

Let us no more contend, nor blame
Each other, blamed enough elsewhere, but strive,
In offices of love, how we may lighten
Each other's burdens, in our shade of woe.

WOMAN'S SECTION OF THE BEE

Must I consume my life—this little life,
In guarding against all may make it less?
It is not worth so much—it were to die,
Before my hour, to live in dread of death.

GIRLS! MAKE UP A LEMON LOTION

Lemon juice whitens skin and removes tan, freckles, sallowness

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quart of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion whiter, at very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.—Adv.

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry, usually prepared, and saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it and it is pure and good.

Pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—without costing more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—Adv.

Keep Clean

Keep clean inside, as well as outside. Do not allow food poisons to accumulate in your bowels. Headache, a sign of self-poisoning, will point to numerous other troubles which are sure to follow. Keep yourself well as thousands of others do, by taking, when needed, a dose of two of the old, reliable, vegetable, family liver medicine.

Theodore's Black-Draught

Mrs. Maggie Bledsoe, Osawatimie, Kan., says: "Black-Draught cured me of constipation of 15 years standing, which nothing had been able to help. I was also a slave to stomach trouble... Everything I ate would sour on my stomach. I used two packages of Black-Draught, and Oh! the blessed relief it has given me." Black-Draught should be on your shelf. Get a package today, price 25c. One cent a dose.

Only Three More Giving Days This Week

Hurry to Attic, Basement, Trunks and Closets for Clothes Not in Use; Refugees Are Cold

But three more giving days for European refugees.

Omaha's quota of 35,000 pounds of used clothing for the Red Cross campaign is but partially filled.

This week is the national Red Cross campaign for European refugees of all countries save the central powers.

Men throughout the country are urging Americans to answer this call for clothes—clothes of all kinds—that the Red Cross gives.

Governor Allen, at the Auditorium, Wednesday, urged Omahans to respond, Herbert Hoover by telegram urged the usual American response to this call that comes through such urgent need.

Walter Jardine, assisted by J. P. Jerpe, is in charge of the local drive. The Red Cross motor corps, under the direction of Mrs. W. E. Martin, collects all packages from the various drug stores as well as from private homes.

Mrs. T. H. McDearmon will collect all Dundee donations from Sherman & McConnell's drug store at Forty-ninth and Dodge streets. She reports that up to today she has found nothing left here.

Today is school day in the campaign and collection will be made from every school throughout the city. Windsor school was the first to send in donations.

Clothes—material—blankets—shoes—all are wanted to fill Omaha's quota.

Heart Beats

By A. K.

We know a nice little woman who married a man. A good citizen And an old lover His bride And provided for her Like a real man He was called To war with the others And left his bride Without support But she was a Patriotic little soul And energetic And sailed right out For a position as Stenographer. Of course she found A position And it paid $90 a month And she worked And tried to save A bit for their Home when her Soldier husband should Return. HE HAS RETURNED And his bride Left her position To make the home For which the Ex-soldier should Provide. But he refused. She blinked her eyes And when she asked Him for money He informed her That if she wanted Money she would have To work for it. That there were Plenty of women Who were crazy About soldiers And many of them had Money. Now the bride of a "Brave hero" has Left her dream of Happiness for a New position And declares that She will support Herself and live in Single blessedness. We know the army Has made men of Some of our boys. But it has also made Despicable wretches Out of the millions Of a goodly number That couldn't stand A little flattery Without losing their Minds and sense Of proportion And everything else Worth while.

Side Lights and Secrets of Screen Life and Experience

By MARY MACLAREN.

Reams have been written on how to make good in pictures and stories, under the names of famous stars, on "How I Became Famous on the Screen," have sent thousands upon thousands of girls, very many of them really beautiful, in quest of screen careers. Yet how many really successful screen stars are there today? What has become of the girls whose friends said they were "perfect doubles for Mary Pickford" or that they were "the living images" of this or that screen beauty. I'll tell you where they are now. They are back among their admiring friends, wiser, chastened and less conceited, but I hope, not sadder. And I'll also give the reason and give my opinion, too, on how to "make good" in pictures.

"These girls read and believed that stars became famous overnight. "She was standing on the lot and the director said: 'That's just the type I need for my new picture.' He gave her a chance and now she draws $50,000 a week." That, they believed, was all there was to it. No wonder, if these girls were of this opinion, that they tried and failed. They started wrong. The girl who means to succeed and who does succeed has no such false impressions.

