

RED CROSS WILL MAKE REPORT ON OMAHA TORNADO

Central Division Investigator to Co-operate With Local Chapter; More Storm
Damage Discovered.

The Omaha Chapter American Red Cross is preparing to make a survey of the housing situation in the tornado district. A special committee of three prominent real estate men has been appointed to assist the committee on disaster relief, which consists of Mrs. Charles M. Wilhelm and Gould Dietz. It is the intention of the Omaha chapter to assist in every way in its power all needy cases, and to help them get back to normal conditions.

Miss R. McHugh, special representative from the central division headquarters, Chicago, is here to confer with the Omaha chapter and to assist in every way possible. Walter S. Jardine will be in charge of this relief work, with offices in the court house, and may be called at Tyler 2721.

Farm House Wrecked.
Mrs. Alfred Schalek and Miss Helen McCaffrey, Red Cross investigators, discovered an isolated scene of destruction three miles north of Krug park, at the farm of John A. Johnson. The house and stables were wrecked and the buildings were strewn over a wide area. Three horses and a lot of hogs were killed. Several of the animals were mangled by pieces of timber. Mr. Johnson, widower, lived at this place with five children, a 17-year-old daughter keeping house.

The Johnsons escaped injury by seeking shelter in a cyclone cellar when Oscar, 12-year-old boy yelled, "Beat it to the cyclone cellar." The boy saw the approaching destruction. Mr. Johnson carried no insurance. Friends in Benson are raising a subscription. The Red Cross has provided clothing and bedding. The Johnsons are living temporarily with Mr. and Mrs. William Abenroth, neighbors.

Saved In Cellar.
These Red Cross women also visited the home of Henry Henninger, Fifty-fourth street and Nebraska avenue, where husband, wife and eight children were protected in their cyclone cellar. The house was badly wrecked and cows, hogs and chickens were killed. Herman, a son, returned last Saturday night from military service. He was wounded overseas. A new automobile was blown into a field and wrecked.

Find Needy Case.
Visitations also were made to the home of John Murnane, 922 South Fifty-first avenue. This home represented the savings of 35 years and was seriously damaged. Thomas, one of two sons in military service, recently returned. Mrs. Murnane is seriously ill of pneumonia in a hospital.

The case of Mrs. Mary Morgan, colored, 4719 Hamilton street, was reported through the mayor's office. Mayor Smith announced that arrangements are being made through the building and loan associations to assist those who need money to rebuild or reconstruct. This line of relief was given after the storm in 1913. There are a few instances of victims owning their property, homes destroyed, and no insurance. All of the injured are reported as recovering. Frances Micklen, who is at the University hospital, is not out of danger, but she was feeling brighter yesterday.

Members of the families of N. G. Harter and Frank Drexel are all on the mend.

Thirteen Are Arrested and Fined for Speeding

Every one of the persons arrested for speeding Tuesday, 13 of them, were fined in police court this morning.

Those arrested and fined were: Vinton Myer, 2704 South Twenty-fifth avenue, $2.50 and costs; Roy Wassco, 1611 Leavenworth, $15; Alfred Madsen, Seventeenth and Dodge streets, $15; H. E. Ralston, Hunter Inn, $15; J. A. McNeil, 1404 North Sixteenth, $15; Paul W. Jones, 3834 Florence boulevard, $10; William Kruse, Bennington, Neb., $15; Nels Anderson, 1718 Cuming, $10; George Beck, 4212 Grant, $5; W. J. Wilkinson, 3102 Woolworth, $10; Fred Sebolt, Arlington, Neb., $10; H. J. Hart, West Dodge, $15, and R. S. Edmunds, Florence, $2.50.

South Side PRICE OF BULK HOGS AT S. SIDE MARKET HIGH

Average Run of Stock
Brings Higher Prices
Than Ever Paid
Before.

