Despite that Gloria Swanson has appeared in numerous motion pictures the fact remains that she is a virtual discovery and in "Don't Change Your Husband" Cecil B. DeMille's new picture which is showing at the Rialto theater, she exhibits a screen beauty, a charm, grace and talent that is almost a rarity in the ranks of filmdom.

Deliberately tear a brand-new coat to shreds? Theda Bara would not hear of it.

While "When Men Desire" now showing at the Sun, was in the making, Miss Bara was supposed to emerge from an explosion in a sadly battered condition. To create a realistic effect, Director J. Gordon Edwards suggested that she tear rents into her exquisite satin gown and her fur-trimmed coat.

"Indeed not," Miss Bara answered. "I'll do most anything for art's sake, but I haven't the heart to ruin these brand-new clothes."
Miss Bara won.

Norma Talmadge, the charming star who is appearing in her latest picture, "The Probation Wife," at the Strand theater, has installed a new department in her studios, which is called the Department of Research. Elsa Lopez, who for the past three years has been associated with D. W. Griffith as a title-writer and research-worker, has taken charge of this new department.

Eid Bennett will win the sympathy of all housewives in the picture she is now making at the Thomas H. Ince studio. She has to do every kind of housework from scrubbing and sewing to pressing her picture husband's clothes.

Charles Ray, the well known Thomas H. Ince photoplay star, one time played on the vaudeville stage. He also sang with a musical

AT THE THEATERS

MISS MERILL of the "Mystic Garden" company, at the Empress, is proud of the fact that she was made mascot of the Thirty-third tank corps, formerly stationed at Camp Dix, which included a number of Omaha boys. The Mystic Garden company presented its act at various cantonments and Miss Merrill became a great favorite, especially with "her boys of the 33d" as she proudly calls them. She was presented with a complete uniform and taught all the ins and outs of the tanks and is a genuine "Treat 'Em Rough" girl of Uncle Sam and salutes like a seasoned old major. "The Mystic Garden," the headline attraction at the Empress, is a romantic novelty.

The sale of seats for the coming engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drev in "Keep Her Smiling," at the Boyd theater the first half of next week beginning Monday night, promises well for the engagement. After the Drevs long experience in the "movie" picture world, it is perhaps necessary to emphasize that "Keep Her Smiling" is not a picture, but a speaking comedy in three acts and four scenes in which the Drevs personally appear, supported by a company of over 20 players.

"Maytime" has but three more performances to fill its engagement at the Boyd, but these promise to be most interesting. The play has made itself very popular in Omaha, its dainty charm having something of an appeal to all.

Thus far this week standing room has been a premium at the Orpheum, where the bill is headlined by the new song revue of Gus Edwards, "The Fountain of Youth." In addition to Olga Cook, the charming prima donna, the act has a number of gifted principals. One of them is Mario Villani, the Neapolitan tenor, whose voice is of grand opera quality. Then there is Helen Coyne, the solo dancer, whose youth and dainty graces endear her to every audience. Another feature of the current show is the comedienne, Bessie Browning. Next week Martin Beck presents the American dancer, Lucille Cavanagh.

Harold Bell Wright has filmatized the most popular of the works from his pen, "The Shepherd of the Hills." The characters from "Preaching the Blues" to little "Pete" have found numberless friends in all living languages. A great story teller, a creative imaginative genius, his picture will be shown at the Brandeis twice daily today and tomorrow.

Unless you've already had a ride with The Auto Girls at the Gayety "Garage" this week, you'll have to hurry if you expect to get seats for the two final spurts of speed, fun, music and girls this afternoon and evening. The incoming attraction—"Rollies of the Day"—which opens its week's stay at the Gayety tomorrow afternoon, is said to be one of the very best of the many good shows on the Columbia circuit. The principals are Gertrude Haves, Harry "Watch the Slide" Welsh and Chester (Rube) Nelson.

Miss Ida Gordon, former school teacher, sailed last week from New York for overseas service with the Jewish Welfare board. She is the second girl to go from Omaha, the other being Miss Minnie Rabinowitz. Miss Rita Freeman of Randolph, Ia., has also been accepted, but has not yet sailed.

Miss Gordon, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gordon, won oratorical honors in the University of Chicago, where she took a course after several years of teaching here. For the past few years, she has been on the teaching staff of a conservatory of music and expression conducted by her sister, Mrs. Leon Weltman and Mr. Weltman in Boston.

ever hear of Fannie Hurst?

She's the highest priced short story writer in the world. She has criticized "THE HEART OF HUMANITY," starring Dorothy Phillips in Allied Artists' super-production. READ what Miss Hurst says:

"I saw 'The Heart of Humanity' last night, and I want to give you a piece of my mind about it. First, I think it is the finest achievement that the screen has yielded up to date—also aside from the fine moving love story I learned a vast amount about the modern armament."

"There is a moment in that picture that is going to thrill down the spinal column of the world. I refer to the dog scene, one of the greatest photoplay moments I have ever enjoyed. Dorothy Phillips is more than sweetly charming; she is a rare combination of sheer youth and deep emotionism and one of the really sincere artists of the screen. She and her splendid supporting cast, together with the big artistic direction and production, round out the picture into a masterpiece."

"CONGRATULATIONS." (Signed) FANNIE HURST.
