South Side SOUTH SIDE MEN PREDICT RAISE IN HOG PRICES

Believe That Removal of Embargo Will Cause Upward Trend of Market; Demand Will Outstrip Supply.

The removal of the embargo will mean a gradual and steady increase in the price of hogs is the unanimous opinion among the South Side commission men. The unsettled condition incident to the sudden removal of all restriction on the buying and selling of hogs may cause a temporary slump on the hog market, according to Gene Melady. This will not last for more than two weeks at the utmost. At the end of that time the demand will far outstrip the supply and the price of all pork products will be forced up. Commission men pointed to the fact that from 85 to 90 per cent of the hog supply in the country has been exhausted. The section from which the South Side market obtains its hogs is also nearly drained. The scarcity of hogs in the east is evidenced by the prices on the eastern hog markets. Hogs on the eastern markets sell at from 70 cents to $1.15 higher per hundred pounds than they do in Omaha. The Chicago price is $18.50 while in Indianapolis, Pittsburgh, Buffalo and the surrounding territory hogs are sold for $19.00 per hundred pounds. The Omaha market is quoted at about $17.85.

Home-Made Beer Gets Owner Fine and Jail Sentence

John Pearson, 5135 South Twenty-fourth street, in whose cellar was found 30 quarts and 35 pints of home-made beer, was fined $100 on a charge of illegal possession and sentence to 30 days in jail for illegal sale of intoxicating liquor. Pearson's case was continued from Thursday to Friday morning, when Police Judge Foster, sitting in the South Side court, was unable to determine whether the brew was intoxicating. The stuff was analyzed by chemists and pronounced intoxicating.

South Side Man Fined on Liquor Charges; to Appeal

C. Lafate, 119 South Sixth street, was arrested and charged with the charge of illegal possession and sale of intoxicating liquor. State agents who made the arrest introduced as evidence a quart bottle of whisky and a small glass which he is said to have used in measuring out drinks to his customers. The officers stated they had purchased whisky from Lafate at 25 cents per glass. He was fined $100 on each charge. The cases will be appealed.

Dr. H. H. Mick to Lecture at Grace Methodist Church

"The American Soldier in France" will be the subject of an address by Dr. H. H. Mick at the Grace M. E. church, Twenty-fifth and E streets, Sunday evening. Dr. Mick has spent over seven months with the American soldiers

Khaki Kolumn

Following an experience of seven months as an observer and airplane gunner on the Toul sector in France, fighting in several battles and a number of skirmishes against the Germans, Lt. W. F. Bruett, 318 North Thirty-third street, arrived in Omaha Thursday.

"Don't look for me at no picnics where there is woods this summer," Lt. Edward Turner, colored soldier, who recently returned from France, told the congregation at Zion Baptist church, 221 Grant street. "I'm not going into any woods," he said. "I got all the woods I wanted at Argonne. That was enough woods for me."

George Buck, formerly an employe of the Burgess-Nash company, one of the first Omaha boys to go to Camp Funston and who went to France with the 89th division, has returned. He wears a service chevron on his right arm and a wound chevron on his left. Buck was wounded in the fighting in the Meuse sector three days before the armistice was signed. A piece of shrapnel lodged in his leg. The fighting in the Argonne was the hardest encountered by the 89th, Buck said.

En route from New York to California, a party of wounded soldiers stopped off in Omaha. They were the guests of the Brandeis theater at a performance of "Uncle Sammy's Minstrels," which is composed entirely of returned United States soldiers.

Snow battle maneuvers when the first snow fell in France this winter, are described in a letter from an Omaha soldier, H. S. Aljerson, company A, 320th machine gun battalion to A. P. Ellis of the Chamber of Commerce. It was a little note of thanks for attentions paid the boys by the club. "We put over a snowball barrage on the officers and had them on the run," he wrote.

Roy E. Walker, with the 14th engineers, stationed near Gondricourt in France, is expecting to return soon. Several companies have already been slated for an early homecoming. His wife, Mrs. Mabel Walker, is in charge of the Chamber of Commerce soldiers' and sailors' employment bureau.

Paul C. Erthal, corporal in Battery B, Fifty-second artillery, in a letter to his mother, Mrs. O. C. Darcy, 531 Leavenworth street, states he was in the Argonne forest the day the armistice was signed mowing down

Youth of Fourteen Leaves Home to Get Place on Ranch

Mother Leaves Home and Father Doesn't Care Whether He Goes, So Lad Tries Adventure.

"I had to cook for the whole family," declared Charles Ewers, 14-year-old Muskegon, Mich., boy, "so I thought I'd come out west and get a job on a ranch."

Charles, small for his age, and very forlorn, was brought into the police station last night. His dark eyes and ready smile quickly won the hearts of policemen and Matron Drummy.

"My mamma went away from home when I was only 2 years old, and I haven't seen her since," he continued, a suspicious moisture gathering in his eyes. "My sisters in the trenches. He knows the American fighter from first-hand observation and an interesting discourse is therefore expected. Community singing by the congregation will begin and close the program.

Don't Cheat Yourself.

