

Then a sense of law and beauty,
And a face turned from the cloud,
Some call it evolution
And others call it God.—Carroll.

WOMAN'S SECTION OF THE BEE

The mists above the morning hills
Rise white as wings of prayer
The altar curtains of the hills
Are sun's purple air.—Whittier.

Let's Go Shopping With Polly

God does not send us strange flowers every year
When the springtime comes in all the pleasant places
The same dear things lift up the same dear faces.
—From "Flowers That in the Garden Grow," by Churchill Ripley, in Mothers Magazine.

So must it be that after death's dark winter
God will not put new things in heavenly places—
The same love will look out of the old faces—I shall have thee.

My Dears:
The conquering hero has always been greeted with music, flowers, and gala attire! The same instincts that moved a maid of ancient Greece to crown her head with chaplets, sends us forth to buy the loveliest most luxurious things that human ingenuity can devise. And how satisfyingly feminine they are to be sure.
Fashion designers have taken a wide swing this season. Back come all those delightfully interesting styles that emphasize the mystery of woman!
From her long clinging skirts to the loose topped coat, the high collar of which comes up over the lower part of her face, almost meeting the hat which comes well down over the head, fashions for the women of 1919 are triumphantly feminine.
The brisk, busy wide-stride short skirt of 1918 has been replaced by the coy, graceful 1919 skirt which clings about the ankle of the wearer and adds to her height and slenderness.
All the lines, both in street and dress costumes, are long and clinging, ingeniously becoming, lines to charm the hearts of all who appreciate individual adaptations of the mode.

Bags to Capture Every Woman's Heart.
A whole window of magnificent creations in the west window of the entrance to the Nebraska Clothing company's millinery department, Fifteenth and Farnam. A black moire silk miser bag has long arm strap entrancingly trimmed with solid beading in jet bugles, whose colored design is offset most strikingly by cut steel lines of a delightful French piquancy is an all-over beaded bag of gorgeously brilliant pantries rich indeed with its jeweled clasp. Many of these have neutral blending shades; all of them are fringed in beaded loops, be wondrously delightful in their lining surprises. One of the silk bags has "dropped top" with border design of black and white stripes, ultra in effect. If you wish a vachette, morocco or seal bag to add the correct touch of smartness to your new trousseau, you'll find just the thing in this purse department.

When One Would Give.
WHY not take your sick friend one of the Tokonabe bowls which I saw in the Eldridge Importing company's window. Just ready to bloom are the gently swaying narcissus plants planted in these dainty green pottery bowls. Complete they'll carry lots of happiness for $1.00.

Spring Whispered Down Farnam Street.
LINGERING longest I'm sure in the flower shop of John Bath, Eighteenth and Farnam. Sun-gold wealth of gold tulips so purely gold that they've been called Coronne D'Or, great ivory and pink splashed tulips, golden bearded, named for no less a personage than Murillo, daffodils to inspire joy in the saddest, most wintry heart, forget-me-nots of dainty blue, and narcissus ever charming and sweetpeas exceedingly lovely, each blossom an evidence of spring's awakening!

If You're a Bit Clever With the Needle.
AND if you'd like to earn some pin money, I've just learned that Orchard & Wilhelm are looking for someone of artistic accomplishments to design and fashion lamp shades of all kinds. Even if you've not made these shades before, but can "sew a fine seam" they'll be very glad indeed to have you call.

The Top of the Mornin' to You.
ALL good Irish hearts and true will be celebrating the good St. Patrick's birthday. Why not entertain your friends at luncheon before the matinee or card game down town, or take the crowd in after the play? The Flitiron Cafe, Seventeenth and St. Mary's avenue, are making special preparations for the day. It's a most delightful place to entertain, beautifully decorated and furnished—and the goodies—most delectable, I assure you. Phone for a party reservation.

Tres Chic for Spring.
VERY voguish is the dainty little Peacock blue silvertone cape just arrived at the F. W. Thorne Shop on upper Farnam. With vest belted under crossed, sash ends, collar covered with outer collar of sand tricotette, it fringes most engagingly into very hem of cape, vest and sash.

