Mendelssohn's Wedding March Greets Miss Howland at Parties

Mendelssohn and his wedding march, how many young hearts has the famous composer set in tune with his immortal notes! The brides and their charming attendants endeavor to keep in perfect step to the dulcet tones of the organ and if practice makes perfect in this endeavor as in all others Miss Marjorie Howland, who will be a March bride, will accomplish the feat without difficulty.

When Mr. and Mrs. Will Wood entertained Wednesday evening at the Athletic club for Miss Howland and her fiancé, Mr. Richard Payne, the orchestra played the first lilt of notes of the wedding march just as the party entered the dining-room. The honorees were not at all abashed by the special attention. Miss Howland blushed very prettily and the party seated themselves at the flower laden table amid gales of laughter.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headache, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for castor oil—and then just to keep in the pink of condition. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

For Bride-To-Be.

One of the prettiest parties of the week was the luncheon given by Miss Margaret Gamble Friday at the Athletic club, when Miss Marjorie Howland was honor guest. The centerpieces for the small tables were most artistic. At first glance they resembled a mound of roses and violets but when each guest pulled the ribbon streamers at her plate she found a lovely corsage bouquet.

The guests included: Misses—Helen Eastman, Evelyn Wood, Hazel Peterson, Beatrice Johnson, Clara O'Brien, Geraldine Johnson, Eleanor Austin, Madeline—Frank Selby, Ed. P. Boyer, J. J. Hankin, Jr., George H. Payne, J. A. Hensley, A. R. Bush, H. M. McClanahan, Alexander Loomis, E. H. Howland, W. L. Selby.

For Bride Elect.

Miss Ruth Dutcher, whose engagement to Mr. W. I. Irey was recently announced was honor guest at a luncheon and miscellaneous show given Thursday at the Union Pacific headquarters by a number of friends. American flags were used in the decorations honoring Miss Dutcher's fiancé who has recently received his discharge from the Port Omaha balloon school. The guests included:

Misses—Claire Drummey, Daisy Wyer, Helen Carlson, Elizabeth Chaffin, Moore—Otto Summers, E. O. Davis, George Miller, J. E. Smith, Westmoreland, P. Chaffin, L. Heekle, J. W. Broad, R. Beck, P. F. Adams.

For Major Lazar.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Gordon Sanders entertained at a whist party Wednesday evening at their home in honor of Maj. Eugene Lazar, of Washington, D. C., who is here on official business. Prizes were won by Mrs. George H. Thorpe and Major Lazar. The guests included: Messrs. and Mesdames Edward F. Kulha, George H. Thorpe, Hugh T. Cutler, Misses May Jacobson, Frances Sanders, Messrs. Frank H. Gularga, etc.; Albert A. Davis, of Kansas City.

Box Parties.

Many box parties will be given for the Jascha Heifetz concert, Monday evening at the Brandeis. Mrs. F. A. Nash will entertain, also Mrs. Charles Brown, Mr. and Mrs. R. Beecher Howell and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cox.

Heart Beats

By A. K.

I've a terrible tale Of a woman's wail Of lament To impart to my Friend-readers This woman had A hat last spring And ere the Season passed The chapeau Lost its "lines" And she cast It aside For a newer And brighter And fresher Style And she was happy Once again. And she had That automobile That had given Good service but Last season it was Discarded for A newer And brighter And fresher car And she was happy Once again. And she had A Dachshund And this breed Went out of fashion And no woman Of patriotic Tendencies could own A canine like this— Two dogs long And half a dog high— So she kindly Exchanged him For a Chow With some extra Compensation And she was happy Once again. But the dear soul Has another grief Much greater Than any of the Others Her husband has lost His chic His popularity His favor And his "lines" And she cannot Give him away Or exchange him For another Or have him Made over Or brightened Dear! Dear! What can she do With that Out-of-style Husband? Will she Ever be happy Again?

occupation is being given from central libraries in Coblenz and Trier with branches up and down the Rhine. More than 50,000 books have gone into Germany. In the first four days after the library was opened in Coblenz, more than 2,000 volumes were drawn out by men doing garrison duty there.

Pleasures Past.

Mrs. Charles Everson entertained at her home Thursday in honor of Miss Fern Schreiber, who is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. George Ford. Miss Schreiber will leave soon for her home in St. Joseph. The evening was spent with music and dancing. Mr. Stephen Broad giving several violin solos. Twenty guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. David E. Chase entertained at dinner at their home Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Carrie Miller, the occasion being her birthday. Covers were laid for 12 guests.

Dinner Party.

Mr. Wayne Selby and Mr. Robert Thompson entertained at dinner at the Athletic club Friday evening in honor of Miss Marjorie Howland and Mr. Richard Payne. Following the dinner the guests were entertained at the Brandeis. The party included:

Messrs. and Mesdames—Will Wood, Clarence Sjöbersten, E. P. Boyer, Frank Selby, Misses—Margaret Gamble, Ruth Anderson.

