Supreme Court of United States Sustains Injunction to Prevent Company Boosting Charge.

Washington, April 14.—Federal court decrees dismissing injunction proceedings brought to restrain city officials of Columbus, O., from preventing the Columbus Street Railway company from increasing its fares, owing to increased operating expenses due principally to an award of the war labor board, were sustained today by the supreme court in disposing of appeals brought by the company and its stockholders.

In Point in Omaha.

"This decision of the supreme court of the United States evidently sustains the city of Columbus in resisting the attempt of the street railway company to increase its fares," said Corporation Counsel W. C. Lambert.

"I am sending for an abstract of the case, as it is of interest in view of the case pending here," he added.

"In the Columbus case, the street railway company put its increased rate into effect and then the city came in with its opposition. I note that the company there based its increased rates largely on an award made by the War Labor board, which the Omaha company did."

"In our case the street railway company filed its application before the State Railway commission and the city entered its objection. This case has gone to the supreme court of Nebraska and will be called up for hearing next month."

"I regard the action of the supreme court of the United States, in the Columbus case as significant in establishing a precedent."

Attorney John L. Webster of the street railway company stated that he would have to know more about the Columbus case before he could discuss it intelligently.

British Command Indirect Cause for Mutiny of Yanks

Soldier, Back from Russia, Says American Officer Struck Down Britisher — U. S. Supplies Withheld by English and Substituted by Insufficient British Provisions.

(By Universal Service.)

Detroit, April 14.—News of the near mutiny of American troops under British command in Russia struck the responsive heart chords of western Michigan mothers here, scores of whom have not heard from their sons, fighting in that far off land, for many months.

Although patriotic to the fullest extent the parents of boys in service in Russia seemed to have expected just such an occurrence. One boy in writing home told his mother that he didn't know with whom or for what he was fighting, but that he was making forced marches through heavy snow almost daily.

Urged Son's Release.
Most western Michigan parents of men in Russia have made strenuous efforts to secure the releases of their sons from the service owing to the conditions set forth by the men in letters since their arrival there.

George Albers of Muskegon, in writing to his wife of but a few months said:
"Well, I am a prisoner here with the bolsheviki, but am being treated as well as could be expected under the conditions. I never have enough to eat, but always get my share when it is passed around. I am sorry for the boys who are doing the fighting in this Godforsaken hole."

Glenn L. Shannon of Grand Rapids, returned fighter from Russia, invalidated home recently, said:
"The mutiny of members of the 339th infantry has been brewing since the moment the first British officer gave the first command to an American soldier after the boys from Michigan arrived in the Arctic wilderness last September. Occasions have been numerous where American soldiers have gone so far as to refuse openly to obey or salute British officers, and upon one occasion I recall I know of an American officer striking to the ground a British officer of highest rank."

"What else may be expected when American soldiers are bullied by men of another nationality when they are forced to live for weeks in the swamps under conditions worse than the wild beasts of the forest experience, starved, ragged and crushed, and with the expectation of being murdered in cold blood any minute of the day or night?"

"Why are they under British command, fed on British supplies of insufficient quantities when they have a better commanding officer of their own on the ground and have better supplies of the American stuff, but withheld by the British?"

"They are a game bunch of fighters, the 339th, and from what I know of them and what I saw of them as a whole they are not afraid to go through hell itself, but not for a British commander."

Socialist Leader Begins Sentence as Clerk in Hospital
Wheeling, W. Va., April 14.—Eugene V. Debs, socialist leader, sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment at the Moundsville penitentiary, near here, for violation of the espionage act, began his term today as a clerk in the prison hospital.

Warden Terrell said he had intended to assign Debs to the library, but decided he would be the object of too much curiosity there and gave him the clerkship, the lightest work in the institution, because of his age.

Before he began work this morning, the warden told Debs he would be well treated as long as he complied with the prison regulations and the only special requirement in his case was that he refrain from preaching any of his doctrines, which Debs agreed to do. When Debs was measured for a prison suit it was found the regulation trousers were too short and a special pair will have to be made.

SUPPORTERS OF IOWA GOVERNOR CONTROL HOUSE

Friends of Harding Confident That Impeachment Will Be Squelched in Lower Branch of the Legislature.

Des Moines, Ia., April 14.—Friends of Gov. W. L. Harding in the Iowa house of representatives asserted today an informal poll of the house assured them of sufficient votes to defeat the judiciary committee's recommendation for impeachment of the chief executive for his part in the Ernest Rathbun pardon case.

Fifty-five affirmative votes would be necessary to impeach the governor, as a majority of the constitutional membership of 108 is required. Harding supporters who have made the poll declared from 65 to 70 votes would be cast against impeachment.

The judiciary committee was to meet in executive session at 3 o'clock this afternoon to receive the reports formulated by subcommittees and complete them for publication to the house tomorrow.

It was declared likely four reports would be made to the house—two majority and two minority. Impeachment of Governor Harding and exoneration of Attorney General H. M. Havner would be the majority recommendations, while minority reports, it was indicated unofficially, would recommend censure for both officials.

A number of prominent republican leaders from various parts of the state were in Des Moines today and several of them were at the state house.
