

GOV. M'KELVIE TO REVIEW V-LOAN PARADE MONDAY

Nebraska's Executive Will Introduce Evangelist Billy Sunday at Auditorium Mass Meeting.

Governor McKelvie will come from Lincoln Monday to review the great Victory Liberty Loan "Welcome Home" parade which will inaugurate the drive for $9,171,550, Omaha's quota in the new loan. The governor will give up a part of his holiday to review men who went out to fight for their country and who now have returned home again.

The governor will watch the parade from court house square, where he will have the Rev. Billy Sunday to help him.

Afterwards the governor will go to the Municipal Auditorium and will introduce Mr. Sunday who will address the marchers and the public on the necessity of putting the loan over.

Mr. Sunday will leave Omaha at 4:25 Monday afternoon, going to Denver, where he will probably make a Victory Liberty Loan speech.

With the governor and Mr. Sunday on the stand will be Chairman T. C. Byrne, of the state Victory Liberty Loan committee; Congressman A. W. Jeffers, ex-Senator J. H. Millard, ex-Senator Norris W. Brown, ex-Congressman C. O. Locke and Col. Gonzales Bingham, ranking military officer in Omaha, who will receive the parade at the stand for the guests assembled there.

Capt. Walter S. Byrne, adjutant to Col. F. A. Grant for the Victory Loan "Welcome Home" parade, is planning to simplify the difficulties in finding locations in the parade.

Posted up in full view will be placards showing which divisions and which sections of these divisions are to form at particular places. For instance; a placard bearing this legend "4. C." would show that was the place of gathering for Red Cross officials and workers, who are in section C of the fourth division of the parade.

A placard with "3. B." would indicate the place of meeting for Spanish war veterans, who will form the second of B section of division No. 3.

Each section of each division will find a placard showing his or her division, indicated by the number, and their place in the division by the letter.

Each section of each division will find a placard showing his or her division, indicated by the number, and their place in the division by the letter.

Raymond G. Young, chairman of the speakers' committee for the Victory Liberty loan, has arranged the schedule for the noon meetings at the court house during the week beginning Monday, April 21.

Tuesday Mayor Smith will talk at the court house square, Wednesday Judge A. C. Wakely will be the orator, Thursday William Burton will speak, Friday Secretary of the Treasury Carter Glass will review the great 100 per cent parade and Saturday Judge Lee S. Estelle will be the speaker.

Donahue was ordered to pay $30 a month for the support of their three children. He was given the privilege of visiting them once a week. He has lived up to the order strictly. Twice a month he has paid $15 into the district court to be turned over to the mother of his children.

In connection with her petition to have her former husband held in contempt of court because he took his son from the mother, Mrs. Harley filed a motion that Mr. Donahue be compelled to increase his monthly payments of alimony from $30 to $45.

Donahue is a switchman in the employ of the Union Stock Yards company. His wife married again about a year ago.

Practically every congregation in Omaha will hear of the Victory Liberty loan Easter Sunday, for pledges to speak of the loan during the services Sunday have been received by Raymond G. Young, chairman of the speakers' committee. Victory Liberty loan, from almost every clergyman in the city.

The peculiar appropriateness of the appeal on Easter Sunday is felt by the churchmen and they have readily agreed to devote a part of their Easter sermons to a dissertation on the loan. The day celebrates the victory of righteousness over death and the grave; the coming of peace to the world.

Marion Rathie filed suit today in district court for a divorce from Carl Rathie who, she says, is her common law husband. She says they entered into a mutual agreement to live together as husband and wife, November 21, 1918.

She owns a rooming house at 301 North Eighteenth street and alleges that she has mainly supported her husband and herself from the earnings from the rooming house. She charges that he talked cruelly to her, shook her, struck her with various articles and continually fought and quarreled with her.

Irish Self-Determination May Become Part of Issue

Irish-American Delegation in Conference With Wilson—American Peace Delegates Said to Be Favorably Inclined for Creation of Irish Republic.

By WILLIAM J. BUTLER, (Special Correspondent at International Service) Paris, April 18.—"Within a week or ten days Ireland's peace delegates, Prof. De Valera, Griffiths and Count Horace Plunkett are to be invited to the peace conference and they are going to place Ireland's case before the 'big four.'"

This confidential prediction was made to Universal Service in an exclusive interview today by Mr. J. Ryan, of Philadelphia, a member of the American Irish peace delegation, after "five or six days of careful soundings" in Paris.

Place Hope in Wilson. "We all place all our hope in President Wilson," Ryan declared, "and I can safely say that as a result of our work here in the past few days this hope will be justified. Underneath the surface of American diplomacy at the peace conference there is a gradual breaking down of barriers against Ireland and the threadworn excuse that America cannot diplomatically at this time come out openly for Ireland, is rapidly disappearing."

"The Irish-American peace delegation has mapped out its program. The peace conferences invitation to Ireland's delegates is the first step. I cannot discuss the second step now but I can tell the Irish back home that Ireland's case looks bright."

"France has gone out of her way to be kindly and considerate of the comfort of our delegates. The French government even had a special representative to meet us at the boat to expedite the handling of our luggage without subjecting it to search; France has cordially invited us about the whole country as honored guests. That is not only the attitude of France but is rapidly becoming the attitude of nearly the whole peace conference as I see it."

America Wants Settlement. "The civilized nations of the world are beginning to realize that there never will be a league of nations and there never will be universal peace with Ireland left seething in her present state of malcontent and unrest. It is not only best for Ireland but best for Great Britain that his question be settled now. And what is more, America wants it settled now."

"My colleague, Frank P. Walsh, I believe, controls a greater part of American labor than any other living man and I said that with Samuel Gompers and others in mind. Unless Ireland is given justice and freedom there is a dread thought of the consequences."

Ryan hinted that the Irish-American triumvirate had been closeted with high American personages in Paris with good results, but he refused to reveal any names.

Call On Wilson. President Wilson late yesterday afternoon received the Irish-American delegation. Walsh was spokesman, representing not only himself, but also former Governor Dunne of Illinois and Ryan. He urged Ireland's right to become a republic.

Walsh insisted that the self-determination clause of President Wilson's 14 points compelled the peace conference to give Ireland self-government.

President Wilson listened sympathetically to the explanations of Mr. Walsh, who is personally friendly with him.

Urge Hearing of Irish. The Irish-Americans further urged a complete hearing by the peace conference of the claims of actual Irishmen now here, including the Sinn Feiners and others.

President Wilson is understood to have told Walsh that he adhered to the decision he announced in New York on the night of sailing for France on his second trip.

(The president informed the Irish delegates who called upon him in New York that he must refuse to present Ireland's claim to the peace conference as president of the United States. He added, however, that he agreed with Ireland's aspirations for self-determination.)

leave the front but that the communist officers were holding them in place with machine guns posted along the road in their rear.

The enemy's guns shelled the Russo-Allied positions last evening for 20 minutes without causing any casualties. The other sectors are generally quiet.

Draft Plans for Germany If Terms Are Not Signed Paris, April 18.—(Havas)—Military experts, under the direction of Marshal Foch, have been charged with the drafting of a report on what should be done if Germany refuses to sign the treaty of peace. It is indicated that the methods of coercion which the allies would adopt may include the occupation of more German territory, the blockade of enemy ports and the discontinuance of the dispatch of food supplies to Germany.
