Lt. Col. Hersey Here to Inspect Fort Omaha Post

Former Commandant of Balloon School in Conference With Local Army Officials Regarding the Introduction of Latest Tactics Learned in Recent War.

Lt. Col. H. B. Hersey, formerly commandant of Fort Omaha, arrived in Omaha yesterday from Washington to inspect the balloon field of the local post. He is on a trip of inspection of the four balloon posts in the United States and will remain here for three days. From Omaha he will go to Arcadia, Cal., to visit the army post there. Yesterday Lieutenant Colonel Hersey engaged in a conference with Colonel Wuest and Maj. M. J. O'Brien about the future improvements of balloon work. The main object of Lieutenant Colonel Hersey's visit here is to discuss with the Fort Omaha officials immediate introduction of the latest balloon tactics as learned in the recent war.

Following Lieutenant Colone Hersey's transfer from Fort Omaha last May, he was assigned to duty in France. He was one of the prominent army officials who entered Metz, Germany, offer the signing o the armistice. He will be a guest at the farewell
