Negro Dentist Charged With Having Given Ammunition to Blacks and Incited Outbreak.

St. Louis, March 20 .- Testimony that arms and ammunition were imported to East St. Louis three weeks prior to the race riots and stored in a saloon operated by a negro was introduced today at the trial at Waterloo, Ill., of Leroy N. Bundy, negro dentist, charged with murder in connection with the killing of two policemen July 1, 1917, which, it is said, precipitated the race riots the following day in which more than 30 negroes were killed and scores

Witnesses declared crowds of negroes were seen gathering in various parts of the city in the early part of the night and assembled in the Ghetto following the tolling of a church bell. It was testified one gathering assembled at Bundy's garage, but it was not ascertained that Bundy was in the crowd.

More than 2,000 shots were fired following the murder of the policemen, according to witnesses, and the shooting did not stop until 4 o'clock in the morning. Negro women with shotguns were as conspicuous as men, Jacob Schuckhardt, a grocer, testified.

Special Prosecutor James A. Farmer said in his opening statement that he would show ammunition was stored in Bundy's home and that Bundy was instrumental in inciting the riots. The defense will show Bundy attempted to keep order among the negroes, attorney for Bundy said.

Railroads Call Meet to Reconsider Rates on Building Material

As an early adjustment in the prices of building material about Omaha which have been hindering many property owners from building, the freight rates of sand, stone and gravel from Platte river points to Omaha will be reconsidered at a special meeting of railroad officials in the freight manager's office in the Union Pacific building at 10 a. m.

Various requests have been received by the committee in charge of freight rates, involving reductions Mitau, southwest of Riga, has been in rates on building material in order to enable contracting interests to inaugurate improvements, building and highway construction.

Hundreds of applicants for loans from local building and loan associations are hindered from building beto abandon Dvinsk cause of the exorbitant prices of building commodities, according to officials of various companies.

Though the last large sand pits along the Platte river were bought by C. W. Hull and Sunderland Brothers, nevertheless, newly work ed pits near Ashland, Cedar Creek, Louisville, Nehawka, Weeping Water and Valley, Neb., are supplying Omaha and Council Bluffs with much of the concrete material. The present freight rates for hauling the commodities are various. Tomorrow's meeting at railroad headquarters will discuss proposed rates of 2 cents per hundred-weight for sand and gravel, and 21/2 cents for crushed

It is likely that contractors and officials of building associations will attend the meeting.

Special Committee Named to Probe Cost of Building Material

City Commissioner Towl obtained the adoption of a resolution in the onditions in Omaha.

Mayor Smith announced that he would name this committee at the council meeting next Tuesday morn-This is the first step by the city officials to probe the high cost of building materials, as brought out "There is, apparently-I would even say very apparently-a combination existing here to promote council to investigate this situation thoroughly, to summon witnesses, to probe the whole matter and thus arrive at the facts.

"Some of the material men are quoting higher prices to the city than they are to contractors. We want to know why this should be. "I also have been told that cer tain material men are quoting lower prices to their friends and higher rates to others." Mayor Smith will co-operate with the investigation to be made by the city council, and he also believes that the county attorney should take cognizance of the situation.

Lumbermen Declare Their Present Prices Are Not Prohibitive

In answer to the statement of the realtors and the proposed committee to investigate prices of building material in Omaha W. W. Carmichael and M. C. Colpetzer, representing the lumbermen of the city, last night gave out the following statement:
"The charge of the high cost of lumber made by the realtors of Omaha is due to their lack of investigation and is misleading the public, as the facts do not bear out their assertions. Those realty men who have bought lumber this spring have done so at a price satisfactory to themselves, and so far as we can learn, those who are now making the charge of high prices on lumber have not made recent inquiries "Common lumber is selling for less than $40.00 per thousand, which leaves a gross margin of less than 25 per cent. The present cost of conducting a retail lumber business in Omaha is from 15 to 20 per cent. Now if anyone thinks this leaves too much net margin we would like to know who he is. 'The price of $45 per thousand which the real estate men have mentioned as the cost of lumber is not and never has been the sale price for lumber when sold in bills for house contraction

"We earnestly request any home builder whether a member of the Real Estate exchange or not and whether he wishes to build one or 50 houses, to substantiate the above statements by applying the acid test of inquiry.
