Game Warden Koster Says That Former Laxness Will Be Done Away With Henceforth.

From a Staff Correspondent. Lincoln, Feb. 27.—Hunters who for two years have been merely "booked" for violation of the federal migratory bird law henceforth will get nothing short of 60 days in jail in addition to fines up to $500 each, according to Chief Game Warden W. W. Koster.

The prosecutions now are under the treaty with Canada since the federal law, which held up prosecutions pending the testing of its validity, has been knocked out by the United States supreme court. The treaty makes the open season on ducks September 16 to December 21, whereas it was formerly until April 1.

Under federal regulations the warden may not only confiscate game of hunters, but also their guns, boots and hunting jackets, and make arrests without warrants.