If she is fortunate and determined, she finally gets her chance. Then she finds it's really hard work, that it requires gray matter, honest endeavor and genuine talent. Perhaps she perseveres and at last wins recognition, but far oftener her rosy dream is shattered and she goes back whence she came. She lacked persistence—determination. Talent without these is of little value.

A career of any kind means work and the pictures are no exception.

Victory Loan Captains to Be Entertained at Luncheon

Miss Ella J. Brown, major of the Fifth ward of the Victory loan drive will entertain her captains at luncheon on Saturday at the University club at 1 o'clock. Mrs. F. W. Judson, chairman of the women's committee, and Mrs. L. M. Lloyd, chairman of the speakers' committee, will address the ladies. Twenty captains will be present.

An Unusual Star.

Harriett Hammond, movie star, gets up at 5:30 every morning. Eight o'clock, a. m. when the girls report for duty, is way along in the middle of the morning for her. Miss Hammond says she will never marry until she finds a man willing to have breakfast at 6:30. It looks like a life of single blessedness or a millionaire dairyman.

How to Make Dress Forms.

A demonstration and lecture on how to make dress forms at a minimum cost will be given by Mrs. Emma Ort Wambaan at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Girls' Community House, Seventeenth and Douglas streets.

For the first time since its organization the officials of the Chinese Students' club of New York are all women.

A Dainty Waist

Lingerie blouses are selling better than any other and buyers say it is because many women have gone into war work and need a practical waist. Frills of every description promise to be the feature of the spring. This demure little waist is of organdie, tucked and ruffled.

Luncheon at Athletic Club for Victory Loan Majors

Majors of the Victory loan committee were entertained at luncheon at the Athletic club Thursday.

Mrs. A. G. Peterson, state chairman of the Woman's club was the guest of honor.

The guests include Mrs. F. W. Judson, chairman of Omaha committee; Gen. W. J. Hynes, vice chairman; L. M. Advice to the Lovelorn

Love Comes Unbidden and, "To Love or Not We Are No More Free Than the Ripple to Rise and Leave the Sea."

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

For Women in General.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: As you seem to be the tribunal before whom all the perplexities of the middle west are settled, I come before you with a problem which is bothering my feminine neighbors very much. They are the sort that answer the door, and seeing a man standing there, answer his questions in a flutter of embarrassment and close the door at the first opportunity, as women did, no doubt, in that primeval era when a man who saw a woman who pleased him, snatched her by the hair of the head and carried her off to his cave.

Pardon the personal pronoun, Miss Fairfax, but I am the sort who answer the door and, discovering a man standing there, answer his questions just as I would were he a woman and, if necessary, point out a street which, perhaps, he may wish to find. (I know it is supposed to be vulgar to point, too.)

Also, my husband's business friends often call and we all talk business, politics and review the best reading. And, at that, I don't forget the baby's bedtime or to sew on my husband's buttons if it is off. I have never had the least cause to regret my freedom of action other than the above criticism which I have already mentioned prominently when I am washing dishes my husband will call me to hear something on politics, business or religion, which he and our friends are discussing. I have an idea I am ordinarily attractive from the common viewpoint, but I never think of that in regard to any but my own man. Now, please, Miss Fairfax, don't favor me, (I'm not averse to criticism), but, considering it from a psychological standpoint, which attitude is nearest normal?

It has been my good fortune to meet several women of prominence in educational, musical and political circles, and although I have had little of higher education, I have been favored with their lasting friendships, even to being sought out by them. But these women, who are "nice" and "modest," they do not approve of me. I tried to converse with them when they called, but I didn't seem able to draw them out on any subject whatever. We talked weather and chickens and fattening and styles, but, somehow, it was all a failure. Do you think I am different because I had four brothers and no sisters and no girls for playmates when I was a child? The boys with whom I played were all from good families, but, even then, I remember the cross old grandmother of one calling me a tomboy. But, I want to tell you, Miss Fairfax, those boys were always good to me, and today they seek me out occasionally in the most respectful kind of friendship. One of them, a very successful man in a large business is a friend of my husband and spoke respectfully to him of me before there was ever a thought of marriage between my husband and me. Please excuse this long letter, Miss Fairfax, but give me your idea of true femininity? READER.
