

PASSPORT TO PARIS DENIED TO DR. CHUNG

Permission Refused University of Nebraska Graduate to Plead for Korean Independence.

By UNIVERSAL SERVICE.

New York, March 15.—"Right now Japan has an economic strangle hold upon Korea, the Alsace-Lorraine of the east. It can annihilate the Korean people by tightening this strangle hold without bloodshed, like the medieval iron woman who crushed her victim without shedding a drop of blood." A wiry little Korean who left his native isle when it was still independent, and who has lived in America for 14 years and won honors in American universities, thus gave voice today to the cause of his countrymen. He is Dr. Henry Chung, American representative of the Korean National association, who has just lost a desperate battle with passport red tape and diplomatic rules to go to Paris and represent Korea's case at the peace conference.

Refused Passport.

"I would rather be a man without a country than a subject of the Japanese emperor," was his plea to the State department, and with that status, as a man without a country, he pleaded for a special permit to leave the country, willing to take his own chances when he got to France. He was told that, being a Korean and Korea being part of Japan, he must have permission from Japan first. This he could not obtain. Upon his fervent pleas Acting Secretary of State Polk sent a cable to Secretary of State Lansing at Paris, whose answer, according to Dr. Chung, was, in substance, that "it would be unfortunate for Korean representatives to come to Paris at this time."

Associated with Dr. Chung in the vain effort to go to Paris was Dr. Singman Khee, graduate of Harvard and alumnus of Princeton and a personal friend of President Wilson. Dr. Chung is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and was a fellow in Northwestern university, being now on leave from that institution to pursue his fight for Korean independence.

Nebraska Student.

Dr. Chung was the first person in this country to learn of the declaration of Korean independence on March 1, before the world had an inkling of the alleged Japanese cruelties since reported from Peking, one report telling of Korean students being stripped and tied to crosses. Today Dr. Chung received this exclusive information of the Korean situation.

"The Japanese have sent out gendarmes, soldiers and police who are forcing the people to sign a document that they want Japanese rule and have no desire of independence. Those who refuse to sign are arrested and put into jail. Martial law has been declared in all Korean cities."

"All the people of Korea want self-determination under President Wilson's accepted doctrine."

Compare to Philippines.

A previous cablegram told Dr. Chung that the Korean National Independence Union, composed of 3,000,000 people, including 3,000 Christian churches, and 5,000 churches of heaven worshippers, all colleges, schools and other bodies, had declared the independence of Korea at 1 p. m. March 1, at Seoul, P'yongyang and other cities. (Note—"Heaven worship" embodies the essence of Confucianism, Buddhism and Taoism.)

"Japan loves to compare Korea to the Philippines. No comparison could be more paradoxical and fraudulent. The Philippines have their own legislative assembly in which they can overturn the veto of the American governor general."

"The Japanese governor general of Korea is an absolute monarch, while in the Philippines the American governor general is the benevolent representative of America who obeys the wishes of the people of the Philippine islands."

American Transport Sunk by Mine in North Sea and Nine Drown

London, March 15.—Nine sailors are reported drowned in the sinking of the American naval transport Yelhaven, which struck a mine at 3.35 o'clock Friday morning, according to a report to Lloyd's. The Yelhaven was bound from Baltimore to Copenhagen.

Thirty-five survivors have been landed at Hartlepool by a British steamer.

The Yelhaven measured 3,538 tons and was built in Rotterdam in 1916. It was taken over by the United States shipping board after the United States entered the war. It left Baltimore February 18 for Copenhagen.

The sinking of the Yelhaven probably occurred in the North Sea, as Hartlepool, where the survivors were taken, is a port on the eastern coast of England.

Soldiers on Tolosa Are Sent Home from New York

New York, March 15.—Americans and Britishers residing in the United States discharged from the British army, who made trouble aboard the transport Tolosa because they were not put ashore and sent to their homes from Halifax, arrived here today on the vessel.

Three officers and 349 men made up the contingent and they will be dispatched to their homes with transportation furnished by the British consul in New York.