Miss Belle Hatch entertained at dinner Tuesday evening at the Fontenelle in honor of Miss Etta Thompson, who will be a spring bride, and Mrs. J. Massey, a recent bride. The other guests included:

Misses—Nettie Buckley, Helen Fryck, Marie Hazel, Madeline—M. Dunham, Martin, M. Talem.

Timely Tips.

Condensed milk will help stretch a small amount of salad dressing. An easy way to prepare cranberries for sauce is to put them through the fine part of the meat grinder. Gingerbread is better baked in several layers cake tins than in one sheet for it has more crisp crust that way.

A little lemon juice sprinkled over bananas or apple in fruit salad will keep the fruit from darkening before it is served.

Add salt to starch water and it will prevent the starch from freezing out.

HOW MY HEAD BUZZES!

When the head feels thick or aches, when one feels all out-of-sorts—perhaps a coated tongue—it is the signal poisons are accumulating in the system, and should be cleaned out at once. When the system is on what is often called "a low tone"—when toxins (poisons) cause headache, bad taste in the mouth, poor appetite, it is time to "clean house."

Auto-intoxication can be best ascribed to our own neglect or carelessness. When the organs falter or fail in the discharge of their duties, the putrefactive germs set in and generate toxins—actual poisons, which fill one's own body. It is then that the more serious consequences begin.

Sleepiness after meals, flushing of the face, extreme lassitude, biliousness, dizziness, sick headache, acidity of the stomach, heartburn, offensive breath, anemia, loss of weight and muscular power, decrease of vitality or lowering of resistance to infectious diseases, disturbance of the eye, dyspepsia, indigestion, gastritis, many forms of catarrh, asthma, ear affections and allied ailments result from auto-intoxication or self-poisoning. Take castor oil, or a pleasant vegetable laxative, called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which are composed of May-apple, aloes and jalap. One of the very best treatments which all doctors will agree upon is to take castor oil or P. P. P. (Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.)

Advice to the Lovelorn

Love Comes Unbidden and, "To Love or Not We Are No More Free Than the Ripple to Rise and Leave the Sea."

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Stuttering. Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I have recently been reading your letters and answers to the "Lovelorn" in The Bee, which seem to me very instructive. I observed in today's issue a letter by Betsy B. on stammering and stuttering, (same here enclosed) Your answer is very complete, but does not point to any institution. In my younger years I was very much afflicted with the impediment until I attended three institutions. The first one in Detroit, second, Indianapolis, third in Milwaukee, and will say I was cured at the last mentioned seven years ago, and sincerely thank God and the method which I used there. You may hand or mail this letter to the party, "Betsy B." and I shall be glad to answer any correspondence in regard to same. I sympathize with any one so afflicted and know what it means in life. Very cordially yours, JOHN H. BEUTLER.

Doesn't Wish to Be One of the "57." Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: Although I am somewhat new to Omaha, I have been in the city long enough to become greatly interested in your column, in which you surely do give good advice.

One reason I have for writing is to congratulate Loretta Lane, who in my opinion, certainly has the right idea. Most of the girls I have ever known have been the "57" type, to whom a good name seems to be anything but "the immediate jewel of the soul." Speaking for myself, I never could stand a girl who would cheapen herself to the extent of allowing a boy to become overly familiar with her. Whenever I see a girl allowing a boy to put his arm around her I think of her many other fellows who have previously encouraged her to do the same thing. For myself, I prefer not to be "one of the 57."

I wonder if you would kindly tell me where in Omaha can a respectable young man meet the type of girl which Miss Lane's letter suggests? Dancing doesn't appeal to me, but I'm in for everything else—skating, rowing, swimming, golf, tennis, etc. I can talk fairly intelligently on most any every-day subject.

I am nearly 24, rather tall and am neither cross-eyed, pigeon-toed, nor have I a broken nose or any missing teeth. As I suggested before, I am comparatively a stranger here and would like some help in meeting Miss Lane's type of young people. Hoping to see a reply soon in your column, I thank you for any advice you may have for me. X. Y. Z.

Boys in Poor Health.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: We are two boys of 19 and 20 in poor health. The doctor suggested that we go to a western climate, near the mountains, and as we have just a little money that could go for traveling expenses, we would have to find work. On account of our health, light and outdoor work, such as sheep herding, and is there such a place where we could find work to help us out, we wish you could kindly advise us. Thanking you in advance and hoping that this appears in the paper soon, very respectfully, your obedient servants, JACK AND BILL.

There are many such places, I am sure, but the government employment bureau would be able to give you more accurate information.

In Love with Beatrice.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I am a constant reader of your column in The Bee and, judging you from the answers you give, I imagine you must resemble a girl with whom I was formerly very much in love. Her name was Beatrice, too, so is it any wonder that I have fallen very deeply in love with you, though I have never had the pleasure of looking upon your dear face. Can I, may I, I beg of you, hope for some encouragement? Please, my dear Miss Fairfax (may I some day call you my own Beatrice), print this epistle in the next edition of The Bee. My most devoted friend, BEAT BRUMBLE.

