ZIMMAN, URE AND MAYOR PREPARE NEW POLICE PAY

Proposed Salary Ordinance Contains Much Lower Figures Than the Original

City Commissioners Ure and Zim- and H. M. Thomas. the proposed substitute provisions tain first-hand knowleds needs of their community. will be discussed today by the city Commissioner Ringer proposes to REED DENIES HE increase the patrolmen to $135 and the detectives to $160; the amended ordinance would change these figures to $125 and $145, respectively: Mr. Ringer's idea of having second and third-class patrolmen and detectives, with salaries less than $135 and $160 are eliminated by the mayor's amendments.

More Reductions Made.

The mayor would make the following further reductions in the Ringer schedule; sergeants of police, from $145 to $140; chief of detec tives, $200 to $180.

The mayor will urge the following additional provisions: All officers of the police force provided for in this ordinance and all detectives shall be selected from the police force and no one shall be elition on the detective force unless he as a patrolman.

No one shall be eligible to appointment as sergeant of police unless he shall have served at least two years as a patrolman. The appointments and promotions to any office on the police force mentioned in this ordinance shall be by promotion from the rank next below, in which rank such officer must have served at least six months immediately prior to his promotion. In making appointments and promotions, whether from the ranks or from the subordinate offices, seniority must be considered and preference give thereto where the party is otherwise competent.

NOW AS STATE

Man, Who Pleaded Guilty in Criminal Court to Larceny as Bailee Charge, Trails Bootleggers.

Henry Slack, who recently pleaded guilty in criminal court to a charge of larceny as bailee and was paroled to Morris Andreasen, adult probation officer, is now working as state liquor agent under Gus

Slack testified yesterday in the South Side police court against Tony Pirruccello, 802 Pierce street, charged with illegal possession and sale of intoxicating liquors. The sale charge was not sustained, but Pirruccello was fined $100 and costs on the charge of possession. The case was appealed. Testifying with Slack were State Agents Johnson Told to "Walk Straight."

At the time of Slack's recent parole Sheriff Clark, County Attorney Shotwell and Assistant County Attorney Ready admonished him to walk straight in the future and on his promise of good behavior the court agreed to the parole.

Slack said he could render good service in "turning up" bootleggers with whose operations he said he was familiar. Slack and Carl Rose, while being brought back to Omaha from St. Joseph by Deputy Sheriff McDonald escaped from a train near Langdon, Mo., and later were apprehended.

Wife Misses Money. Testifying in his own defense in the South Side police court, Pirruccello charged that after the three state agents had left his home, following the search for liquor, his wife suddenly broke into tears and exclaimed that she missed $52. "Slack knew the operations of the bootleggers," said Parole Officer Andreasen," and it takes a man like him to help run down these vio-lators. I told Slack that he would have to do the right thing under his parole and from what I know of his case I feel satisfied that he will do what is right."

On the recommendations of the sheriff, probation officer and assistant county attorney, Slack was appointed as a state agent. It is said that he has assisted in the apprehension of four bootleggers since he started his new work.
