

TO HOLD FUNERAL OF WM. F. HOLMES THIS AFTERNOON

Omaha Pioneer, Who Has Lived in This City for the Last 30 Years, Died Sunday.

Funeral services for William F. Holmes, the late proprietor of the Pullman hotel, will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Masonic temple by the Mount Calvary commandary of the Knights Templar, assisted by Rev. Frank G. Smith. The remains will be cremated and interment will be made at Forest Lawn cemetery.

Mr. Holmes died Sunday morning at his home, 2551 Farnam street, after suffering from diabetes for several years.

In Omaha Thirty Years. He has been a resident of Omaha for more than 30 years and comes from a long line of western pioneers. His father emigrated from the east to Marnsville, O., which at that time was still a wild country, where but a few pioneers had settled.

When 25 years old he came to Omaha and lived here until his death. He grew with the city. He was first employed by the Hinman and Merriam fraternal companies and later as chief credit man for the J. L. Brandeis stores.

About three years ago he bought the Pullman hotel, at Tenth and Mason streets, from his savings.

Member of Many Orders. He was an interested worker in the Good Fellowship club and in the Hotel Men's association. He also was a member of the Congregational church, the Chamber of Commerce, a charter member of the Athletic club, of the Elvert Lodge, No. 11, A. F. and A. M.; Mount Calvary commandary, No. 1; Knights Templar and Tangier Temple of the Mystic Shrine.

Mr. Holmes is survived by his wife and two sisters, Mrs. J. B. Porter and Dr. Abby Virginia Holmes, a brother, Orville C. Holmes, all of this city. The widow, Mrs. Holmes, will manage the hotel.

Acting pallbearers will be Dr. Paul W. Ellis, E. A. Napp, J. W. Elwood, Dr. J. C. Bishop, Jacob H. Robel and E. E. Zimmerman, the honorary pallbearers being H. W. Wilhelm, F. S. Montgomery, Fred Rochey, J. A. Muller, E. T. Hayden and C. H. Withey.

Our "What Is Love?" Contest

AWARDS SUNDAY, MARCH 23. So many good answers have been submitted in this contest that we will continue to print them from day to day as space permits and announce awards at the conclusion, next Sunday.

No. 941. "How to I love thee? Let me count the ways I love thee to the depth and breath and height My soul can reach, when feeling out of sight For the ends of being and ideal grace, I love thee to the level of every day's Most quiet need, by sun and candle light, I love thee freely, as men strive for right, I love thee purely, as they turn from praise, I love thee with passion past to use In my old griefs and with my childhood's faith, I love thee with a love I seemed to lose With my lost saints—I love thee with the breath, Smiles, tears of all my life and if God's choirs of shall but love thee better after death."

No. 951. Love is the desire of every man and woman; love is what joins two hearts together and they become one; love is the foundation of two hearts building one home; love is the foundation for the home it builds and grows a strong people; love is great; love has a silver lining on every cloud.

No. 954. Love of every kind is God's love. In knowing that it is such, human love becomes more sacred and solemn. It is God's heart that throbs in ours when it leaps up within us at a sound of a beloved name, at the pressure of a hand, a glance, a voice, a presence, which is like music felt along all the chords of our being. In this own glorious way through this own holy inspiration we know what it is to love one another. Eike this, our love, when it is true, is no self-seeking, but a perpetual giving and the desire to bear a blessing to any soul most sooner or later bring us near that soul.

No. 959. Love is a fire that is caused from sparks. This fire is built in the heart and when these sparks are closely united the heat is set on fire which never goes out. We could not live without love. It is the sweetest thing in the world.

No. 947. Love is the divine essence of our being, and an antidote for our selfishness. It is one of the rare gifts nature has bestowed upon man alone and is the most powerful of all influences that govern our lives over which death itself has no power in man. It is an instinctive and differential feeling for some one person of the other sex. Spencer declares that such is the power of that sweet passion that all its stordid baseness doth dispel. By love's influence all baser passions are subdued; bad habits are corrected and vice is torn from its throne; through its power miseries disappear, and flowers are strewn along the thorny path. Like every other gift from nature it may be used amiss but when it enters into pure hearts the poet says "there's nothing half so sweet in life as love's young dream."

