

IMPOSE FINE ON SUFFRAGETTES FOR LOITERING

Women, Arrested in Front of State House, Refuse to Answer Names in Police Court.

Boston, Feb. 25.—The women suffragists who were arrested in front of the state house yesterday prior to the arrival of the parade escorted President Wilson, refused to answer to their names when arraigned in police court today on charges of loitering. Each was arraigned as "Jane Doe."

In the 12 cases disposed of during the morning, fines of $5 were imposed. In three instances the women paid. Others declined to pay and were held pending the hearing of the remaining cases.

Wilson Signs Relief Bill.

Washington, Feb. 25.—President Wilson today signed the bill providing $100,000,000 for food relief in Europe and the urgent deficiency appropriation bill.

AMUSEMENTS.
Orpheum PHONE DOUG. 494
SUPERIOR VAUDEVILLE
Crawford & Co. present
"THE SEA WOLF"
By JACK LONDON
Crawford & Co. present
"THE SEA WOLF"
By JACK LONDON
Crawford & Co. present
"THE SEA WOLF"
By JACK LONDON

EMPERESS
CORN COB CUTUPS
Candy Singing, Talking, Dancing
Crawford & Co. present
"THE SEA WOLF"
By JACK LONDON
Crawford & Co. present
"THE SEA WOLF"
By JACK LONDON

"OMAHA'S FUN CENTER"
Gaiety Ev'g., 25-50-75c, $1
Bobby Grant's Newest Show—
THE GIRLS DE LOOKS
Musical Burlesque
Watson & Co. present
"THE SEA WOLF"
By JACK LONDON
Crawford & Co. present
"THE SEA WOLF"
By JACK LONDON

AUDITORIUM, FRIDAY EVE., MARCH 7, 8:15
FRANCES ALDA
Soprano, Assisted by Erin Ballard, Pianist Accompanist.
SEAT SALE OPENS THURSDAY MORNING, FEB. 27.
Prices—$1.00, $1.50 and $2.00. Plus 10% War Tax.
Mail orders to Mrs. A. L. Green, 4904 Underwood Ave., accompanied by receipt, stamped and self-addressed envelope, filled on receipt.

PHOTO-PLAYS.
PHOTO-PLAYS.

Gladys Brockwell in
The Call of the Soul
A SECRET WILL OUT-EVEN THOUGH IT BE A WOMAN'S MUSE
TODAY AND THUR.

SUN
W.M. FARNUM
A ten thousand mile chase for revenge
A love story that will rank with the greatest
Three fierce Farnum fights in which right wins.
The MAN HUNTER
Today to Saturday

FLASHES from FILMLAND

MARGUERITE CLARK, who is appearing at the Rialto in "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," received more dolls for Christmas than any girl in America. Miss Clark, who is famous as a movie star for the child parts she has portrayed, was remembered by hundreds of friends, and she says she would like nothing better than to keep them all in her apartment. But she was recently married and in recognition of her newly married state sent a great many of them to the orphanage asylums to make the children there happy.

Imitation is said to be the rarest kind of flattery, and now the girls of the country are handing it to Dorothy Gish. For Dorothy has introduced in her latest play "Boots" (which is showing at the Strand), a little swaggy, just as individual in its way as Charlie Chaplin's walk. And now the girls all over the country may be seen marching down the streets with a very fair imitation of Dorothy's style.

Charlie Chaplin's new picture will be one of the simple life. It is called "Sunshine" and deals with cows and farmerettes and chickens and everything.

Gladys Brockwell in "The Call of the Soul" will be at the Muse theater today and Thursday in a problem photodrama with a strong moral lesson in it. The play reveals some of the problems that women must face under the conditions of sex inequality. It is a woman's play that bears a great message for men and women alike. Miss Brockwell is known for her remarkable portrayal of intensely dramatic roles, and here is a theme after her own heart. As the mother who loves her little child of sin, yet dreads not the world of its existence, she appears in one of the most significant parts ever created for her. Motherhood, triumphs in the end; but before the hour of triumph the woman who has been sinned against has much to suffer.

William Farnum, the William Fox star, will be the attraction at the Sun theater today to Saturday in an original story "The Man Hunter," written by Frank Lloyd, Mr. Farnum's director. This is another de luxe production, the scenes being laid in London and New York and at sea. In it Mr. Farnum has the part of a man who is the real Farnum affairs. There are also some pretty scenes aboard ship and a realistic shipwreck, followed by Farnum and the girl in the case, together with the villain, being cast ashore on a desert island. It is a lively story that contains through out a point of appeal to all motion picture followers.

