New Association Avows Purpose of Nullifying Prohibition Amendment

Organization Standing On Principle of "Personal Rights and Liberties" Will Hold Mass Meetings and Parades in 43 Cities On April 19, Anniversary of Firing of First Gun of American Revolution.

New York, March 15.—Organization of the Association Opposed to National Prohibition was announced here tonight with the avowed prime purpose of making the eighteenth amendment to the constitution "forever inoperative."

Application for incorporation under the laws of New York will be made next week, it was said. Among the incorporators will be Percival S. Hill, president of the American Tobacco company; Joseph W. Harman, president of the Harrison National bank; and Michael Friedman, president of B. Altman & Co. No person officially connected with the organization, it was declared, has any interest, directly or indirectly, in the liquor business.

Plans for organization of branches in 29 states have been laid, it was announced and nearly 300,000 persons already have applied for membership.

The organization, it was declared, stands on the principle of "personal rights and liberties" and is opposed to introduction of any bills in congress or in the various state legislatures, differentiating between light wines and beer and whisky.

It is as strongly opposed, the statement declared, to prohibition by constitutional amendment of the manufacture and sale of cigarettes, cough drops and chewing-gum, as it is to the prohibition by constitutional amendment of the manufacture and sale of intoxicants.

In addition to the organization's campaign to influence public opinion for "maintenance of the standards of personal liberty" by "all lawful and proper means," the organization also proposes to disseminate information regarding the political, social and economic effect of the prohibition of the sale of alcoholic beverages, to promote temperance in the use of alcoholic beverages and to oppose any movement to limit or discontinue the use of tobacco.

The organization will hold mass meetings and parades in 43 cities on April 19, the anniversary of the firing of the first gun of the American revolution. A national convention is to be held, the announcement says, between June 1 and June 15.

We want an opportunity to show you the cars at your leisure when we can give you our undivided attention.

We know our cars will give you the service you expect out of the Motor car, you intend buying—and feel certain that we can prove this to your satisfaction.

We would like to see you at this Special Showing, and would appreciate your calling. We know your time will be well spent.

Public Gives Generously to New Working Girls' Home

Business Men Realize Necessity for Protection of Young Women and Send Donations to Sisters of Mercy Who Are Pushing Project.

The work going on at campaign headquarters for the new Mercy Home for working girls was pleasantly interrupted by the welcome visit of one of Omaha's public-spirited citizens.

Thursday evening while the men in charge of the campaign were busily engaged, they noticed a man walking up and down in front of the campaign office evidently waiting for friends attending the theater.

At last he stopped and studiously read the words on the rear wall of the office which reads:

"Say it with us!
"My heart goes out to the friendless girl who walks the street looking for a job."

He read over several other banners with mottoes, and finally his glance rested on the endorsements of some of our leading business and professional men which were displayed in the windows.

He seemed to study these over very carefully. This broad-shouldered, generous-hearted man finally opened the door, walked in and said: "I haven't got much money with me, but this looks like a mighty fine thing to do, and anything that Bob Cowell, president of Thomas Kilpatrick and company, endorses so highly must be good. I count him among my best personal friends."

Makes Donation.

He placed several $10 bills upon one of the desks and said: "I guess this will help some poor girl a little, and I only hope your splendid work touches a similar responsive chord in the hearts of all the people of Omaha."

The combined efforts of those in charge failed to get him to reveal his identity for their records. As he passed out of the door he said: "You can just tell the sisters for me that I am one of many business men here in Omaha deeply interested in the welfare of humanity, and simply wanted to 'do my bit.'"

The Sisters of Mercy have received many similar endorsements for the New Mercy Home from Omaha citizens interested in the uplift of our working girls, which only goes to strengthen the fact that this praiseworthy endeavor now being carried forward is a much needed and appreciated enterprise, and is being received by the people as one of the most popular undertakings ever projected in this city.

Sends Check for $100.

The following extract from a prominent manufacturer's letter speaks for itself:

"I will be absent from the city for about two months and am taking the liberty of enclosing my check for $100 as an initial offering toward your most worthy cause.

"If my business I employ many young girls. I know something of their trials and their need of protection and careful training, and I realize the urgent necessity in Omaha for a home such as you propose building.

"You can rest assured that I fully endorse this humane endeavor; will supplement the enclosed check later, and in the event that should return before your campaign is over, you can count on me as one of your most earnest and active workers."

"Polly's Going Up," at Gayety, Draws Crowd and Pleases Everybody

One of the best shows ever seen at the Gayety opened a week's engagement there yesterday. It is the eleventh addition of "Follies of the Day," presenting "Polly's Going Up." There is a remarkable supply of beauty and youth among both chorus and principals. The costumes are rich and tasteful and the scenes of high-class musical comedy standard.

Harry Welsh, who plays the leading comedy part, is making his first trip over the Gayety circuit. He was accorded a big ovation. He outshines "Sliding Billy" Watson. Chester Nelson is the same funny "Rube" that he has been in past years.

Gertrude Hayes, Dee Baulier, Maybelle Courtney and Gertrude Saffin are the feminine contingent of songsters and each one is a dandy.

The show pokes fun at "Polly with a Past," "Going Up," "Chu Chin Chow" and "Business Before Pleasure." There are six scenes.

Everything in the show has a finish, youth, beauty, lots of fun and catchy songs combine to make this a really excellent burlesque show.

Discriminating Thieves Pass Up Tires; Take Waists

A thief who broken into Julius Orkin's store by prying the lock clearly demonstrated his knowledge of merchandise by selecting only the highest priced waists in the window display.

He also showed that he had a keen eye for beauty by helping himself to the more costly and elaborate ones displayed on the model forms.

Several big auto tires were in the window at the time but the educated thief discriminated against these in favor of more artistic loot.

Julius Orkin feels the loss keenly as this class of merchandise is almost impossible to buy due to the garment makers strike and must now make another trip east to replenish his stock.