It comes to the young when the springs of life are the fullest and suddenly a wellfed spring is loosened in his or her breast, and the whole of the intellectual forces center on the attainment of one object. All other aims in life sink into insignificance beside this. Is it any wonder in this condition of mind mistakes in choice are often made. Love is what causes a mother to follow her child to the prison cell and even to the gallows. Nothing can outweigh a mother's love, except that which caused our Savior to be nailed to the cross for our sins. Love is something we have very little control over and will last as long as eternity.

No. 944. Love, God's most gracious gift is the highest emotion man knows. The greatest love is mother love. It follows us through life; forgiving all our transgressions, in sympathy with our defeats and failures, rejoicing in our triumphs and achievements. A father's love lacks the tenderness which comes from the mother's sacrifices at babyhood. Filial love fostered by dependence and trust grows as "love begets love." Conjugal love is the most disturbing and tantalizing, at the same time most sought after and most delightful experience in life. Admiration and infatuation aroused by personal charm are not necessary to cause some to love. Strong character, intellectual development and high attainments are factors considered by others. In all cases the lover must feel with Emerson: "Through thee alone the sky is arched, Through thee the rose is red." As love has no depth that knows no sacrifice, the lover must be glad to give up anything necessary for the happiness of the loved one and agree with Omar Khayyam: "A book of verses undergath a bough; A jug of wine, a loaf of bread and thou Beside me singing in the wilderness, Oh, wilderness were paradise enow."

No. 966. Love—that divine principle that annihilates time and distance and disposition—that is in us before we come into the world, is all that we can take out of the world and the best that we can leave behind when we go. Love is the filling in one's own another's cup. Love is a daily laying down and taking up. A choosing of the stormy path through each new day, that other feet may tread at ease the smoother way. Love is not blind, but looks abroad through other eyes, and asks not "Must I give?" but "May I sacrifice?" Love hides its grief that other hearts may sing, and burdened walks that other lives may buoyant wing. If thou hast reached a love like this then you have discovered what makes life worth while. The something that reaches out over and beyond every obstacle and gives you the satisfaction of knowing that love is not all frivolous, but a true, deep and abiding strength and hope in time of need.

No. 919. Love is the filling in one's own another's cup. Love is a daily laying down and taking up. NEWEST BANNER HEADS PARADES OF IRISH IN U. S.

Ten Thousand Parochial School Children in San Francisco Parade in Honor of St. Patrick.

San Francisco, March 17.—With the newest of all banners at their head, the orange, white and green of the new "Irish republic," 10,000 costumed and shammed parochial and public school children and members of Irish societies, paraded here today in honor of the nativity of St. Patrick. Intonation of high mass to the accompaniment of great chimes pealing forth, "A Nation Once Again," and "Glorious St. Patrick," marked the observance at St. Patrick's church, where the parade halted. Singing of "Killarney," dancing of "The High Carol Cap," and an oration by Joseph Scott of Los Angeles featured the afternoon program. Archbishop Edward J. Hanna of the Catholic archdiocese of San Francisco, and United States Senator James D. Whelan were heard in addresses.

Head of Woman's Club Federation in Plea for Movie Censor Bill

Strong defense of the state censorship of moving pictures bill, now pending the legislature is made by Mrs. Addison E. Sheldon of Lincoln, president of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs who spoke at the open meeting of the Omaha Woman's club this afternoon.

"The censorship bill is highly desirable, and we believe it will pass. It will stimulate the production of good pictures by insuring them a wider circulation. If the pictures are not good we shall not weep if they are censored," said Mrs. Sheldon. The bill was to come up before the committee of the whole in the house this afternoon or Tuesday morning. Mrs. Sheldon, who was formerly president of the Legislative Ladies' league of Lincoln, was entertained at the homes of Mrs. J. H. Craddock and Mrs. N. P. Dodge Jr., members of the league. Mrs. A. L. Fernald, president of the Omaha Woman's club, gave a luncheon in her honor at the Hotel Conant.

Huge Tank Traversed Distance of Over 18 Acres in Recent Storm

East Omaha residents have not yet recovered from the effects of a storm scare late Friday afternoon when the wind velocity started a large iron oil tank rolling across Avenue H from Fifth to Ninth street, where it lodged against a tree between two houses. The tank, which is 12 by 16 feet and weighs several tons, was ready to be placed for the Omaha Refining company. The braces which held it were evidently displaced by the wind and the huge tank began careening down the avenue, the clatter of the hail stones on the hollow iron increasing the bewilderment of all who saw and heard—and had no idea what the huge thing was! The distance traversed by the tank is over 18 acres.