Kenneth Harlan and George Chesebrough returned from Europe on the Baltic, having served at the front. Harlan was Dorothy Dyer's friend man and George Chesebrough was last featured with Ruth Roland in "Hands Up."

"Venus in the East," by Wallace Irwin, the author of "Hashimura Togo," and other humorous stories, appears at the Strand, March 27. Bryant Washburn will play the part of a young western millionaire who comes east to locate the original of a photograph, discovers she is an adventuresome and finds he loves a girl whom he thought a thief.

PHOTO-PLAYS.
BOULEVARD 33rd and Leavenworth
"LIFE OF THE YOUNGER BROTHERS"
With Frank and Jesse James

LOTHROP 24th and Lothrop
Today and Thursday
ALMA REUBENS in
"RESTLESS SOULS"

RIALTO 33rd and Douglas
Presents
Marguerite Clark
In "MRS. WIGGS of THE CABBAGE PATCH"

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Strand 33rd and Douglas
WED. DOROTHY GISH in "BOOTS"
COMEDY AND PATHE NEWS.

Love Comes Like a Summer Breeze. But What Is Love?

Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 106.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 107.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 108.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 109.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 110.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 111.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 112.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 113.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 114.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 115.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 116.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 117.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 118.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 119.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 120.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 121.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 122.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 123.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 124.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

No. 125.
Love is not made of kisses, or of sighs, Of clinging hands, or of the sorceries, And subtle witchcrafts alluring Love is not made of broken whippers. No! Nor of the blushing cheek, whose answering glow Tells that the car has heard the accents low. Love is not made of tears, nor yet of smiles, Of quivering lips, or of enticing wiles. Love is not tempted, he himself beguiles. This is love's language, but this is not love. If we know aught of love, how shall we dare To say this is love when well aware That these are common things, and love is rare? As separate streams may, blending ever roll In course united, so of soul to soul, Love is the union into one sweet whole. As a molten metal mingle, as a chord Swells sweet in harmony when love is Lord, Two hearts are one, as letters form a word. One heart, one mind, one soul and one desire, A kindred fancy and a sister fire, Of thought and passion, these can love inspire. This makes heaven of earth, For this is Love—Anon.

FINE PRIZES FOR BEST ANSWERS.
Best three, cash awards of $5, $3 and $2; next 20, each a good (love story) book. Not over 200 words; if not original quote author; name will not be printed except in awards. Closes March 1. Address Contest Editor, The Bee, Omaha.

No. 103.
"Love" is the unseen foundation of life. It is as essential to our lives as the crimson blood that ripples through our veins. It is a gift from God and is first seen in the infant child when it holds out its tiny dimpled arms to its mother. It grows as we do; the soft refrains of music, the meeting of people and the entire universe develop it until it becomes so strong that we would suffer or even sacrifice our lives for it.

In the recent war, "love" for country and fellowmen was what caused our boys to walk bravely into the "valley of death." Life without it would be monotonous because "love" brings our greatest pleasures and in turn our greatest sorrows.

"Love" acts on our lives as the wind does on the earth, the results of the wind can be seen but not the wind itself. "Love" lives longer than life because the tired heart stops beating before love dies, which can be seen when a dying person longs to be among those whom they love when they breathe their last.

No. 104.
Love is such a funny thing. It's something like a lizard, It wraps its tail around your heart, And nibbles at your gizzard.

No. 105.
Love is the badge of a Christian disciple. (a) "If ye love me, keep my commandments." (b) "By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one toward another." (c) "He that loveth is born of God, for God is Love."—From Saint John's writings.

No. 106.
Love, sire, seeks nothing that kings can bestow. For love is king of all things here below. Love makes the monarch bashful as a boy; Love is all things—all things are love; Love is the earth, the sea, the sky above; Love is the bird, the blossom, the wind; Love has a million eyes—yet love is blind; Love is the aim of every human soul; And he who hath not loved, hath missed life's goal. —Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

No. 107.
Love is an understanding between two beings, and only reaches a state of perfection when absolutely no selfish desires exist. Each one thrives by every thought, word and action for the true happiness of the other. True love can only exist between a man and woman, whose souls are united in marriage, and by the wonderful tie that binds two human hearts—a little child.

