

Hundreds of Omaha Boys Ask Uncle Sam for Work on Farms

The questionnaire which the Department of the Interior has been sending recently to the various camps and naval stations throughout the country, in order to ascertain, for the information of congress, the attitude of the men toward the plan to provide work and homes for them on reclaimed land, are coming back by the thousands signed by men in the army, navy and marine corps who wish to secure one of Uncle Sam's farms when congress passes the bill which will enable the department to begin their construction. Among the 30,000 cards which have been returned up to the present time there are several hundred Omaha and Nebraska boys.

IF RUSSIA HAD PACKERS, NATION WOULD BE SAVED

Lack of Organization Prevents Russian Cattle From Reaching People, Says Head of Armour Publicity.

"The live stock men and the meat packers face a task which has not grown less by reason of the fact that the war is over," said R. D. MacManus of Chicago, head of the publicity department of Armour & Co., who is here preparatory to going out with a party of Omaha live stock commission men on a "booster" trip through several western states. "The live stock raisers and the general public do not appreciate the junction of the packers in the economic life of this country," he said. "I verily believe that if there had been an organized packing industry in Russia, that country would not have fallen down in the war. There are plenty of cattle on the hills of Russia and still the millions in the cities are hungry. The packers are the marketing agents of the live stock producers and the purchasing agents of the meat consumers. There ought to be a greater de-

Bank Officials Save Farmer From Get Rich Quick Scheme

Boone County Man Had Planned to Invest $45,000 in "Grain Deal;" Detectives Notified and Arrested Alleged Promoters of Game.

While Jens Andrews, wealthy Boone county, Neb., farmer, was explaining to two alleged confidence men at Nineteenth and Farnam streets yesterday noon why the First National bank did not let him have $5,000 to invest in a "grain deal," proposed by the strangers, City Detectives Palmatag and Herdzina exploded the conference and arrested the strangers. The men were booked for investigation. They gave their names and addresses as John Murphy, 1248 Baltimore avenue, Kansas City, Mo., and James Davis, Hutchinson, Kas. Andrews was booked as complaining witness. He told police his name was John Hunt, Coleridge, Neb.

Police notified. The arrest was made through the combined efforts of T. L. Davis, vice president, and F. W. Thomas, cashier of the First National bank, who Andrews thanked in glowing terms for having saved his $5,000. Police say that John Murphy and James Davis are the men who tried to swindle a farmer, who sold two carloads of hogs at the South Side market Friday, out of $5,000. Bertillon measurements of both men were taken yesterday. Andrews said he met the strangers Wednesday after he had disposed of three carloads of hogs for $6,000. They said they were "grain men," and were in a position to give tips on the market. Andrews was told that he had won $500 and that he could have the cash any time Friday, one of the two gave Andrews a "tip" that wheat was going up, and $5,000 could bring $10,000 returns. Andrews agreed to get the $5,000 for them. Leaves in Rage. Saturday morning he went to draw the money from the First National bank. He admitted to T. L. Davis and Cashier Thomas that he was making an investment in wheat. The bank officials, suspecting a get-rich scheme, could hardly swerve Andrews from his demands. The farmer left the bank in a rage. Mr. Thomas notified the police. Two detectives followed Andrews to his trusting place with the strangers and made the arrest. The farmer was unaware that he was the near-victim of a swindle until all three landed in jail.

Lt. C. H. Boyles Helps to Find Jobs For Returned Yanks

An important assignment has just been given to Lt. Clifford H. Boyles, son of H. B. Boyles. The lieutenant was on his way to France when the armistice was signed. He was ordered to Camp Lee. Now his task is to assist civilian bodies in finding employment for returned soldiers. Lieutenant Boyles was assigned to the central division.

Red Cross Extends Its Thanks for Donations at Drive for Clothes

The committee of collections and shipment of refugee garments, which had charge of the recent Red Cross relief drive for destitute Europeans, adopted the following vote of thanks to the community for aid given in the recent drive: "The Omaha chapter of the Red Cross wishes to thank those who goy loyally assisted in making the drive for the Red Cross campaign for used clothing, such a success. The newspapers, street-cars, theaters, and moving picture houses, for their advertising, the public schools, the Red Cross motor corps, those who furnished trucks and cars which collected the bundles and which averaged over 200 stops a day, the drug stores where the bundles were delivered, the different citizens who contributed to the donations by giving freely of their supplies which made the drive the success it has been, and by any one who has been instrumental in helping us complete the quota. "Also the owner of the building where the goods were received and packed, and the women of the city who took such a great interest in collecting the clothes for the quota of 35,000 pounds which was allotted to us, and which seemed in the early part of the drive we would not reach."

Big League Pitcher's Dog, Licensed Here, Is Lost in Kentucky

How did Grover Alexander's Boston bull dog get lost at Fort Thomas, Ky.? This refers to Alexander, big league base ball star, now with the American army of occupation overseas. Mrs. Kathryn Newling has written from Fort Thomas, Ky., to City Clerk Hunter, stating that she is caring for a stray bulldog which wears license tag No. 3,019, Omaha 1918 series. Her description of the dog corresponds to the animal for which tag 3019 was issued to Alexander, whose address was given as 2879 Whitmore avenue.

Divorce Courts

Mabel E. Pribyl was granted a divorce from George B. Pribyl by District Judge Troup, sitting in divorce court yesterday. Her request for alimony was denied for the reason that Mr. Pribyl is living in Virginia and any order for alimony that might be made could not be enforced. The Pribyls were married at Glenwood, Ia., in 1913 and came to Omaha in August, 1917. During that month, Mrs. Pribyl alleges, her husband beat and kicked her and then left her. He now lives in Warwick county, Virginia.

A divorce was granted by District Judge Troup, sitting in divorce court yesterday, to Tillie Piper, from James Piper on the ground of non-support. The married life of the Pipers lasted less than a year and Mrs. Piper testified that her husband supported her for only two months after they were married on April 11, 1918. Her maiden name, Houpek, was restored to her.

Mrs. J. Calhoun of Benson received a card Saturday from New York from her son, Delbert Calhoun, telling of his safe arrival with the Ninety-first division of machine gun battalion from France, where he has been stationed for a year.

Wallace R. Williams says his wife, Birdie, deserted him two years ago and went to California to live. He filed suit yesterday in district court, asking for a divorce from her. They were married in Blair in 1893.
