

WOMAN'S SECTION OF THE BEE

The world is yet in the twilight, doubtless, but it is the twilight of the breaking dawn, not the falling night. Despair of the world's future is disloyalty to God.—G. B. Wilcox.

I have seen a very poor young man in love. His hat was old, his coat worn and out at elbow, the water passed through his shoes, and the stars through his soul.—Victor Hugo.

Victory Loan Notes

All workers for the Victory loan will meet Saturday at 1 o'clock at the Auditorium to join the parade. The parade will march to Brandeis theater where they will view the "Price of Peace."

Patriotic songs composed by Mrs. Harvey Griffin and Miss Lillian Paul, workers for the Victory loan, will be shown on the screen Saturday at the movie, "The Price of Peace." Equal Pay and Minimum Wage for Women Is Urged in Spain

Establishment of a minimum wage and provision of equal pay for men and women on farm work are among the recommendations of the General Union of Workmen of Spain recently adopted, according to an article in the March number of the Monthly Labor Review, United States Bureau of Labor Statistics. The minimum wage should be established on the basis of the cost of living, in the opinion of the union.

Other recommendations are: Prohibition of employment of women and children on work out of proportion to their physical strength, establishment of more schools, subventions for schools for apprentices, and establishment of technical agricultural instruction in rural schools.

The union also urges amendment of the present workmen's compensation law so as to cover agricultural and all other workers now excluded from the benefits of the law; compensation for occupational diseases; payment in full of wages during disability; and compulsory state insurance.

Oysters on Toast.

Fry a sweet pepper and a small onion, both of which have been chopped fine, in a tablespoon of butter. Now add a pint of oysters with the liquid, well seasoned with salt and paprika, and cook until the edges of the oysters turn up, or for about five minutes. Serve on hot buttered toast and this may be prepared in a chafing dish if preferred.

When you wash silver or glass add a teaspoonful of borax to the suds. Rinse well in hot water and polish with a linen cloth which sheds no lint.

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Dear Miss Fairfax: We are triplets and are constant readers of this column. We are 16 years old and are very popular with the boys. Is it all right to go to public dances, but for all right for boys to kiss us good night? Our boy friends are 20, 24 and 28 years old.

How long should they stay at an evening call? We use paint and rouge and think that it does wonderful work. We have blue eyes, and all look alike so people can hardly tell us apart. We are very anxious. Please answer through The Bee. Thanking you in advance.

FROM THE TRIPLETS. Public dances are all right for those poor souls who have no better way to amuse themselves, but for girls who have homes and parents I think public dances are a cheap form of amusement. Your boy friends should not stay late, and they will not if they are well reared.

Fresh Traveling Men. My Dear Miss Fairfax: I am a young girl, 18 years of age. Now my trouble is just this—I am homesick. I frankly believe it to be the worst disease anyone ever had.

This is my first attempt at typewriting so I am unable to determine if my knowledge of said instrument is sufficient to produce desired results or not. What I would like to know is, may I write to you? I have no one of interest to write to and I believe that we could carry on a rather interesting correspondence through your column.

I could perhaps have a friend if I didn't have to work all day in an office. And, by the way, what makes most traveling men so fresh with a working girl? I won't make my letter too long, Miss Fairfax, and please answer my question. Very respectfully, BETTY.

Lonesomeness causes all sorts. You may write to me as often as you like if that helps to make your life more interesting. Friends are as easily found in an office as elsewhere so do not feel discouraged. I really cannot tell you what makes traveling men so "fresh," but I am inclined to think most of them try to live up to their reputation of having a "different girl in every port." Then, too, many traveling men are "fresh" before they begin to travel. Some of them lack refinement and good breeding. Travel should "polish" a person if they are right at heart, but it surely ruins one whose tendencies are leaning to the vulgar, anyway.

Information. Dear Miss Fairfax: Will you kindly put the name and address of the lonely Bach, whose letter was in your column in Thursday evening's Bee, in Friday evening's Bee? Could you also tell me why they do not print "One Woman's Way," the continued story which is running in the World-Herald on Sunday, and do they print it in the morning?

The annual convention of the Canadian Council of Agriculture held recently in Winnipeg was attended by women delegates, for the first time in the history of the organization.
