

BRILLHART SAYS WIFE'S CHARGES ARE UNFOUNDED

Socialist Leader, Against Whom Divorce Was Granted Wednesday Makes Plea.

Jesse T. Brillhart, socialist orator and candidate for city commissioner a year ago, whose wife was granted a divorce by Judge Troup last Wednesday says reports of the allegations made by Mrs. Brillhart in her petition do him an injustice.

Mrs. Brillhart charged that her husband failed to support herself and their two children, that he cursed and ordered her and the children to leave the house.

He was given custody of the two children and the equity in their home. She has conducted a hair-dressing parlor in the Paxton block for several years.

"I never cursed or abused my wife in all of my married life," said Mr. Brillhart. "I have always tried hard to support my family and always turned over to my wife all money left after paying bills."

The manager of the Providence Loan company can vouch for his borrowing money and giving it to her to settle her unpaid bills at her hairdressing business. I paid of an equity of $450 on our home in six months time.

"I advised my lawyer to withdraw my petition for divorce, filed before she filed her cross petition, so that she could secure the divorce uncontested wherein she takes all that we ever possessed worth taking, because I wish only for her future happiness and contentment. Could I have done more?"

Broke Health Department's Quarantine Rule; Is Fined

Stephen Griger, 2604 Y street, was fined $10 and costs in South Side police court, on a charge of breaking quarantine rules of the health department.

Complaint was filed by Inspector Z. Hedges, who testified that Helen and John Griger, 8 and 18 years old, respectively, were stricken with smallpox, and that the father endeavored to defeat the purposes of the health department when a quarantine was declared on the Griger home.

CLAUSE FOR JAY WALKING LOSES IN CITY COUNCIL

Commission In Debate Over Practicability of Adoption of Whistles For Traffic Regulation.

Mayor Smith and the city commissioners are holding a conference on a new traffic ordinance which has been prepared by Superintendent Ringer of the police department.

One of the mooted questions is whether traffic officers should use whistles instead of their arms for signals.

"I think that Officer Dudley at Sixteenth and Farnam streets is the best traffic cop I ever saw," remarked the mayor who is against the use of whistles for traffic direction.

The following "congested district," for restricted automobile parking will be approved: Sixteenth street, Leavenworth to Davenport streets; Farnam, Thirteenth to Twentieth; Douglas, Thirteenth to Nineteenth; Fourteenth and Fifteenth, Dodge to Howard streets.

The prohibition against "jay walking" was stricken, on the theory that pedestrians who cross at other than the established places, do so at their peril.

A committee of the commissioners will work out an arrangement for the regulation of downtown taxicabs, the proposal being that one shall be allowed to a block.

Alleged Auto Thief Tells Of Gang Work

With a confession to the police by Arthur Rorschack, Kansas City, Mo., arrested here Thursday by city detectives, a link in the chain of automobile thefts in Kansas City and Omaha has been broken, detectives say.

Rorschack confessed to the theft of three automobiles stolen two months ago from Charles Ricker, Kansas City banker. He was taken back to Kansas City today without extradition papers. Rorschack had been in Omaha for two months.

He was arrested Thursday upon a tip given Omaha police by Bertha (Jackie) Weide, 2345 Douglas street, who was taken into custody earlier in the day upon advice from Kansas City police.

Harbored Rorschack, Charge.

A. Lundgren, rooming at 2315

Douglas street, was arrested with "Jackie" Weide in connection with harboring Rorschack, an alleged fugitive from justice. Lundgren and "Jackie" Weide were booked for investigation. In police court this morning, Lundgren admitted driving a car for Rorschack, from Kansas City to Soldier, Kan.

Both were ordered held by the police for five days pending further word from Kansas City police.

Rorschack told Omaha detectives that he drove the stolen cars to Cheyenne, Wyo.
