

SHIPPING MEET AT SPA BROKEN OFF BY GERMANS

Refusal to Turn Over Ships Without Assurances of Food Temporarily Ends Parley on Peace.

London, March 7.—The negotiations at Spa relating to the shipping question have been temporarily broken off, according to a German wireless message received here today.

The allies, the message says, demanded that all the remaining German merchant ships be handed over unconditionally, without being willing to undertake the obligation of supplying Germany with foodstuffs. The German delegates, it is added, received instructions from their government that the question of shipping, finance and food supply must be dealt with only as a whole. The German message continues: "The question of handing over the merchant fleet can only arise if adequate food supplies, say 2,500,000 tons of foodstuffs, are assured Germany until the new harvest. The allies would not agree to this."

"As the instructions of both sides did not go beyond this, a French delegate proposed that negotiations be broken off, whereupon the two special delegations left Spa."

When the allied commission went to Spa it was believed that the release of the ships was merely a question of days. It was proposed to the Germans that in return for the use of the ships, a rental be paid, this to be entered to their credit against their food account.

The Germans, however, replied that this would be inadequate and that there must be a guarantee of a steady, uninterrupted supply of food. No country was in position to supply this food, under the German conditions, so the question of credit remains unsettled.

Refused by the Army During War, Youth Is Accepted for 'Peace'

Persistence and patriotism won out in the case of John Franklin of Billings, Mont., the first man to be accepted by the Omaha army recruiting station.

Six times, at six different recruiting stations during the war, he tried to enlist, but met with the same obstacle—physical examination. The draft came, but he was rejected by his local board because of his health.

Determined in some way to enter the army he submitted to an operation and was rapidly regaining his health when the armistice was signed.

When the recruiting station reopened, with promises of overseas duty under peace conditions, he applied and was accepted in the infantry. He will be sent to Fort Logan, Colo.

Husband Is Divorced from Wife He Has Not Seen in Twenty Years

James Lufborough, 69 years old, was granted a divorce from his wife, Mary, who, he alleged, deserted him 20 years ago. The plaintiff has a homestead in Montana which he could neither sell nor mortgage without the signature of his wife, who, as far as he knows, is still living, though he knows nothing of her whereabouts.

The only witness he could find who knew his wife was an old soldier at the Millford Soldiers' home, who testified on his behalf before District Judge Day.

Former Omaha Railroad Man Gets Big Position in East

At Ludlow, Mass., Fred L. Feakin, formerly assistant general freight agent of the Missouri Pacific, has landed a job, the salary of which is said to run into five figures. Effective March 1, according to information received in Omaha, he became general traffic manager for the Ludlow Manufacturing company.

Something like a year ago, while Mr. Feakin was with the Missouri Pacific, with headquarters in Omaha, the government took him off his job and placed him in Boston. There he was placed in charge of the United States inland traffic service. This position he held until he went with the Ludlow company.

Leaves for New Orleans to Attend Traffic Meeting

C. E. Childs, head of the Chamber of Commerce traffic bureau and a member of the Omaha district traffic committee, leaves tonight for New Orleans to attend a meeting of the National industrial traffic league composed of largest shippers in the country.

Railroad legislation, reduction of demurrage charges and post-war changes in traffic conditions will be discussed. Prominent railroad administration officials and Director Thelan of the public service department, will attend.

Mrs. Childs accompanied her husband. They will return in a week.

Husband in Penitentiary, Wife Is Granted a Divorce

A divorce was granted to Elvira Hayes on the ground of cruelty and nonsupport. The defendant is in the Nebraska penitentiary under sentence of from three to 15 years.
