DULL AND SHARP SHOOTING PAINS

Michigan Lady Suffered Such Pains In Back and Head, But Says Cardui Stopped These Bad Spells.

Palmyra, Mich.—Mrs. Chas. T. Fuller, of this place, writes: "In 1911 I got run-down, and I suffered great pain...with both dull and sharp shooting pains...also back and head I was weak and could only drag around, and should have been in bed for I really wasn't able to be up. At times I would have spells that would be so bad I'd have to go to bed, and suffered intensely..."

I decided to try Cardui, and saw a great improvement in less than a month's time. I used 7 or 8 bottles and was stronger...I got so much better that my strength returned and my work was easy for me. Cardui did me a world of good. It built me up in health and strength. I haven't had one of those bad spells since. I haven't had to take any more medicine since or have any doctors either and have been able to do my work right along...I recommend it to other women highly as the best medicine I know of for women who suffer from female troubles."

If you suffer from female troubles, follow this advice. Get a bottle of Cardui today and give it a thorough trial. It should help you, as it has helped thousands of other women in the past 40 years. At all druggists.

South Side OFFER 23 HEAD OF BUFFALO FOR SALE ON S. SIDE

Part of Famous San Luis Valley Herd of Animals Put on Market by Wyoming Shipper.

Twenty-three buffaloes, part of the famous San Luis valley, Colorado, herd of 250 animals, the largest in the country, are offered for sale at the South Side market by Bill Clayton of Termpoly, Wyo. The animals are the first offered on the open market in Omaha.

The nucleus of the large herd was formed by 30 head from the well known General Palmer herd, which was trailed from Texas into the western part of Colorado. These 30 buffaloes multiplied so rapidly that General Palmer was forced to dispose of them. They were sold to D. B. Turner of Texas, who, in turn, sold them to their present owner.

Mr. Clayton has been in possession of the herd for a number of years. He has supplied many zoos and parks with the finest specimens of the rapidly disappearing animals. He states that he is willing to dispose of the whole herd, or any part of it.

The buffaloes, now confined in the South Side pens, are very shy and will jump at the approach of anyone.

Mr. Clayton says that the buffalo is remarkable for its tirelessness. They will run for days when trailed and never diminish their speed. He believes that buffalo can outlast any living creature.

He was given a 30-day jail sentence. Judge Foster will communicate with the immigration authorities to see what disposition can be made of his case.

Baker Comes Early to Arrange for Week of San Carlo Opera

Grand opera comes to Omaha again two weeks from today. The San Carlo Grand Opera company, that always arrives in this time make the longest stay in Omaha that has yet been arranged by its forces. There will be five evening and two matinee performances—all different, and so widely divergent in character as to make a strong appeal to music-lovers and theater-goers generally. This time, however, the productions will be staged at the Boyd theater.

Generously augmented in all its component parts, and with many new and distinguished artists added to its already formidable personnel, the San Carlo is now the only organization of its character on tour, the other two big companies, the Metropolitan of New York and the Chicago Opera, confining their activities mainly to their respective communities. Charles K. Baker, advertising manager of the San Carlo, who has visited Omaha many times, announces the following repertoire:

Tuesday evening, March 25: Madame Butterfly, with the sensational new Japanese prima donna, Haru Onuki, in the title part; Wednesday matinee, double bill, Secret of Suzanne (to be sung in English) and Pagliacci (in Italian); Wednesday evening, Rigoletto; Thursday evening, Aida; Friday evening, Carmen; Saturday matinee, Martha; Saturday evening, Il Trovatore.

Manager Baker is perfecting, with Manager Burgess of the Boyd the details of the song-feast, the details of which will be announced in a few days.

VOTERS DEFEAT BLUFFS MERIT SCHOOL SYSTEM

Measure Providing for Increase of Salaries for Teachers Snowed Under at Annual Election.

The so-called "merit system" of providing for increase of salaries for public school teachers received a stranding blow from Council Bluffs voters at the annual school election yesterday. All three candidates for the school board ran on a declared platform of antagonism to the system, were elected by more than two to one majorities. The two bond propositions were also carried by majorities of nearly the same proportions.

