

Omaha Labor Union
Against Mediation of State in Coal Yard

The Omaha Central Labor Union, through Secretary S. C. Jackson, has transmitted to State Senator John W. Robbins a copy of a resolution, expressing disapproval of any further regulation of the Omaha Municipal coal yard by the legislature. The union is opposed to the contemplated limitation of one ton per month to a customer, and the union alleges that this proposed legislation is being supported by the coal dealers in order to cripple the municipal coal department. "If the municipal coal yard needs regulation, let the mayor and city commissioners regulate it," the resolution reads.

"Cleanliness Is Next to Godliness" Is the Slogan of All Children Attending Bancroft Public School Children Observing Commandments of Neatness Given Small Cloth Shield to Wear for the Day.

A small boy, who responds to the name of Jim, appeared at the Bancroft school last Wednesday morning, crying as if he was carrying a terrible weight of woe. Principal Austin observed the tear-stained face and she asked the youngster to explain his grief. He related that a neighbor's goat had made a raid on his home shoe-shining equipment, and thus he had been unable to shine his shoes that morning. He feared that he would be unable to earn a perfect score in the personal cleanliness work which is carried on in this school. Miss Austin found blacking and brush and the boy quickly put a shine on his shoes. Tears were dispelled and a happy smile appeared. He was given his daily shield, which indicates that he had observed the 10 commandments of cleanliness.

This is illustrative of the work that is being done among the children of Bancroft school. Each child who appears at school with evidence of having observed the following commandments is given a small shield to wear for the day: Necktie or hair ribbon properly adjusted, face, neck, ears and hands clean; hair combed, nails attended, shoes blackened, no holes in stockings, and clean teeth.

Bath Means 10 Points.
Complete observance of these rules entitles a child to a score of 50 for the school week, and a bath adds 10 more points to the weekly score.

Allowances are made for boys and girls whose home conditions are not conducive to the best results. Miss Austin told of the case of a Mexican boy whose parents live in a box car at Gibson. He finally caught the spirit of the movement and when he started to "spruce up" he made some of the other kiddies "sit up and take notice." He went down to a 10-cent store and bought some buttons which Miss Austin sewed on where they would do the most good. He bought a tooth brush and the other day Miss Austin said she believed she could detect the aroma of perfume on his coat. He takes a weekly bath and has not experienced any ill effects from that ablutionary treatment.

"A mother told me that since our system has been started there has been considerable scrubbing in her home, which she had been unable to accomplish by herself," related Miss Austin.

"Shields Against Disease."
The small cloth shields which the children wear are symbolized as "shields against disease." Group consciousness is awakened by wearing these shields. Those who fail to win them are, as a rule, spurred to greater effort to merit them on another day.

An extension feature of this work will be a merit system for home work, such as washing dishes, helping care for the baby, sweeping floors and otherwise helping mother or father.

Helpful co-operation in all of this work is given by student assistants, comprising two students elected from each room by the children. Miss Grace Jardine, school nurse, also assists in impressing upon the children of Bancroft school that

A Queer Old Bird is The Pelican

Its bill holds more than its bellican. But at that, its heart is bigger than its bill. It is the only bird which shares its food with other and weaker fowl. So the queer old pelican looms up handsome in Goodrich's eyes—eyes which see beauty that is more than skin deep.

Goodrich, it is true, makes Silvertown Cords—the handsomest tires—the very Beau Brummel tires of smart cars.

Yet if clumsiness and ugliness would add one mile to their service, Goodrich would make them clumsy and ugly as the queer old pelican.

"Quality First," rules in the manufacture of Silvertowns; and they render quality service first and last. Give your automobile the obvious grace and elegance of the Tires with the Twin Red Diamonds on the sidewall. Their mileage is sure.

Another Influenza Epidemic Has Broken Out at West Point

West Point, Neb., March 22.—(Special.)—Sheriff A. G. Sexton, accompanied by Ben Myers, one of the men concerned in the Beemer garage robbery last December, to the penitentiary at Lincoln on Wednesday, where he will serve a term of from one to seven years. His companion in the crime, Charles Wheeler, is now under suspended sentence, having been paroled to Sheriff Sexton for two years.

The women of West Point have been called together in a mass convention on next Tuesday evening to discuss their rights and duties as electors. It is expected that the female vote will cut a big figure in the forthcoming election and evidently in the selection of members of the Board of Education.

Retribution at Home.

While his mother was away on a visit Johnny didn't say his prayers. Upon his mother's return there was a reckoning.

"Why didn't you say your prayers, Johnny?"

"Well, you see, it was this way, ma: I forgot to say them the first night an' nothing happened. 'N then I didn't say them the next night an' nothing happened 'so I decided I wouldn't ever say 'em again if nothin' every happened."

An' then something happened.—Scranton Times.

Political Parties at Minden Agree on Same Candidate for Mayor

Minden, Neb., March 22.—(Special.)—Both Minden political parties have selected W. H. Kennedy as candidate for mayor, and have also agreed on Elmer Taylor as councilman for the north ward, and Mrs. W. S. Wimmer as a member of the school board. In the neighboring villages of Axtell and Heartwell, barely enough candidates have been selected to fill the offices, with no opposition at all. The main feature of this year's election will be the part which the women of Minden will play, not only voting in the school elections, but in the election of city officers as well, and among the judges and clerks of election the names of three Minden ladies are found, while three are candidates for positions on the school board. Two of Minden's returned soldiers were named as candidates for city clerk, on opposing tickets, but one of them, Joseph Peterson, having declined for the reason that he will not remain in the city; Charles York is left as the only one in the field for that position.