"It was fortunate that the tank did not strike anything, for its great weight would have caused serious damage," said L. V. Fox and E. S. Line of the Omaha Refining company. "It rolled as straight as a shot out of a gun."

Thousands of Letters Lost Because of Lack of Address

Omaha Post Office Employs Two Men to Do Nothing But Open "Dead" Letters, Trying to Locate Sender and Return Possible Valuable Contents; 5,000 "Lost" Letters Last Saturday.

"I declare, I forgot to address that letter right." You've said it yourself, haven't you? Well, there are an average of 1,000 such forgetfulnesses down at the federal building every day. On Saturday last, there were 5,000. There are so many such "I declare" over the country that the government has two people in the Omaha federal building busy with nothing but mis-addressed letters. Then too, just because of some individual reason—either because there is no time, or because they do not know, or some equally valid reason, there are about 800 letters every day or so spat to the dead letter office in Chicago. Opened and Read. Here, they are opened, read, and if there is anything important and there is any possible way to determine the sender, the valuable part is returned. Quite a long sequel, isn't it, to just one of those "forget-to-address it-right" exclamations. Madame Public is rather peculiar, and made up of more than one kind of person—though it is forgotten sometimes. Just because several of "your set" write the address of every letter, in just the proper way, in the proper space, with the proper return, you may think such is the way of the world. Some people put the telephone number on. Yes, they do. More than one person has done this and often when these pile up, and pile up, Mr. Post Office Official takes his telephone and his chair and labors, and labors and talks and tells person after person that Harney 0000 has a letter waiting for him. Others see an add in the paper and write Miss X, Y, Z, general delivery, Omaha. Where do they all come from—that is all that is ever known about them. A letter to the postmaster from one conscientious person explains some of the ways of the letter writers: "Dear Mr. Postmaster: I sent a letter to your office yesterday, but please don't bother with it. I sent it to the wrong town. Thank you." It gave the name of the person addressed—but the world must seem small to someone somewhere. Letters addressed to relatives, to addresses that aren't in existence—letters of every kind and every description come to this building, just because someone forgot to address it right.

End Strike. Atlanta, Ga., March 17.—About 1,500 railroad clerks, employed on all roads entering Atlanta, except the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis, had returned to their desks this morning, after having been on strike since Friday and tying up freight traffic in Atlanta and adjacent territory.

Army and Postal Orders. Washington Bureau, Omaha Bee. Washington, March 17.—Capt. Altheus A. Merritt, quartermaster corps, is relieved from his present duty at Camp Meigs, D. C., and will proceed to Fort Robinson, Neb., to duty, relieving Capt. Frank Nickerson, Philippine scout, retired. Catherine Honey was appointed postmistress at Ushling, Dodge county, Neb., vice Helzer Christensen, resigned.

Missionaries Are Captives of Villa. Juarez, Mex., March 17.—American Consul Dow made an official report to the State department at Washington today stating Bishop J. C. Bentley, president of the Juarez stake of the Mormon church, and James E. Whetten, head missionary of the stake, were prisoners of Francisco Villa in southwestern Chihuahua, having been captured last week at Las Cruces, Chihuahua, 200 miles southwest of here, while doing missionary work in the San Buena Ventura valley. The report stated Bishop Bentley was a naturalized Mexican citizen and Missionary Whetten who is the son of Bishop Joseph L. Whetten, of the Mormon church, is an American citizen. The consul also reported the looting of Colonia, Juarez, last Wednesday and the robbing of stores, a tannery and Mormon homes of clothing and jewelry.

EXPECT U. S. TO NEGOTIATE FOR GERMAN POTASH

Huns to Deliver Small Quantity to British; United States Takes No Part in Dealings So Far.

Rotterdam, March 17.—The negotiations here between entente and German delegates for the delivery by Germany of potash, wood and dyestuffs have ended for the time being, with an agreement by Germany to deliver a small quantity of potash to Great Britain. The discussion broke up Friday, when the entente demanded that negotiations should be carried on for dyestuffs only from factories in unoccupied territories. Although the United States did not take part in the potash negotiations, the opening of such negotiations by America is expected.