There's the Charm of Exquisite Refinement.
IN well fitting, perfectly woven artistically dyed silk stockings, "Miss Victoria" is a new brand of hose just received at the J. T. McQuillan Shop, 1512 Farnam street, and they're altogether lovely. Of a texture wonderfully soft and silken, they launder beautifully because nothing but pure dyes and superior silks have been used in the making. They're well worth their price of $2.25. The colors are decidedly captivating, cordovan (very dark brown), white, black, dove gray, Russian calf and taupe. You'll also find enchanting "fanciest" lace hose dropped stitch, novel designs and ultra-smart color combinations in this department.

Have you seen the new black satin spats? Uniquely charming are they.

Characterful Home Furnishings.
OF charm and beauty in rarest woods at once lose distinction when clouded with furnace smoke and dust. My dears, I've found a polish for your furniture, your piano, the woodwork of your home, your automobile, in fact a cleanser for any polished surface in Ivory Polish, that Orchard & Wilhelm Co. have manufactured, sold and used on their own finest furniture for 25 years. It is especially excellent for a surface which has lost its coloring and becomes cloudy. As if by magic, the color is brought back, the scars and scratches disappear. Sold by the bottle it is 25c and 50c or it may also be bought in half gallon or gallon jugs for $1.50 and $2.50.

Dust is the newest shade for spats. It is a peculiarly pleasing shade of gray, which may be worn with any tailleur.

French Fashion Designers.
TAKE great delight in beaded, embroidered and braided effects, and their ideas we find expressed in every exquisite mode conception of the season. The new colors gayly invite us to add every unexpected touch possible to our frocks. If you'd have wonderful creations sparkling with all the witchery and imagery of the foremost Parisian and American couturiers, take or send your fabrics up to the Ideal Button and Pleating company, 305 Brown building, Sixteenth and Douglas. They've some of the loveliest new pleating plans, side, cluster, box, and accordion in their new catalogs. This catalog is yours for the asking.

Suit Models Portraying the Beauty of Correct Lines and Perfect Tailoring.
LAMOND'S Style Shop, second floor Securities building, are showing spring suit fashions which follow lines of tailored simplicity and smartness, with gay colored panel vests of tricotette or novelty silk, cloth of gold collar and cuffs to make them frankly feminine. Long in lines is a sand tricotette wonderfully embroidered which may be worn long and straight or bloused, in becoming lines. French blue novelty tricotette in a blocked design forms a fascinating vest. Black and white checks, a rose figured lining, moire silk vest of rose, crush girdle, and tiny silver buttons contribute to the fascinating effect of a girlish box suit. In another model of Poiret twist the great pleat of the back is really a draped panel tucked under the edge of the coat.

Exquisitely ravishing is the charm of a dainty blue taffeta frock with trim of French ribbons in coral rose.

Does Correct Corseting Mean Anything to You?
ANYONE who is in need of a good inward and upward abdominal support will receive immediate results if they will be fitted in one of Mrs. D. A. Hill's specially adjusted supporting corsets which are so made and fitted to lift all organs up just what is needed after operations. Mrs. Hill is a corset specialist of many years' experience and you will find her work most expert. Visit her shop, 205 Neville building, Sixteenth and Harney, or write for one of her perfect order blanks which include possible measurement.

The Complete Home Must Have Music.
CAN you imagine a home without books or pictures? Surely not. There are certainly few, if any, such homes in the world. And music is just as necessary to happy home hearts as books and pictures. There is nothing gives every member of the family quite the joy they find in the New Edison phonograph. This instrument of matchless sound, recreating qualities, housed in one of the period-style cabinets of rare beauty is a source of keenest pleasure.

Opera, symphony, or the popular jazz, all are possible through the medium of this marvelously perfected phonograph. I've enjoyed immensely the new records at the Rouse Edison parlors, Twentieth and Farnam, this week. They've new instruments on display, too. Do run in to see them.

Beauty Calendar for March.
YOUR beauty calendar for March should include many calls at the Delft Hair Parlors, Second floor, Baird building, Seventeenth and Douglas, for its the month of capacious winds and sudden changes. Mrs. Margaret Gunston, the beauty expert, has just received a shipment of her delightful new shell pink cream, a combination of skin toning and beauty properties. A "veil" of this exquisite cream on face and throat before leaving the house will protect one against the roughest winds.

Braid Appears on Suits of Charm Distinctive.
CLOSE-SHOULDERED is a Lefcourt suit model in navy tricotette seen at F. W. Thorne's. The great pleat down the back of the coat is profusely braided in a braid so dainty that it looks at first sight like an embroidered design. Sand-colored duvetyon forms a most enchanting vest, while silver buttons complete the charming ensemble.

