch as a majority protest would defeat any given improvement.

There's the rub. In the St. Mary's avenue district a majority against the grade is impossible within any time limit as is shown by the experience of the past two years. On this point it is reported that Commissioner Towl has made overtures to the Federation of Improvement Clubs to raise the protest limit from 10 days to 60 days, but with what result is not disclosed.

Another development in the battle comes from Lincoln. A Douglas county representative is said to have sent a message to the Federation of Improvement Clubs suggesting that the federation extend an invitation to the house of representatives to come to Omaha in a body and hear the issue discussed on the spot.

Both sides are priming their heaviest artillery for action. Big guns and a big crowd promise one of the liveliest town meetings Omaha has had.

Jaunty---Stunning---Charming ---and Yet They're Only Priced at

$25.00

WE started out this season with a determination to give our customers the best $25.00 suit it was possible for specialization and large volume to produce and we're doing it. And that we have succeeded in giving the women and misses of Omaha the kind of suits they want at a price much less than they expected to pay, is evidenced by the great number sold during this demonstration sale.

Of course we have suits at higher prices, up to $95.00, and plenty of them. In fact, we have now a splendid stock of new spring suits above $25.00 and everyone a typical Burgess-Nash value.

Some 20 or 25 new styles (three of which are pictured here) include the new silhouette, shown in box or flare-back coat, semi-fitted and new belted styles—braid bound with tuxedo collars and vest effects. Skirts are slightly narrower in new one and two-piece models. Every suit is splendidly lined throughout.

The materials are fine serges and wool poplins in the shades of tan, rookie, gray and navy. Every suit has that dainty style feature of individuality that lifts it far above the commonplace—and they are so youthful in their lines.