But little public interest was manifested, and less than one-third of the total vote of the city was cast, the estimate including several hundred votes cast by women, whose right of suffrage extends only to tax propositions. There are about 7,000 males voters in the city and only about 2,000 cast.

For the school board Thomas McMillen was re-elected, and was the high man on the anti-merit ticket, receiving 1,181 votes. W. H. Killpack got 1,076, and Chris Peterson, the other anti-merit candidate, 1,096.

Rev. W. E. Mann received 472 and Leonard Everett, 419. They represented voters favorable to the system. Mr. Everett is not only one of the heaviest taxpayers in the city but is a multimillionaire, reputed to be the wealthiest man in Iowa.

His defeat indicates the feeling aroused against the system. The Mothers' and Teachers' clubs and the Fathers' club led the organized opposition to the system.

MUSIC

JASCHA HEIFETZ, wonder violinist, came to the Brandeis theater Monday evening, and spoke through the medium of his instrument in the purest diction of music, in tones so lovely and of thoughts so fine that a great audience came and listened to him in a vital stillness.

This exceptional musical treat was brought to the people of Omaha by the Tuesday Musical club, who well deserve congratulations for the undertaking. The fame of this phenomenal young man has spread before him and not only was the entire seating capacity of the theater sold out, but the complete stage was filled with seats, and several rows of staudes were gathered at the back, intent upon hearing the message of his bow. The message was there, and there was nothing to interfere with the hearing of it.

Mr. Heifetz is a fine looking young man with clear cut features and sensitive mouth. He is unassuming, almost impassive in bearing, and in his playing, there are no mannerisms. He simply stands before the audience and plays, and lets the music speak for itself. Through his skill and artistry, it has ample opportunity to speak. He seems to have all the gifts of the gods, supplemented by all the development and training of mortals. He has balance and perspective, appreciation and absolute mastery of the power of transmitting the manifold beauties of the music to his auditors. He is a great artist, of the kind one wants to hear again and again, so entrancing are his interpretations.

Mr. Heifetz opened his program Monday evening with a Handel Sonata, No. IV in D major. This he played in a strict rhythm that was a joy rather than a monotony, and with a vividness of dynamics, which made one hear between the notes, and realize how musically rich these old masterpieces are. The Largo, especially, under Mr. Heifetz's wand, was a gem. The Wieniawski Concerto, the big piece of the evening, was given with an interpretative skill and technical ease that illuminated this well known old number with a veritable radiance. His tempo, his dashing runs, tremendous climaxes and iridescent trills, carried the listeners with him to the very last note. The brilliancy of the closing climax of the first movement, and the marvelous sweep of the finale are things to be long remembered.

The "Ave Maria" by Schubert-Wilhelmj, was notable for the unusual spirituality of it, the "Nocturne in E minor," Chopin-Auer, was a new and rare treasure both for itself and its interpretation, and the "Chorus of Dervishes," Beethoven-Auer, was a technical feat of amazing skill, and a clever musical characterization.

"On Wings of Song" was a charming transcription of the lovely song, by Mendelssohn, the exquisite melody being introduced on the beautiful toned G string, then developed upon the higher strings in thirds, octaves and tenths. Personally we hated to spare him the time for the "Dance of the Goblins" by Bazzini, but it contrasted well with the foregoing number, and he played it for all its technical display with a scintillating daintiness and at such a whirlwind speed that we almost forgot to breathe. Encores were numerous, but they were hard won, the serious young man much preferring to bow his acknowledgements. The encores were as follows: "Valise Drigo" by Bluetto, by Drigo-Auer, after the concerto, "Minute" by Milandre and "Tambourin" by Gossec (both charming), after the third group and at the close of an attractive transcription of "Guitarre" by Moszkowski.

Mr. Andre Benoist, accompanist, furnished pianistic backgrounds of such unity with the violin that they were an integral part of each number, unobtrusive, yet supporting.

Upon the whole it was an epoch-making night, and it is to be hoped that the future appearances of Mr. Heifetz in Omaha will be both soon and frequent. H. M. R.

Mother of Five Fined $100 for Violating "Dry" Law

Mrs. Mary Nayne, 4921 South Twenty-second street, mother of five small children and wife of a building contractor, was fined $100 by Police Judge Foster, sitting in the South Side court, on the charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquor. In fining the woman the judge stated that her offense warranted a jail sentence but on account of her children only a fine would be imposed.

