LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Two Married Men.

Dear Miss Fairfax: I am undecided and come to you for advice. I am a young college girl, 17 years old, ambitious to marry well and raise a large family.

There is only one consolation and that is that there are two men in love with me; both of them are married but I like them.

You are very young and moody, perhaps, this would account for the changeable attitude of the boys.

Dear Miss Fairfax: I am a constant reader of your column, was very much interested in Alice's letter and hope this will be printed for her sake.

Dear Miss Fairfax: I'm in love with two brothers, they are my first cousins. Both were in the service, one came back and spent a week at our home.

Dear Miss Fairfax: I being a constant reader of your column, was very much interested in Alice's letter and hope this will be printed for her sake.

Dear Miss Fairfax: I am a high school girl and very much interested in art. I love to paint and thought maybe I could earn a little spending money by painting picture cards, favors, etc.