TELLS HOW HE GOT RID OF HIS CORNS

Well-Known Man Relates Remarkable Experience.

"By George! I never saw anything like the effect of that new treatment, Ice-Mint, for removing corns and bringing quick relief to tired, swollen, aching, burning feet. I tried a corn-removal in my case, it said a well-known man yesterday, in speaking of this discovery which has caused such a big stir among foot specialists. 'I had carried a pet corn for years that simply took the joy out of life. I tried plasters, salves, ether compounds and all of the other 'dope' that is supposed to do the trick, but the pestering thing simply would not leave me. I began to think there was nothing on earth that would kill my corn, when I finally read about the remarkable results obtained by Ice-Mint. I decided to try it for myself and before I hardly realized it my corn came out—root and all—and without causing the least pain or soreness. Believe me, it seems mighty good not to be afraid some one is going to hit your feet with a mallet. Ice-Mint is a pure, snow-white, creamy preparation made from a genuine Japanese product and is highly appreciated by women who wear high heel shoes and by men who stand on their feet all day. It draws the inflammation out of swollen, tired or burning feet and loosens hard or soft corns so they can easily be lifted out with the aid of a rubber shoe horn. It is a most valuable, cooling, soothing sensation that you will just wish with reason. Try it. Just ask in any drug store for a little Ice-Mint and give your foot, suffering from tired, aching feet, the treat of their lives. There is nothing better, or nothing just as good."

"IT'S WORTH OVER $100 A BOTTLE," SAYS J. T. ROSE

Declares He's a Well Man from Head to Foot Since Taking Tanlac.

"Tanlac did me so much good that I think it would be cheap at one hundred dollars a bottle," said J. T. Rose, 114 Spring St., Peoria, Ill., a well-known miner who has been following this occupation for more than thirty years. "It was eleven years ago," he continued, "that I first began to have trouble after eating. Gas would form, and I would belch up sour, greasy food and liquid for hours after meal, and sometimes I would be doubled up with cramps. It wasn't long after this trouble started before I lost my appetite, and just had to force down enough to keep me going. I had a mighty severe pain all the time in the small of my back and was told that I was suffering from too much uric acid in my blood. I could hardly stand to bend over, it gave me such pains, and when I did manage to stoop, my back would feel like it was breaking when I would straighten up again. I kept getting weaker and weaker all the time and I got so I would have to knock off work in the afternoon because I couldn't stand the strain any longer. I got very little rest at night and there wasn't a day that I could do any more than drag myself to work and finally I got in such an awful fix that I thought I would have to give up and quit work entirely. It was certainly lucky for me that I heard about Tanlac when I did, because I couldn't have held out much longer. "Soon after I began taking it, I was able to enjoy the first square meal I had had in years, and now I eat like a bear three times a day without the least trouble afterwards, because my digestion is perfect. I sleep all night long now, and when I get up in the morning I feel like going to work. I don't have to lay off a minute because of weakness, now, and can mine as much coal in a day as I could in my young days. That pain has gone out of my back and it doesn't hurt a bit when I swing the pick or use the shovel, and when I bend over and straighten up I don't feel the least pain. To put my case in a few words, I never felt better in my life and I am a well man from head to foot." Tanlac is sold in Omaha by all Sherman & McConnell Drug Company's stores, Harvard Pharmacy and West End Pharmacy. Also Forrest and Meaney Drug Company in South Omaha and the leading druggist in each city and town throughout the state of Nebraska.—Adv.

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion. A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion are nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas, or have heartburn, flatulence, waterbrash, or nausea. He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore to continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices. Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salt is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.—Adv.

"No bath this morning"

HOT water disconnected—can't even shave. And an all-day job fixing up that old, wornout bathroom equipment.

Honestly, now, are those antiquated fixtures worth the time and temper lost, and the money spent on repairs? We don't believe you think so.

We do believe that you've often wanted to rip them all out and put in modern, first-cost-last-cost, sanitary fixtures. But you've hesitated because of what you thought it would cost.

Frequently the cost of repairs would in a short time buy the new equipment—and always so in the long run.

Let's get together and figure it out. It won't cost you anything to visit our model bathroom display and find out how much less it costs than you think to have Thomas Maddock modern, sanitary fixtures installed.