Hogs, still upward bound, reached $20.35 per hundred on the South Side market Wednesday morning. This is 5 cents below the highest price ever paid for hogs on this market. In September of last year a record of $20.40 was set. For the first time in the history of the South Side market the average went above the $20 mark. Both the bulk of the hogs and the average brought higher prices than were ever before paid on this market.

No adequate explanation of the steady increase in hog prices since the annulment of all government restrictions can be made by either the commission men or the packers. Many of those interested in the production and marketing of hogs ascribe to a prevalent and widespread belief that a shortage of hogs exists and will soon manifest itself on the market. Receipts for this season are but little below the average of other years, but it is pointed out that the prevailing high prices are inducing hog raisers to market all their crop before a decline begins. Sixteen thousand hogs were received on the South Side market Wednesday.

Witnesses in Socha Manslaughter Case Withhold Testimony

An obvious inclination on the part of the witnesses to withhold evidence of an incriminatory nature marked the preliminary hearing of John Petroski and Jacob Kobielak, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of A. Socha, who was inflated with compressed air on the canning floor of the Cudahy Packing company, March 27, and died two days later.

The hearing was held before Police Judge Fitzgerald Wednesday morning at the South Side police court. Decision in the case will be given this morning. The charge will either be dismissed or the two men will be bound over to the district court on the charge of manslaughter.

Police Chauffeur Prevents Negro From Knife Attack

Prompt action on the part of Police Chauffeur Earl Risk is believed to have saved Detective Franc from serious injuries and possible death Wednesday morning about 11 o'clock.

Suspicious actions on the part of Charles David, colored, giving his address as Gilmore, Neb., caused Detective Franc to take him into custody. Twenty-fourth and N streets. He was conducting the negro to the station. The black suddenly slipped his hand into his pocket and withdrew it grasping a long, broad-bladed knife. The blade flew open by pressure on a spring. Risk, who was walking behind the negro, grasped the negro's arm and wrested the knife from him.

When searched a razor also was found in possession of David.

Mother of 11 Children Asks Immediate Divorce

Mrs. Margaret Wolf, mother of 11 children and a wife for 20 years, filed suit yesterday in district court for a separation from George Wolf. She declares that she "has endured the hellish conduct of the defendant for several years but can endure it no longer."

He has repeatedly brandished a revolver, she says, and threatened to kill her and members of the family. The wife says he "takes pride in terrorizing her and the children and frequently gratifies his brutal tendencies by placing them in abject fear of death by threatening to kill them."

The Wolf home is at Thirty-first and R streets. Wolf is employed by the Morris Packing company and the petition states, he earns $250 a month.

They were married in Omaha in 1899. Seven of their 11 children are still living. The mother asks $30 a week separate maintenance. She also asks two injunctions, one to prevent her husband from withdrawing money in the Live Stock National bank and the other to restrain him from molesting her and their children.

Case of Policeman Tried for Bribery Awaits Witnesses

Absence of the principal state witness in the trial of Jesse Black before Judge Redick and a jury in district court yesterday afternoon, brought the case to a close for the day at 4:30 o'clock, when Judge Redick, at the request of County Attorney Shotwell, issued a bench warrant for Gladys Thompson.

Mrs. Thompson and Emma Brown escaped from the home of the defendant, Twenty-second street and St. Marys avenue, November 29, 1918, and Black, a special policeman at the institution, is on trial, charged with having accepted a bribe of $50 to help them escape.

George Thompson, husband of Gladys Thompson, testified yesterday afternoon that Black came to his home, 709 North Eighteenth street, November 26, with a note from Mrs. Thompson stating that he should give Black $100 and that Black would then permit her to escape.

He said he gave Black $50 at the time and agreed to give him $50 more at the institution that night. He and Frank Burns, he said, went to the detention home as agreed and offered the $50 in marked bills, which, he testified, Black refused to receive because, he said, Mrs. Thompson was about to be released "because her blood test was pure."

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and pre-pare shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One teaspoonful will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulified coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.
