

PLANES TO 'BOMB' OMAHA DURING V. LOAN DRIVE

Leo Bozell, Advertising Committee Chairman, Announces Program for Fifth Liberty Loan Campaign.

Leo Bozell, chairman of the advertising committee for the Victory loan campaign, announces that Omaha will be bombed during the Victory Liberty loan drive by government aviators. Frank Selby is chairman of the stunts committee, which will have charge of the bombing. Walter Hoye will be in direct charge of the planes which are to be furnished by the government. The bombs will contain orders for merchandise, which is to be solicited from the retailers of Omaha.

The opening day of the campaign will be designated as "Welcome Home" day. A parade will be organized to start from some downtown point and disband at the court house. Returned soldiers, war workers and soldiers from Fort Omaha and Crook will be invited to march. A reception for returned soldiers will be held on the court house lawn at the conclusion of the parade.

Headquarters W. O. W. Building.

Victory Loan headquarters will be opened in the near future at Fourteenth and Farnam streets in the W. O. W. building. Division leaders are holding weekly meetings with their majors. The majors will hold weekly meetings with their captains, and the captains with their lieutenants. In this way all workers will be posted on the details of the drive.

Well-Known Surgeon Will Speak at Uni. Club Friday

Dr. Georges Dehally will address the members of the University club at their noonday luncheon Friday. At the outbreak of the war the physician was stationed at La Ranne, France, where he developed war surgery to a point never reached before. Later Drs. Carrel and Dehally were associated in research work at a hospital established by the Rockefeller foundation at Compiègne. Here were discovered the Carrel Dakin method for treating septic wounds that became the standard treatment in all allied armies. Dr. Dehally was in Russia at the outbreak of the Russian revolution. In Roumania and Serbia to assist in combating the typhus epidemic. Shortly prior to the close of the war, Dr. Dehally was sent by the French government to New York as instructor in the treatment of wounds for all members of the medical reserve corps prior to their embarkation.

South Side TWO YOUNG MEN BRANCH OUT AS BOLD ROBBERS

Footpads Meet Ray Wilson and Ed Smith During Early Night and Relieve Them of Their Wealth.

The two youthful bandits of "nickel plated and pearl handled revolver" fame are still at large and busy. About 9 o'clock Tuesday night they held up and robbed Ray Wilson, 2207 I street, and Ed Smith, Twenty-fifth and I streets, at Twenty-third and H streets. Smith contributed $5.50 and Wilson $3 to the youthful highwaymen.

The boys were described as being 15 and 18 years old. Two boys answering their description were recently reported as having staged two holdups in Omaha.

Constant Downpour of Rain in France, Says Carey

Rubber boots have been issued the American forces in St. Nazaire, France, on account of the constant rain and mud, according to Leo Carey, son of J. H. Carey, police officer.

Carey joined the old Sixth Nebraska at the outbreak of the war. He was stationed at Deming, N. M., for about a year. In October he was sent overseas with the First Medical detachment.

The letter in part follows: "I am stationed at St. Nazaire, near the coast, examining men who are being sent back to the states. It rains continually here and it is so damp and muddy that we have been issued rubber boots.

"The company has been broken up and many of the South Omaha fellows who were with me are gone. "I have had 18 months of army life and I am getting tired of it. I hope they send me back home soon."

Hogs From Insane Hospital Farm Top So. Omaha Market

Seventy-five hogs, raised by the inmates of the State Hospital for Insane at Ingelside, Neb., were sold at the highest price of the day. They were brought to the market by M. O'Meara, steward of the institution.

This is the second load of hogs sold by this institution during the year. A regular stockman is employed by the hospital and, with the aid of the patients, he has succeeded in making hog raising a profitable business. The funds realized from the sale are used by the institution in better caring for its inmates.

Iowa Scout Executive Speaks at Third Meet of Boy Scout Leaders

At the third assembly of Boy Scout leaders taking the training course given by the Omaha council of Boy Scouts under the auspices of Creighton university, D. E. Porter, principal of the High School of Commerce, and Gilbert H. Gendall, Scout executive, Des Moines, spoke on the analysis of leadership among boys. Scout executives from all over the country attended the meeting held in the mock court room of the Creighton law department.

The real essential things of the Boy Scout movement are for the welfare of the boys of America. The value of the scout movement lies in clever adult leadership, qualities of which must be good character, thorough understanding of boy nature, sympathy with and love for boys and a warm feeling for them in their play," Prof. Porter said.

The training course, which began on March 11, will last until April 8, the final day to be taken up with examinations of prospective scout masters. G. M. Hoyt, scout execu-