No. 108.
What is love that all this world should talk so much about it? What is love, that neither you nor I could not go without it? Love is a tyrant and a slave, a torment and a treasure. Having it we know no peace; wanting it, no pleasure.

No. 109.
Love is an emotion. It is the greatest force in the world. Love's accomplishments are unlimited. There are no degrees in love. Love either is or is not. Love is its own reward. Love attracts love as hate attracts hate. Love transforms ugliness into beauty, immortality into virtue and darkness into light; it causes the blind to see, the deaf to hear and the mute to speak. Love speaks in various ways; through the eyes, the lips, the hands, the actions; it knows no laws, creed, race or religion. Love is not a commodity; it is the supreme gift to man. The most glorious and precious jewel of all human emotions.

Love makes for all human progress and happiness. "Without love life would be a desolate existence. Without love there would be no incentive to live, to progress or succeed. Life is love and love is life. Love knows no laws, I say again. Now, who will dispute it? No golden bands can rule the heart. Are you daring to refute it? For love alone is life, I say. Now I know you will deny it. 'Tis love that makes the world go round. And there's no use to defy it.

de Remer plays the leading feminine role, while Mr. Lackey enacts the part of Dominie, the pal of Danny Rowland, the character portrayed by the star.

There is a theory that is a handicap to be born a minister's son. Otis Skinner, the famous actor, who comes to the Brandeis on Monday, March 3, is evidently an exception to that rule. His father was a minister, and it was he who inspired his son with his love of elocution, and this is one of his many talents that has made him a celebrated actor.

Although they had not appeared in Omaha in five seasons until the present week at the Gaiety, Watson and Cohan are being received with great acclaim by immense audiences, their portrayal of "Sittin' and Slottin', Refined Lawyers," being literally jammed with good, clean laughs. In a vaudeville way, Mr. Watson is presenting the self-same monologue he delivered in all the big city vaudeville houses throughout the east. "The Girls de Looks" happens to be the only musical show in town this week. Ladies' matinee daily at 2:15.

Each member of the Eight Corn Cob Cut Ups, at the Empress portrays a different type of rural character and each is a singer, dancer, musician and comedian of standard reputation. Costumes of the kind the ladies love to see have a place in the singing and piano number offered by Hazel Hickey and Kitty Hart. Miss Malbelle Phillips, "The Sunshine Comedienne," is certainly deserving of cleverness, personality and good looks are considered essential requisites.

Thousand Bottles of Wine Found in Citta's Home
One thousand bottles of home-made wine were confiscated this afternoon by State Agents Peters and Smith in a raid on the home of Frank Citta, 744 Grover street. Citta was arrested and charged with illegal possession of intoxicating liquor.

He protested against the seizure, saying that he made the wine before prohibition went into effect.

Why an Oshkosh?
Because only an Oshkosh is an Oshkosh—it alone—in wardrobe trunks—gives the best value—dollar for dollar. Made of three-ply veneer fibre, vulcanized and interlined—cold rolled steel trimmings and draw bolts—equipped with eight five-ply veneered hangers—shoe pockets and a large drawer for ladies' hats—most reasonably priced at $45.

Omaha Trunk Factory
1209 Farnam Douglas 450
Read the Bee Want Ads from day to day for best results.

Carter's Little Liver Pills
You Cannot be Constipated and Happy
A Remedy That Makes Life Worth Living
Genuine bears signature
Read the Bee Want Ads from day to day for best results.

ABSENCE of Iron in the Blood is the reason for many colorless faces but CARTER'S IRON PILLS will greatly help most pale-faced people

MAY READJUST IOWA-NEBRASKA BOUNDARY LINE

Incorporation of East Omaha Into Nebraska to Be First Act of Congressman-Elect Jefferis.

Members of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce are given to understand that about the first thing that Congressman Jefferis will do after being inducted into office, March 4, will be to correct the boundary lines between Nebraska and Iowa. His idea is to have East Omaha become a part of Nebraska and in return, Iowa will become the possessor of something like 5,000 acres of Nebraska land lying to the south of Lake Manawa.

Many years ago when the Missouri river started out on a boundary line changing expedition it made two changes in its channel. To the north of Omaha it cut over toward the Iowa bluffs