For the Loveliest Woman in the World.
DIAMONDS are for magnificence, platinum's for elegance, and the bracelet they fashion is for remembrance—for if you've seen its exquisite beauty you will not soon forget it. Twenty-two little squares of hand-wrought platinum, each set with a blue white diamond—the whole a glittering circle of iridescence a quarter of an inch wide and just long enough to encircle the arm of the loveliest woman in the world. This vision of incomparable artistry is to be found in the Albert Edholm Jewel Shop, Sixteenth and Harney, the shop of jewell magnificence and eternal fitness.

Just Furs, or Furs Exclusive.
FOR many years the Aulabaugh label has been a guarantee of correctness of style, quality and workmanship, thus assuring each purchaser the utmost in value and satisfaction. Here you will find the appropriate styling and at prices suitable for all. Never was there a season striking so insistently the "fur note" and certainly there is no doubt as to its grace and rich becomingness.

Dreams of Yesterday—Shops of Today.
WHEN Mr. Kase of the Kase Studio, 215 Neville building, Sixteenth and Harney, began the work of finishing and enlarging kodak pictures, it was as a sideline of his photograph studio work. So interesting did the work prove that he devoted all of his time to it, until now he does no more photographic work, but has gathered into his establishment every available room on the second floor of this building. You will find his work most appealing in every detail artistically and promptly done.

You might make: An afternoon frock of soft blue taffeta with a deep lace collar, elbow length sleeves with pleatings and a draped bodice tied in large sash bow in the back, or, a Chinese figured blue and green foulard with girdle of green georgette. A large rough braided straw hat with beads and earrings naturally go with this dress.

Swinging, Swaggering Dolmans And Cape Wraps.
CAPES and dolman coats promise to be the spring covering for dainty frocks and a variety of stunning models guarantees that their popularity will be longer lived than the season—this the message from Paris, city of fashion.
Charming models of these graceful garments have just arrived at Herzberg's Women's Toggery, 1517 Douglas street. Fashioned on smart vogue lines, featuring individual touches in pleats, cloth covered buttons, Elizabethan shirred collars, flaring cuffs, gayly scampering designs over richly tinted linings, they embody the season's most favored fabrics, velours, crystal Bolvias, serges in rose, Terra Cotta, Pekin Blue, Taupe, Fawn, Sand and Navy. For a modest sum you may revel in one of these, the season's most graceful wraps.

Irresistible is the charm embodied in an importation just received at Thompson-Helden's. With daintily embroidered, crocheted, and Paris point stitchings, they're to be had in all the difficult shades. Many of them have dainty cuffs of white, a finish most bewitching. The slip-on driving gloves with soft cuff gauntlet to rumple pleasantly round the wrist are appealing indeed. These are in shades of tan and gray.

Old Fashion' Chocolates.
NOW that the war is over we may eat candy to our heart's content—and our "sweetest heart" will welcome enthusiastically a box of Keeley's "Old Fashion" chocolates (25c a pound) from the fresh shipment just received in the Jacobs-Lee Drug store, Fifteenth and Douglas, with filling cream of chocolate and vanilla, big and buttery, richly delectable; you eat them and at once long for more. They're just as delightful as home-made candies. Could I say anything more inviting.

To Complete the Charm of Spring Flower Arrangement.
THE Alfa Shop, 207 South Eighteenth street, have just received a shipment of new pottery in shapes, shades and colors (mulberry, gold, blue), to combine most effectively with all of the new spring blossoms. Many of them show the widely flaring line so becoming to all flowers! Quaintly shaped are the tiny flower floats. Many of these pieces are priced as low as 65 cents.

Veil Pins—excuse given to the clever little hat ornaments seen this season.

Shoes That Tread Spring Footpaths.
AS smart as they are unusual are the new suede colonial pumps just received at the F. & M. Boot Shop, Sixteenth and Farnam. Individual touch indeed the most fascinating, buckles of long jet beads! These bits of footwear to charm feminine hearts are $10. Dreams of shoes to accompany the most fastidious gown designers are the new satin oxfords at $10 and $12.

In these graceful, smooth-fitting oxfords are combined all the beauty and individual touches that you find in the highest priced footwear, the utmost in style and quality at an economical price.

