

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

A few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur bring back its vigor, color, gloss, and youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. While wispy, gray, faded hair is not stung, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Adv.

WATER POWER BILL PASSED BY STATE SENATE

Will Permit Construction of City Plant in Omaha To Compete With Nebraska Company.

(By Staff Correspondent.) Lincoln, April 9.—(Special Telegram.)—Senate File 240, a water power bill, sponsored by R. B. Howell, passed the senate on third reading Wednesday morning. The bill was amended by Senator Peterson and its provisions will make it possible to organize a water power district, with the right of eminent domain, for the purpose of developing hydro-electric energy, on a petition signed by 10 per cent of the electors to call an election and 51 per cent of the voters to carry the proposition. The bill, it is said, will enable Lincoln and Omaha to join in the creation of a water power district and erect a power plant at Fremont, and under its provisions acquire power sites at any point in the state for the development of power. It also said that the law is broad enough to permit the erection of an auxiliary steam plant, and this feature, it is said, is one which the general manager of the Omaha water plant can avail himself of in constructing a plant to compete with the Nebraska Power company. This latter probability is a basis for the complaint that Howell has broken faith in the gentlemen's agreement entered into by the officials of the Nebraska Power company and himself at the time they agreed to kill House Roll 240.

SEVERE STORM HITS NEBRASKA; HEAVY SNOW FALL

Livestock Men Fear Big Losses Among Sheep Raisers in Western Part of State.

The storm that has been hanging over Wyoming and Colorado has started east and yesterday, according to morning reports to the railroad, was the most severe over central Nebraska. It was not cold, temperatures ranging from 24 to 40 degrees above zero. Western Nebraska, so say reports to the railroads, is covered with snow to a depth of one to three feet. The area buried beneath the snow is something like 100 miles wide and extends from far up in Wyoming, down through Colorado and into Kansas. Snow Began Sunday. In Wyoming and Colorado snow commenced to fall Sunday night and continued until Tuesday night, when clearing weather set in. Moving east, the storm hit western Nebraska early Monday and still continues. Around Alliance, Bridgeport, Sidney, McCook and numerous other towns in the western part of the state there has been a continuous fall of snow and sleet since Monday morning. In many localities the snow melted nearly as rapidly as it fell, but generally the temperature was a little above freezing. However, the snow was so wet and heavy that it did not blow, and consequently during the continuance of the storm there has been nothing akin to a blizzard. Over Wide Area. Yesterday reports indicated heavy snow as far east as Hastings, Grand Island and Norfolk, with a steady rain farther east and well over into Iowa. Trains are moving on practically schedule time, the storm not interfering to any great extent. Live stock agents are apprehensive and are of the opinion that the heavy snow will result in heavy losses among the sheepmen of western Nebraska, Colorado and Wyoming. It is said that snow and a fall as heavy as the one of this week will be fatal to lambs. Heaviest Rain of Season. Beatrice, Neb., April 9.—(Special Telegram.)—With the heaviest rain

Aged War Veteran Finds That He Did Not Comply With Law. After waiting 10 years to learn whether he had really proved up on a 160-acre homestead in Hooper county, Neb., John M. Andrews, aged civil war veteran, living at 1903 Vinton street, has learned, through a decision by Federal Judge Munger, that he had not complied with homestead laws, and that his homestead was once more the property of the United States. Andrews admitted at a recent hearing that he had merely filed on the land, visited it once, and received his patent after the required length of time. He immediately sold the land to Reuben W. Mahaffy, of Hooper county, for $100. The transaction took place in 1903. The land was later conveyed to F. S. Albright, a resident of the same county, who, the same day, transferred the land back to Mahaffy's wife. The government filed a suit against Mahaffy in 1909 to revoke the patent. Mrs. Mahaffy declared she was an innocent purchaser. The case was decided yesterday by Judge Munger, and the decision received by Deputy Attorney Peters today.

STATE RAILWAY COMMISSION ATTACKS RATES

Federal Railroad Representatives Go Before Neb. Supreme Court to Defend Intra-state Express Rates.

