"Welcome Home" Celebration Will Give Omaha Opportunity to Applaud Work of Soldiers and Sailors.

Interest in the "Welcome-Home" parade on Monday, April 21, the first day of the Victory Liberty loan drive, centers in the section in which all returned service men, officers and privates of both army and navy will march. These men will be Omaha's honored guests on "Welcome-Home day" which will wear their uniforms and march as a separate section of the parade, that they may receive the plaudits accorded to them.

Workshops will be established in the rotunda of the court house for 10 wounded soldiers from Camp Dodge, who will come during the Victory Liberty loan drive to demonstrate the work done in re-educating men incapacitated by wounds from resuming their former vocations. There will be an office, in which will be a one-legged bookkeeper, a stenographer with one arm, and a man without legs, who uses an adding machine. The shops and office will be open for business when the drive for the Victory Liberty loan begins Monday, April 21. The men, under Lt. George B. France, who has a large acquaintance among Omahans, will arrive here April 16 or 17. One man will do vulcanizing; another will mend batteries and electric bells; another will write show cards—this one a former cartoonist, who lost an arm. Photographs will be taken of one of the shops, and a first-class printer will be there to set up advertisements or other matter. Also a carpenter, skilled in making models. A mimeographer will be on hand to undertake duplication of circulars and similar work. There are 320 lots in that addition, lying high and slightly; has no improvements on it at all at the present time, except a new church, built a few years ago upon Forty-fifth street and Poppleton avenue.

AT THE THEATERS

Don C. Alonzo Zelaya, son of the ex-president of Nicaragua, eminent concert pianist appearing at the Orpheum is 29 years old, and one of 11 children, all born in the president's home in Nicaragua. He was formerly attached to the Nicaraguan legation in Washington. When the war interrupted his concert career in Europe, he appeared on the vaudeville stage in America. Zelaya made his first appearance as a child prodigy at the age of 8, playing the most difficult composition. A the age of 12 he was sent abroad to receive the finishing touches of his musical education by the best masters of Europe. Following his real debut in Paris, France, he made a concert tour of continental Europe, playing all the large cities.

Those jazz dancing elephants weighing 15 tons, at the Orpheum this week, accomplish some remarkable feats. In a battle scene one of them is wounded, as is the trainer. The Red Cross elephant assists the wounded animal to the hospital. A number of other popular acts are presented this week. One stellar feature is contributed by the singing comedienne, Rae Samuels, and another is the song fantasy and allegory, "White Coupons." Foster Ball, in his portrayal of a civil war veteran, is one of the most laughable elements of the show. On Saturday night, the curtain will rise earlier than usual, 7:50 o'clock sharp.

"Who is Boelke?" in the play "Three Faces East," which promises to crowd the Brandeis theater to its very doors for the last performance tonight, the entire machinery of the English Secret Service is set in motion to trap Franz Boelke, Germany's master spy, who, with a web of boche emissaries is plotting in London the overthrow of the allied cause. Yet with such consummate skill has this prize melodrama been constructed, the audiences are unable to discover the arch-plotter through the three hours of intensive guessing.

Murdoch, the mystic, entertained a large number of ladies at an exclusive matinee yesterday at the Boyd, where he is giving exhibitions of his remarkable psychic power this week. He answers any question submitted, besides presenting a number of interesting tricks and illusions. Another matinee on Saturday.

This is the day of the two final performances of "Oh, Girl!" at the Gayety. Late tonight a big force will immediately begin the all-night job of erecting the 50,000-gallon tank to be used by the six diving bells for their fancy swimming exhibition, one of the novel vaudeville acts with the "Hip, Hip, Hooray! Girls," whose engagement opens tomorrow matinee for a week. Ben Pierce is the principal comedian and Helen McClain-Helfrage is the prima donna of the big company. Ladies' matinee today and tomorrow at 2:15.

Neil O'Brien, blackface comedian, with a company composed of the best minstrel talent in America, will be the attraction at the Brandeis theater tomorrow matinee and night. There are forty comedians, dancers and singers; a varied and interesting program; the jokes are new, the songs are the latest, and the feature acts are novel and high-class.

Most interested and enthusiastic of all the all-star cast during the making of "The Common Cause," were Mr. Blackton's two children, Violet, 8 years of age, and Charles Stuart, "going on" 5. The Blackton children do real work in "The Common Cause," and their playlets of the roles of two little French refugees well please many admirers. "The Common Cause" will be seen at the Brandeis theater starting Sunday.

"The Riviera Girl," Klaw and Erlanger's big musical comedy production, will be seen at the Brandeis Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 24, 25 and 26. The story and the lyrics are by Guy Bolton and P. G. Wodehouse. One of the best bills of the season opened at the Empress theater yesterday. The feature act, offered by Zelaya, the eminent concert pianist, is a treat to music lovers. Another feature act is the miniature musical revue, "Mme. Thea and Her Candidates," featuring the original balloon girl. The comedy bit of the bill is the playlet, "Pinched," by Nesbet Scoville and associated players. Harmony singing, dancing and a smart line of comedy patter constitute the act offered by Keane and Walsh. Another of O. Henry's famous short stories is brought to the screen in "The Unknown Quantity," the Corinne Griffith picture.

Knox alleges extreme cruelty by her husband, Henry, in a petition for divorce filed in district court. They were married July 6, 1918 in Hastings, Neb. Etta Ammon has filed suit in district court for a divorce from George Ammon on the grounds of alleged cruelty. They were married at Bas-set, Neb., in 1912. Glenn Durand says in a petition filed for divorce in district court that his wife, Nellie, deserted him in February, 1915, five years after their marriage and that she came to their home during his absence two months later and removed all the furniture. He asks a divorce and custody of their child.

Strike Ends When Government Troops Reach City of Essen

Berlin, April 10.—Government troops are reported to have entered Essen and to have occupied the Krupp plant, which had been seized by the Essen strikers. The result of the intervention by the government forces, the advices state, was that two-thirds of the workmen resumed their labors. The people of Essen, the messages add, became greatly excited during the operations of the troops, the latter having thrown hand grenades in the midst of a crowd plundering a baggage van. From Saxony much unrest is reported. The communists in southwestern Saxony have issued a demand that Saxony be made a soviet republic, while the metal workers at Zwickau, southwest of Chemnitz, and a large proportion of the Saxon miners, have gone on strike. All the employees of the larger Berlin banks have struck with the exception of those of the Handels-gesellschaft.

Financial Condition of Germany Set Forth at National Assembly

Weimar, April 10.—Germany's financial condition was set forth by Minister of Finance Schiffer today in addressing the national assembly on the budget for 1919. Treasury bills on January 31, said the minister, amounted to 58,300,000,000 marks and have since raised to 63,700,000,000 marks. The expenditure for the army and navy had fallen from 3,500,000,000 marks in January to 2,000,000,000 marks in March. The budget, the minister stated, balanced at roughly 13,000,000,000 marks, which meant an addition of 5,700,000,000 marks as compared with last year, and the deficit would not be less than 7,500,000,000 marks. Dr. Schiffer said the budget did not represent all the consequences of the war, such as indemnities payable to the entente. He made an urgent appeal for economy, but said that one unavoidable item of additional expenditures was 1,600,000,000 marks, representing increases of salary for officials, this being rendered necessary by the increased cost of living.