Fashion decrees suits with gilets of brocaded silk, Japanese embroidery, yarn threaded sparkling in bright hues tres piquant in effect.

Stunning Sales of Pictures.
THE art stock sale at Hospe's has met with such success and so insistent has been the demand from far and near that water colors retailing from $5 to $10 will go on sale for $1. Many others are being sold for one-third their cost. This enormous stock of pictures is being reduced daily, still there are about 1,000 still on sale. Watch this week for an announcement of the etching sale—astounding sacrifices are promised.

Exquisitely delicate are the new printed georgette crepes and silk voiles which will be so fashionable in combinations with silks and in blouses.

Chapeaux designers of the season love the Victory color combination.

A shimmerful party frock of silver cloth is veiled in orchid tinted tulle with pointed overskirts threaded with silver.

If you were a taffeta frock wouldn't you love to have a trim of scarlet in deep slashes round yoke and sash bow and facing of bell-shaped cuffs?

Of course madam and mademoiselle have monogrammed silver pencils, the sharp-pointed kind, an altogether accessory to any smart handbag. They are also to be had in gold. The prices from $2 to $3.50.

Shades for lamps, candlesticks, beaded bags, telephone screens, art cushions, drapes and kindred home decorations are being designed and finished in the art departments of the different shops.

Japanese Embroidery.
QUEER vines, dragons, dainty cherry blossoms, butterflies and birds adorn the embroidered doilies in the collection at the Eldridge Importing company, Fourteenth and Farnam. These embody all shades and colors; a tiny round piece has matve background with embroidery in gold and green.

The Treasure Box.
ORIGINALLY effective, immeasurably exciting will be the opening of the Treasure Box in the Brandeis art department this week. Luxuriously pretentious, mystically alluring, its interior finishings form an artistic setting for the "treasure" gleaned from a hundred of New York's individual collectors and creators. Bags, robes, scarfs of Batik and toyed work, exquisite bits of glass from Tiffany, China from prominent importers, quaintly lovely antiques, original gifts for children—visions springing from the hearts of the artist. Every personality, preference, tendency and taste is represented.

Intriguing Loveliness.
IS evident in every detail of the dainty Schuman suit model seen in the F. W. Thorne Shop this week. The Fan-tai-si vest in turquoise and blue has points turned back to show tricotette, facing Tuxedo in line are the lapels, while the cut-away fronts of the coat are solidly braided. The skirt, slyly slashed, has buttons from belt to hem!

Even the Robins.
LOOK as freshly immaculate as can be, these spring mornings, every feather looks as if it had just arrived home from the cleaners. Every time we see them it should serve as a reminder for us to send our frocks, vests and spats to Dresher Brothers, Twenty-second and Farnam. Their prompt delivery is a source of never-failing joy to me, while their work, mes amies, is delightful beyond words. You will hardly believe your eyes when you catch a glimpse of the freshly mended, pressed and pleated garment disclosed among the crispy tissue wrappings!

Wall Paper Specialists.
NEW wall paper in your home means new surroundings—fresh inspiration, hope and courage for new achievements.
The decorative results attained by the new papers, softly subdued tapestry effects in soft grays and tans with splashes of artistic color introduced in manner most surprising and gorgeously decorated sun room papers, great birds and flowering shrubs, all reflect the spirit of the dawning future. Every room in the house will find just the right papers in the Sam Newman shop, Eighteenth and Farnam, a shop of efficient service, artistic suggestions.

Hats Reblocked.
YOU'LL be enchanted with the results of reblocking a last year's hat into lines of newest charm. Miss Bertina Kruger, 429 Paxton block, Phone Douglas 8394, achieves results exceeding your fondest expectations.

You'll Enjoy Sunday the More.
BY bringing your family down town for dinner in the Hotel Royal, Sixteenth street and Capitol avenue. An excellently prepared dinner is served for $1.25 a plate. Special music affords a delightful diversion. You'll particularly delight in the informal surroundings, the atmosphere of refinement and the noticeable "eager to please" spirit which marks the Hotel Royal service. Phone for a table reservation.

Spaghetti All'Italiane!
WITH much of the foreign charm of sunny Italy is the Rialto Delicatessen, two doors east of the Rialto theater, and you'll be charmed with this flavoring of their specially cooked spaghetti. Phone Red 4160 and they'll have this delightful dish prepared for you to take home for a lunch after the show.
