Market and Industrial News of the Day

Grain receipts were fairly liberal though some lighter than last Saturday. Arrivals were 10 cars of wheat, 78 cars of corn, 22 cars of oats, 12 cars of rye and six cars of barley. Corn prices ranged from 2 to 8 cents higher, the extreme advance being obtained for choice white grades. A strong demand from millers for this kind for making corn flour to export was in evidence. All offerings sold readily. Oats were % Gle advance, the bulk a cent up. Rye was unchanged and barley some higher. Wheat was firm.

Chicago, April 5.—Notwithstanding that for distant deliveries corn today touched the highest prices yet this season, weakness prevailed in the market as a whole by reason of increased offerings to arrive from the country. Quotations closed heavy, %c to 5c net lower, with May $1.55\%\partial file file file from 10c decline to 40c advance.

Selling pressure on corn seemed to be directed chiefly against the May delivery. The later months, too, suffered from fluuldation but not until the May-July difference had become 3c narrower than was comparatively light run of hogs Saturday, 91 loads estimated at 6.500 head. Movement was not very brisk, it being nearly noon before the light supply was cleared. The market opened 10c higher and possibly more higher than Friday but eased off towards the close until many hogs soid not over steady Friday's general market. Bulk of sales was $19.00\partial 19.80 with top at $20.00. Generally steady to 10c higher than Friday.

resentatives said he could not find a man who was sending any bids out to rural holders—that buyers were filled up and did not care to accumulate much of a stock at current premiums. Renewed advices that labor difficulties at Buenos Aires were again threatening to curtail Argentine exports had only a transient builtsh effect.

Outs followed corn. For the most part trade was local.

Provisions averaged higher with hogs. Prices for the live animals overtopped all records since September.

French Girl, Hero's Daughter, Educated by Yankee Officers

Paris, April 5.-In France, where charitable institutions are scarcer than in the United States, it frequently happens that people bequeath money for charitable purposes to the French Academy, which is a literary organization founded by Louis XIV, of 40 members who are supposed to be immortal.

As a matter of fact some of them are not widely known while still alive, but as a body the Academy has a reputation for stability, respectability and financial solidity, a reputation that might be envied by a trust company.

There are several hundred literary prizes to be regularly distributed. Some of them are so small that in these days of high prices it is almost insulting to receive them and since the Academy started the custom of splitting them up, some shares do not even pay a respectable restaurant bill. A while ago a disappointed writer asked when the Academy would begin to crown literary works with a dollar reward.

Among the charitable bequests which the worthy literary gentlemen (Marshals Joffre and Foch are among them, and Georges Clemenceau has been elected, after having mocked the Academy all his life) have to administer and distribute are many unusual ones.