Nine pints of whiskey were found at the home by the arresting officers. The booze was concealed beneath a bed mattress.

Parrish Decides to Remain Instead of Going to Capital

Victor Parrish, former St. Louis and Omaha newspaper man, has refused an offer from the government to take charge of the publicity for the war insurance bureau, and has purchased a half interest in the Office Equipment company, 108 North Fifteenth street. Mr. Parrish had the government's proposition under consideration for several weeks and at one time thought of moving to Washington. He has decided, however, to remain in Omaha.

Minute directions are given on the labels as to the size of the dose for hogs of various ages. The consignment was addressed to "Dr. Larson, Ralston, Neb." There is no doctor of that name in Ralston and nobody called at the express office for the "cholera serum" while the officers lay in wait. It was real whisky.

Search Made for Stevenson

Whereabouts of J. G. Stevenson, 35, a painter, who left the local Y. M. C. A. last Wednesday evening with all his baggage, is yet unknown to the police. J. S. Simcik, a roommate of Stevenson's, says he helped carry the man's baggage from the Y. M. C. A. to the Rome hotel, where Stevenson checked in, but he did not engage a room at that time. According to Y. M. C. A. secretaries, Stevenson was a very reticent man who made few friends. A bill for $9 was left unpaid.

Cincinnati man tells how to lift off any corn without hurting one bit

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison, are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freestone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the fingers.

It is a sticky substance which dries the moment it is applied and is said to simply shrivel the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freestone will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You are further warned that cutting at a corn is a suicidal habit.—Adv.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and above all take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid.

Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxin, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work. They become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.—Adv.

Starving in the Midst of Plenty

Acid-Stomach Steals Strength and Good Feelings From Millions

One of the worst features of acid-stomach is that very often it literally starves its victims in the midst of plenty. And the strange thing about it is that the people with acid-stomachs seldom know what their trouble really is.

No matter how good or wholesome the food may be, or how much they eat, they do not gain in strength. This is clearly explained by the fact that an acid-stomach cannot properly digest food. Instead of healthy, normal digestion, the excess acid causes the food to sour and ferment. Then when this mass of sour, fermented food, charged with excess acid, passes into the intestines, it becomes the breeding place for all kinds of germs and toxic poisons, which in turn are absorbed into the blood and in this way distributed throughout the entire body. And that is exactly why it is that so many thousands of people eat and eat and keep on eating and yet are literally starving in the midst of plenty. Their acid-stomachs make it absolutely impossible for them to get the full measure of nourishment out of their food. And it doesn't take long for this poor nourishment to show its ill effects in a weakened, emaciated body.

You may say: "My stomach doesn't hurt me." That may be true because many victims of acid-stomach do not actually suffer stomach pain. Then there are millions who do suffer all kinds of aches and pains—headaches, rheumatic twinges, gout, lumbago, pains around the heart and in the chest—who never dream that an acid-stomach is the real cause of the trouble.

Naturally, the sensible thing to do is to strike right at the very cause of this trouble and clean the excess acid out of the stomach. There is a quick, easy way to do this. A wonderful new remedy quickly removes the excess acid without the slightest discomfort. It is EATONIC. Made in the form of tablets—they are good to eat—just like a bit of candy. They literally absorb the injurious excess acid and carry it away through the intestines. They also drive the blast out of the body—in fact you can fairly feel it work. Make a test of EATONIC in your own case today. Get a big box of EATONIC from your druggist. See for yourself how surely it brings quick relief in those painful attacks of indigestion, bitter burburs, belching, disgusting food repeating, that awful bloated, lumpy feeling after eating and other stomach ills. Banish all your stomach troubles as completely that you forget you have a stomach. Then you can eat what you like and digest your food in comfort without fear of distressing after-effects.

If EATONIC does not relieve you, it will not cost you one penny. You can return it to your druggist and get your money back. So if you have the slightest question about your health eating and other stomach ills. Banish all your stomach troubles as completely that you forget you have a stomach. Then you can eat what you like and digest your food in comfort without fear of distressing after-effects.