P. S.—How is my writing and grammar? Do you think you could love me?

Hope on, dear heart, for encouragement, and you may call me "my own dear Beatrice" is much as you like so long as I do not hear it. No wonder you are in love with me—I am so irresistible the men follow me. My languid beauty, my strong, lithe form, my golden hair, through which the sun shines every night, is only part of the charm. My eyes are like deep-set blue lakes fringed by mossy-moss, and my teeth—well, only the dentist knows their defects. Your writing is perfect, and your grammar! Oh my! But I could not love you, for I, Beatrice Fairfax, am a phantom creature.

His Age. Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: As I have been a reader of your paper for some time, I thought I would come to you for advice. I am a farmer girl 18 years old, and have been going with a boy for about six months.

Now Miss Fairfax, I would like to know how old he is. I have asked him different times, but he won't say. Now how could I find out? I am five feet, two inches tall and rather stout. How long should I wear my dresses. I also have a dark complexion. How could I lighten it without using powder?

BROWN EYED T. S. M. Why bother about his age? He is as old as he looks and seems. Wear your skirts long and narrow. You cannot lighten your complexion without powder unless it is tanned or sunburned. In these cases use a good almond lotion.

Who is Truthful? Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I have often read your advice to others, so now I come to you. I am a girl of 17 and have been going with a boy of 23. He went away about five months ago and I have been receiving letters from him every week. But there is another girl he writes to quite frequently. He tells me he writes to her and says he writes her friendly letters. There is a girl that rooms near this girl—she says the letters are not friendly, but more than that. Now whom am I to believe and

It is difficult to prove a man's love or his statements, but it is usually as safe to believe the man as the "other woman." Time will tell who is truthful.

A Crime. Dear Miss Fairfax: We are two girls, 12 and 13 years of age. We are the two belles of the town and the boys are all crazy over us, having two special friends. Do you think we are to young to attend the dance which is held in our town each Friday evening? How should we fix our hair? Should we wear hair ribbons? Hoping to see this in an early addition, we are PEG AND BROWN EYES. It is nothing short of a crime for your parents or guardian to permit you to attend these dances. You are mere children and will be haggard and worn before you reach maturity. Wear your hair down with a barrette.

A Reader—What do I think about an 18-year-old boy with $200 for worldly wealth worrying his poor little head about whether to elope or ask the consent of his fiancée's father for an "immediate marriage"? I just think that $200 would not last long enough—why, boy, you couldn't buy a wedding ring for your 16-year-old bride, a cigar for yourself and

Ten Years' Suffering from Itching Burning Skin Trouble, Stopped by Resinol

Gretna, Va., Oct. 20—"I suffered for over ten years with itching and burning of my skin. It never broke out at all but just itched and burned terribly. I tried almost everything, but got no relief. As soon as I began using Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap the itching and burning left me almost at once. I used one jar of Resinol Ointment and two cakes of Resinol Soap and was completely cured." have enough to—buy precious eggs for your breakfast! I should indeed ask the father's consent, but better still, use the $200 as a start, before getting married—have the best time you can together while you are getting it.

Three Anxious Girls.—You might tell these young men in a joking way that they had not asked your permission to smoke. You can do this without offending them if you accompany it with a smile. If the other girls allow liberties I would inform this young fellow that he had better seek their company if he preferred it.

A. B. T.—I should hate to tell you what I think of a boy of 17 who swears at his mother and sisters and is a chronic grouch. Really it would not be complimentary. This is a habit, and the more that sister and mother do the less it is appreciated just now. Maybe he is a "spoiled child" and needs to be left alone for several weeks.

The Wonderful Call When Baby Comes

Like the Blast of Heavenly Trumpet When Call of Motherhood Is Felt.

Of all the most vital times in a woman's life the coming of baby is fraught with the greatest meaning. Care should be exercised to insure that the crisis is passed in safety.

Apprehension is avoided by the timely use of Mother's Friend, a preparation of penetrating oils and medicinal ingredients, renders the muscles, cords, tendons and ligaments pliable, and thus tension is avoided. The usual nervousness, nausea, bearing-down and straining pains are counteracted and the period is one of calm repose.

The broad, flat abdominal muscles relax with ease, and when baby comes the time at the crisis is less and pain and danger is avoided.

Thousands of women for half a century have used this penetrating external application, prepared especially for expectant mothers, and every woman awaiting the crisis should give nature a helping hand. Write the Bradford Regulator Company, Dept. F, Lamar Building, Atlanta, Georgia, for their Motherhood Book, of great value to all women, and obtain a bottle of Mother's Friend from the druggist and begin its application regularly night and morning.—Adv.
