

PEACE PROGRAM IS CHANGED BY HUNGARY COUP

Whole Plan of Conference to Settle Questions One by One Discouraged by Revolt.

By NABOTH HEDIN.
(Universal Service Staff Correspondent.)
(Special Cable Dispatch.)

Paris, March 29.—With both Germany and Russia on its stomach, the peace conference is suffering from indigestion. If it were possible to digest either it might be easier to digest the other. The Hungarian events have blasted the plan to make a separate peace with Germany first and then settle the Austrian and Balkan affairs, leaving Russia to be disposed of last. The bolsheviks and some of the eastern nationalities will not stay put.

The impression prevails here that as much progress actually has been realized during the last three days as during the preceding three months.

Indemnities Chief Question.
Thus far the question of indemnities and reparation have been the chief subjects of discussion, it is believed. Financial experts have been called in to submit their views.

Though present indications are that a general treaty of peace will be signed forthwith, it is not certain that this will be the outcome. No formal decisions have yet been reached. Another revolt in the east may again upset all plans. Already disquieting reports come from Roumania to worry the peace makers.

The Hungarians have cut communications with Roumania. The Russians are boasting about upheavals in Bessarabia.

The suggestion will not down that if the terms to be submitted to Germany are too drastic she will play the bolshevik card rather than sign. The German leaders are whipping the public into a recalcitrant attitude.

Believe Coup d'Etat.
Many in authoritative position here believe from recent Hungarian reports that Count Karolyi deliberately turned his power over to the army, partly in order to impress the allies, partly to stimulate national action against the Paris conference decisions regarding the Roumanian frontiers.

Whether the Germans had a hand in this maneuver is not yet established, but it is not improbable. In order to enforce its decrees the peace congress must police all of eastern Europe, starting with the rival elements. But, frankly, nobody loves that job.

While the four statesmen are working at high pressure each must keep a steady eye on the political situation in his respective home country. Italy is seething with underground unrest, while in England members of the House of Commons are insisting to know from the government how much Lloyd George will make Germany pay. President Wilson has taken a new attitude toward opposition at home. French internal politics is becoming more acute daily. The government needs another tremendous appropriation and must daily listen to violent criticism.

Intervention in Russia Likely.
Military intervention in Russia which Foreign Minister Piehien favored three months ago, now appears more and more likely. Listen to what the conservative Temps says:

"The allied governments need an active policy toward Russia; a policy which must reconcile two necessities: First, to reach bolshevism at its source, which is Moscow, and second, to avoid the sacrifice of human lives of troops of the western allies in such a reconciliation impossible? No, the world impossible! is neither in the French nor in the inter-allied vocabulary.

Russians here urge that the allies should pay the expenses of a campaign against the bolsheviks by anti-bolshevist Slav forces. But the universal feeling is that diplomacy alone can solve the situation. If the bolsheviks agreed to stay at home and run their own affairs many here might listen to them. The world is war weary.

Complete Plans for Discharge of Men in Army of Occupation

Coblenz, March 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—The announcement by the War department of its intention to send from the United States volunteers enlisted for use in replacing members of the "permanent army of occupation, who desire to leave the service, reached the army headquarters yesterday. The announcement was made by the department to allay unrest among the regular army divisions, which are due for replacements, and which contain a large percentage of men who volunteered for the duration of the war, and among national guardsmen who are eager to return home as soon as possible.

A plan is being worked out for the segregation into the regular army divisions of the army of occupation of regular officers and such of other officers as desire to remain in the regular army service. The department, by this means, contemplates relieving as soon as feasible those reserve and national guard officers who desire to return to the United States for business or other reasons.

German Strikers Seek Disarmament of Police

Copenhagen, March 29.—The strikes in the Ruhr industrial region are extending, according to dispatches from Essen today. Thirty thousand men are reported on strike. At a meeting of the strikers at Langendreer, near Dortmund, on Thursday, demands were formulated, including the formation of a revolutionary workers' guard, the establishment of political and economic relations with the Russian soviet government and the disarmament of the police throughout Germany.

THIS IS DRESS-UP WEEK IN OMAHA

What Dress-Up Week Means At Burgess-Nash

Spring is the natural dress-up time. It is then that nature puts on its new dress.

The new carpet of green grass, the trees with their leaves and blossoms, animals shed their winter fur and are sleek and trim for the new season. And so it is and should be with man, yet as a rule man gives but little thought to his outward appearance.

"Dress does not make the man," it is true, but it goes a long way, in helping him to accomplish the result he seeks.

It is with this in mind that we have prepared for Dress-Up week in our store—provided for everything that you may need to "dress up," not only your personal appearance, but that of your home, both inside and out.

And as inducement we offer special price advantages in every section of this big helpful store on merchandise of this sort.

Remembering our motto to be of the "greatest service to the greatest number" at all times.

You Certainly Will Be Dressed Up in One of These Wonderful

TAILORED SUITS

We Offer Monday at

$25.00

WITH all we have said about our suits at $25.00, there's always something new to say. Style after style, and always something different—some jaunty new feature about the collar, a new taper about the shoulders, something at the belt line to attract, some new arrangement of braid.

Something about the hang of the skirt you hadn't seen before. Buttons find new ways of adding to the charm of the suit they adorn. New vest effects, new ideas in silk over-collars—all adding its bit of newness.

The materials are poplins, serges and tweeds, in the shades of navy, gray, tan, green and French blue; also black.

Dolmans and Capes Favored

Perhaps the smartest and most stylish garment to wear over the suit or dress is the Dolman or the Cape.

As in the suit fashions, so in these garments, the originators set the seal of their favor upon this particular style, not to the exclusion of all others, but certainly with greater emphasis.

For Monday We Feature Dolmans and Capes at $25

Made of a superior quality of Navy Blue Serge, in a variety of styles. Similar to the illustration on the left. Buttons, braids and tailor stitching emphasize the style features.

Millinery of All Types--Diversity Reigns for Dressup Week

THERE is literally a multitude of EASTER Millinery styles for the gratification of the particular.

In the Directorate pokes, shepherdess hats with quaint streamers and very charming Watteau types alone, the selection is seemingly endless.

Not alone are these hats to be had showing the liberal use of trimmings of many pretty kinds, but milliners are meeting the desire for Directorate modes in more tailored forms.

The ribbon bedecked hat is very fashionable and designers are using ribbons in manifold ways that add daintiness and charm to these styles.

Diversity is certainly the keynote of the millinery fashions this year.

Our millinery cases are replenished almost hourly, particularly in those devoted to our models, at $10.00.