Lincoln, April 9.—Three representatives of different departments of the federal government appeared before the Nebraska supreme court Wednesday to defend the right of the director general to initiate intra-state express rates in Nebraska, which are attacked by the Nebraska railway commission in an application to the court for a writ of mandamus to compel the American Railway Express company to install the commission's rates, instead of those originated by the administration. Government representatives were former Senator Norris Brown of Omaha, counsel in Nebraska for the express company; Judge R. V. Fletcher of Washington, D. C., representing Director General Walker D. Hines, and Blackburn Esterline of Washington, D. C., special assistant to Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer. Congress Authorized Change. The Nebraska commission was represented by its counsel, Hugh La Master and Commissioner V. W. Wilson. The commission contended that the act of congress authorizing the taking over of American transportation lines, while allowing the president to initiate rates, made them subject to revision, under the interstate commerce commission law which deals only with interstate rates and leaves all intrastate rate-making power in the hands of state commissions. Attorney La Master raised a point that the federal rates had been made after the signing of the armistice and the war emergency had been declared past by President Wilson. The argument of the defense was that the act of congress placing all police powers in the hands of the president gave the president exclusive power over rates. Final Hearing Postponed. The commission's suit was filed as an original action in the Nebraska supreme court, December 31, and an alternative writ was issued, requiring the American railway express to install the Nebraska rates or show cause. The express company put the federal rates into effect the following day, January 1. The final hearing on the issue has been postponed from time to time to allow government officials to prepare their defense. Piles Cured in 6 to 14 Days. Druggists refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding piles. Stops Irritation, Swelling and Heals. You can get relief sleep after the first application. Price 60c.

The drive to raise $300,000 for a bigger and worthier home for Omaha working girls which started Monday is being favorably received and well supported. Several large donations exceeding $1,000 have already been subscribed for. One contributor gave Capt. Penn Rodger of ward 3, subdivision No. 1 a $500 Liberty bond with the following remark: "I am doing this because I can think of no finer way of making $500 do the work of $1,000 than by donating this Liberty bond to help the cause of protecting our friendless working girls." Mrs. P. Jolly, another worker, reports 37 calls and a donation from each person called upon. Subscriptions exceeding $8,000 were the result of the first day's drive.

Farmers' Assns. May Handle Implements at Market Prices. By a Staff Correspondent. Lincoln, Neb., April 9.—Legislative history of former sessions repeated itself today when the house killed a bill to establish a state board of accountability. It was S. F. 32, the Robbins bill, to make all public accountants pay a fee to the state and secure a license. It was indefinitely postponed in the committee of the whole. Opponents of the measure claimed that it had been intended to create a monopoly in that business. S. F. 226, the Peterson bill, enabling farmers' co-operative associations to participate in the ownership of terminal elevators, mills and other agencies for handling farm products at market points, was advanced by the house to third reading. Another bill approved was S. F. 126, raising the limit of bonded indebtedness in second-class cities from 10 to 15 per cent of the assessed valuation. Attorney General Davis and Senators Peterson and Cordell of the senate committee in charge of the code bill, agreed upon this action today. Although all three doubted the interpretation placed on S. CO-OPERATIVE BANK BILL GETS HEARTY SUPPORT

Farmers' Associations May Distribute Profits to Stockholders or Members; Measure Goes Third Reading.

Lincoln, April 9.—(Special.)—After a motion to postpone indefinitely the farmers' co-operative bank bill failed in the house Wednesday morning, the measure was advanced to third reading. The bill authorizes farmers' co-operative banks to distribute their profits on the co-operative plan. The motion by Mr. Gerhart to kill the bill was voted down, 29 to 52. Before the bill was sent to third reading, Mr. Jeary had it amended by substituting the words "stockholders or members" instead of "depositors," the purpose being to remove an objection that co-operative banks would violate the guaranty law if they should rebate profits to depositors so as to give them more than a 5 per cent return, that being the limit of interest which may be paid by banks to depositors. Osterman Leads Fight. Mr. Osterman, minority leader, who piloted the grain exchange bill, the Union Pacific right-of-way bill, and the hail insurance bill through the house, also led the fight in behalf of the co-operative bank bill. Mr. Jeary declared that the bill was class legislation and he wouldn't support it on that account. To this objection, Mr. Osterman replied that practically every bill introduced involved some kind of class legislation. Farmers Control Banks. The idea that the banking business is a monopoly and that it yields "fabulous profits" was scouted by Mr. Good, a banker. He said that nearly all the small towns of the state have banks organized and controlled by farmers, which compete with the other banks. He had voted for the grain exchange bill because that involved a monopoly.