There's a world of good things here now, and new ones coming in every day. The buyer who does not shop at Flynn's is cheating him or herself out of the best opportunity. Come in and walk around this; take a look at the different offerings, and ask yourself if it's wasted time. We are practically giving away a lot of ladies' coats that we may be able to say all new styles to you next season. We have the nicest and best values in ladies' ready-to-wear coats, dresses, skirts, waists and a lot of swell silk and muslin undergarments.

In our clothing department we are showing some beautiful garments in the new young men's waist-line suits, and handsome lines of spring overcoats. It will pay you to shop here. It will pay you to come in if you don't care to buy. —John Flynn & Co.

South Side Brevities

The South Side Liberty club will give their regular dance Saturday, March 8th, at Eagle hall.

Clover Leaf camp No. 8, Royal Neighbors of America, gave a card party at the L. O. O. F. Thursday evening.

Improvements, to the extent of several hundred dollars, are being made in the Citizen Printing company's plant, 231 N street. The company has been forced to quit on account of the great increase in business.

Mrs. Ora Aushmatt, 42 years old, who died at her home, 2717 South Twenty-fourth street, Wednesday afternoon, is survived by her husband and two children. The body will be taken to the family residence at Concordia, Kan., for burial.

A birthday party in honor of her husband, recently given by Mrs. Earl Edson, 2118 Drexel street. Refreshments were served and the guests were entertained with music and games. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Forest E. Towne, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Palasco, Mr. Vogel, Mrs. Vera Moffitt and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Edson.

Austrian Assembly Votes for Union With Germany

Basel, March 7.—The constitutional committee of the Austrian national assembly, according to a report from Vienna, has adopted a proposition submitted by the government proclaiming German-Austria a democratic republic and an integral part of the German republic. The motion, it is said, was carried unanimously.

Germans and taking prisoners by the thousands. "The dead were so thick we had to walk on them in advancing," he writes. "The Germans were using four divisions to our two."

En route from France to Camp Kearney, Cal., 16 negro soldiers were entertained at the Rialto theater and the Red Cross rest room at the Union Pacific station by negro women of Omaha. The men will be demobilized in the California camp. The soldiers are a detachment of the Ninety-second division and saw service at the front during the St. Mihiel drive and the battle of Argonne forest.

Frank Roach, of the Union Pacific War Service club, is in receipt of a German bayonet, sent by one of the railroad boys "over there." It is a vicious instrument, two feet long, with a knife blade edge on one side and saw teeth on the other. It was picked up on one of the battlefields of France.

Writing to the Union Pacific War Service club, Corp. William Dunsmore, a former company shop employe, but now attached to Company B, Fifth engineers, in speaking of conditions at Brest, says they are as good as could be expected. The boys, he says, occupy fairly good barracks. The food is good and at night each man sleeps on a tick filled with straw and has five blankets for covering.

Mrs. Rodger Wolcott, 1621 Emmet street, has received a telegram from her son, Corp. Harvey M. Wolcott, now in Camp Merritt, N. J., that he just had arrived from France, where he served with the 83d division, 129 infantry. Corporal Wolcott enlisted with the old Sixth Nebraska and left Omaha a year ago last July.

Thomas Lynch has received an interesting letter from Lieut. W. N. Johnson, dated at Brest, France. Mr. Johnson was a negro lawyer in Omaha before he went into military service. He also was a star football player with the University of Nebraska team. "Has the Nebraska legislature voted any bonus to her sons overseas?" he asks.

"I don't know what rate of speed Mrs. Hoagland was going, because I didn't see her. I was ahead. The first I knew of her approach was when her car scraped the back of my car. I stopped and turned in my seat to look back, just in time to see Mrs. Hoagland's car over Mrs. Deeter. I did not see the Hoagland car strike Mrs. Deeter."

BOY SCOUTS ARE CRITICISED BY SUNDAY SCHOOL

Keep That Movement Tends to Keep Youngsters Away From Church; Proper Leaders Hard to Get.

The Boy Scout movement came in for severe criticism at the afternoon session of the County Sunday school session at the Westminster Presbyterian church, in connection with a general discussion of Sunday school work with boys. Several speakers attacked the organization on the ground that scoutmasters frequently arrange "hikes" and camping trips that take the boys away from home over Sunday and thus keep them out of Sunday school and church.

Home Builders Elect T. L. Combs Director and Vice President

Timothy L. Combs, senior member of T. L. Combs & Co., diamond merchant, 1520 Douglas street, was elected to the directorate and second vice president of the Home Builders, Inc. Mr. Combs has been a stockholder of the organization for a number of years.

The progress and growth of Home Builders in recent years, even during the war period, has been remarkable, and its expansion plans for 1919 make it necessary to employ additional help in the conduct of the business.

LIBERTY MOTOR ARRIVES HERE FOR AUTO SHOW

War Department Objects, So Government Airplane Will Not Be Exhibited as Motor Show Feature.

No airplane, but a Liberty motor will be shown at the Auto show which opens Monday.

The Curtiss scouting plane, expected to make the trip from Scott field, Belleville, Ill., and which was to be suspended from the ceiling of the Auditorium, is not to come, according to a telegram received by Clarke Powell.

The War department frowned on the plan for fear something might happen to the delicate machinery of the airplane.

The Liberty motor has arrived and is being assembled for exhibition. Fort Omaha men, who helped in the construction of Liberty motors, have been detailed to explain its mechanism to Auto show visitors.
