STORY OF THE PLAY

"The Heart of Humanity" is anything but a war picture, although it contains brief scenes of fighting in France. Its central theme is love, a mother's love for her five sons, a wife's love for her husband and baby, a real man's love for his country and flag. The few battle scenes it contains are the most realistic ever made for the screen, although they really are only a background for the main story. The picture deals with Nanette, ward of Father Michael, who lives in a peaceful Canadian village. She is engaged to John, oldest son of the Widow Patricia. John is one of five brothers, all of whom adore the little girl.

John returns from college, picking up on the way as a traveling companion Oscar Strang. John and Nanette are overjoyed to be reunited, but their happiness is clouded by Strang, who is attracted to Nanette and makes love to her. Nanette, however, remains true to John and repulses the attentions of Strang.

Then comes the war. News of the opening of hostilities comes on the wedding day of John and Nanette. John and four other sons enlist for service with the Canadian forces. One after another all but John are killed, and misery comes into the home of the Widow Patricia. Then Nanette's child comes to soften the grief of the mother and the anxiety of the wife. Finally, the fifth son of the widow enlists.

John's letters home tell of the sufferings endured by French and Belgian children in the war and Nanette finally determines to go to their aid. She enlists in the Red Cross and is assigned to duty in a convent in France. She sees her husband, now an aviator, but soon afterward he is brought down inside the German lines and is made a prisoner.

In the meantime Oscar Strang becomes an officer in the German army. In the advance on Paris the Germans take the convent in which Nanette is on duty and Strang meets Nanette again. He attacks her and a terrific fight develops. She succeeds finally in escaping to another room and bars the door.

Meanwhile John escapes from the German war prison and, in the uniform of a German soldier, whom he has killed, starts for the convent. Nanette, safe for the time being behind a barred door, stands in horror as Strang pounds on the door outside. She grasps a knife, determined to plunge it into her bosom if the door yields.

John, after killing two German guards, reaches the room in which Strang is struggling to open the door. There is a fight and he kills Strang. Then he forces open the door to find that his wife has stabbed herself. She does not die, however, and recovers after several weeks in a hospital.

Nanette is persuaded to go back home, which she does after John urges that their boy now needs her. There is a happy reunion in the little Canadian village between mother and child, but their joy becomes still greater when John, one day after peace is signed, walks back to the arms of his mother, wife and child.
