

WORLD LEAGUE TO BE INCLUDED IN PEACE PACT

President Wilson Announces Peace Conference Has Not Changed Plans to Link Them Together.

Paris, March 15.—The American peace delegates are considering bridging over the period between the signature of the peace treaty and the ratification of the treaty by the United States senate by a modus vivendi declaring hostilities ended as of date of the signature, so as not to delay the termination of certain war legislation and to enable the resumption immediately of normal trade, while affording the senate the necessary time for consideration.

The question of calling a special session of the senate immediately after the signing of the treaty, which may be within 10 days, has also been under consideration.

President Wilson authorizes the statement that there has been no change in the original plan for linking together the league of nations and the peace treaty. The plan was announced by the peace conference itself at the first plenary session, and, it is added, there has been no departure this far from the order then laid down.

The invitation, sent by the peace conference to neutral states to participate in a discussion of the league of nations has brought responses from Switzerland, Holland, Denmark, Norway and Sweden. These countries have forwarded statements on their views to the secretary of the conference.

Denies Published Report.

New York, March 15.—Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, announced here today that he was in receipt of a cablegram from the president stating that "the plenary council has positively decided that the league of nations is to be part of the peace treaty."

This cablegram was sent in response to one sent by Mr. Tumulty inquiring whether there was any truth in certain newspaper stories that the league was not to be incorporated in the peace treaty.

"I cabled direct to the president at Paris asking if there was any truth in these reports," said Mr. Tumulty, "and I am this morning in receipt of a cablegram from the president stating that the plenary council has positively decided that the league of nations is to be part of the peace treaty."

Start Action to Test the Constitutionality of Prohibition Act

New York, March 15.—Preliminary action toward testing the constitutionality of the wartime prohibition act was taken in the filing here today of a stockholders' suit in the federal court against the James Everard's breweries. The complainant, Joseph E. Everard, asked the court for an order restraining the defendant from suspending its manufacturing activities May 1, next, and its sales July 1, as required by the federal statute.

The complaint alleged that the emergency prohibition clause of the agricultural bill adopted November 21, 1918, is unconstitutional as a measure intended to safeguard the national security and defense, the armistice having been signed, hostilities ceased and orders given preliminary to reduction of the military forces before that date.

War Department Releases Nitrate for Use on Farms

Washington, March 15.—Release of 150,000 tons of nitrate of soda by the War department to the Department of Agriculture for use as fertilizer was announced today. The chemical was purchased for use in making high explosive shells. The bureau of markets announced that an effort would be made to distribute 100,000 tons this month from 18 cities where the nitrate is stored, many urgent orders having been received because of the mild weather.

Col. Tracewell is Father Of Proposed State Capitol

Representative of Cherry County Retires After Having Served Three Terms in Nebraska Legislature.

Col. Geo. C. Tracewell

Lincoln, Neb., March 13.—(Special)—When the legislature adjourns some time in April there will be at least one member who will leave the state capital perfectly happy and that man is Col. George E. Tracewell of Valentine, who represents the 72d representative district composed of Cherry county.

This is Colonel Tracewell's third session, counting the special session of 1918. He has always been one of the leading members of the lower body of the legislature.

Auctioneer by Trade. Representative Tracewell is an auctioneer by profession and it has been considerable of a sacrifice for him to leave his business at a season of the year when the auction sales are heavy and go to the legislature. But his people know him and besides electing him unanimously they have confidence in him.

Colonel Tracewell can well be called the father of the new capitol building. His name will not be found inscribed anywhere on its marble walls, but members of the legislature who have been in session with him will not forget that his hardest work was directed toward the building of a new state house which would be the pride of Nebraska and the people of the state for years to come.

It was this determination that was one of the potent reasons why Colonel Tracewell was willing to sacrifice his business interests and put in months at the capital working for the best interests of the state.

Re-Elected Without Opposition. He was a hard worker in previous sessions for a new state capitol and though representing a district hundreds of miles away from Lincoln, his people were so well satisfied with his ideas that they re-elected him last election without opposition and sent him back to Lincoln armed with a new capitol bill which he had prepared to meet his ideas and

Webster City Light and Power Plant Is Disabled by Storm

Webster City, Ia., March 15.—(Special Telegram.) A small twist of fate hit Webster City last night, disabling the city electric light and power plant, tearing down signs, uprooting trees and blowing in several business fronts. Industry is at a standstill for lack of electric power. City Manager Long fears no power will be had before Tuesday. The local daily paper is unable to appear.

CHAMP CLARK ASKED TO "COME OUT IN OPEN"

Representative Mays of Utah Urges Former Speaker to Declare Position on League of Nations.

Washington, March 15.—Champion Clark was asked to declare his position on the league of nations, in a telegram sent to him at New Orleans by Representative Mays of Utah, who repeated his assertion that the former speaker had said in his presence that the league constitution "has as much chance of being ratified as you have of being pope of Rome."

Mr. Clark had publicly denied making such a statement, Mr. Mays's message, made public tonight by the organization of democratic members of the house, who oppose the selection of Mr. Clark as minority leader in the next congress, said the former speaker's reference to the league was made on the day Senator Reed of Missouri spoke against it in the senate and that Mr. Clark had declared that Mr. Reed's argument was "unanswerable."

"All other prominent public men have announced their position on this vital public question," said Mr. Mays, "even Bryan from a sick bed declaring the covenant of peace to be the greatest forward step in a thousand years, suggesting minor amendments. May we ask what are your suggestions? We desire you to come out in the open like other public men assuming to lead in official position. We remember you did not vote for the war resolution and that you spoke and voted against the selective draft urged by the president. We remember your attitude throughout the period of the war as being out of sympathy with the administration and the majority of your democratic colleagues."

"Do you now propose to act in harmony with the majority view or to compel the majority to act in accordance with your views? Are you with Lodge, Penrose, Borah and Reed, or are you with the president and for the league of nations?"

Unrest in Westphalia Acute in Iron Districts

London, March 15.—"Acute unrest prevails in the whole Westphalian region and it probably will be necessary to enlarge the British bridgehead in that direction," says a dispatch to the Mail from its correspondent with the British army.

The German province of Westphalia is one of the most important industrial districts in Europe. It has one of the richest coal fields in the world, and the iron industry there has been developed on a vast scale.

Unsettled Weather Next Week Is Promised Nebraska

Political Tide Appears to Be Turning in England

London, March 15.—Politicians look upon the result in the parliamentary election in the West Leyton division today as a sharp reminder to the coalition government of Premier Lloyd George of popular discontent.

The division returned A. E. Newbold, an independent liberal, who was defeated in December by a majority of 2,000, over K. F. Mason, a coalition unionist, who had the premier's endorsement. This result with the fact that Rear Admiral Sir W. R. Hall, coalition unionist, was returned for the West

Derby division of Liverpool recently by a greatly decreased majority, is taken to show that the political tide is turning. Politicians credit this change in sentiment to the government's financial policy. Bee Want Ads produce results—Try them and be convinced.
