

GRADUATION OF WISE MEMORIAL NURSES CLASS

Rabbi Cohn to Present Graduates With Diplomas At Special Celebration In Temple Israel.

At Temple Israel Thursday night at 8 o'clock will occur the graduation exercises of the 10 members of the Training School of Nurses of the Wise Memorial Hospital. The young women who will receive diplomas at the hands of Dr. O. S. Hoffman, chief of staff, are:

Misses Mary Witzke, Juliet B. Levy, Edna Fritts, Marjorie Wright, Olga Peterson, Dorothy Francis, Alydia Miller, Etta Bukacek, Ruth Johnson and Hazel Burgess.

At the graduation of the class of nurses, the chief address of the evening will be by Rabbi Cohn, he to be followed by Drs. J. M. Bannister, A. Roder and O. S. Hoffman. There will be musical selections between the addresses.

Reception Follows Graduation.

Following the graduation exercises, there will be a reception and dance at the Hotel Castle. The function will be for the class and the public is invited to attend.

Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock the members of the class will be the guests of the hospital, when a dinner will be given in their honor. At this time class pins will be presented by the superintendent of nurses.

Saturday night at the Hotel Loyal the alumni association of the hospital will entertain the members of the graduating class, the function closing with a banquet.

One of the pleasant features in connection with near approach of the members of the graduating class leaving the hospital for a larger field occurred the night of March 29, when 10 young women and the members of the faculty, were guests of the junior class at a banquet at the Hotel Loyal. Following the dinner there was music, songs and addresses.

Call for Reconstruction Of Public Health Service

When the operation of the draft law revealed the fact that a distressingly large percentage of the young men of America was physically unfit for military service, America woke up with a start from her complacent self-satisfaction. What is the matter? Are we a decadent nation and are we deteriorating physically? American boys who went overseas surely proved their metal, but the fact remains that there has been something wrong with the old system of body, care from health building, diet, eyes, weak hearts and a host of other physical imperfections surely lends force to the statement of the druggish physicians that the old school of medicine has not justified its claim of efficiency and superiority. When one realizes that all public health work, school inspection and the like has been monopolized by medical doctors the indictment is plain.

Dr. Lee W. Edwards says one of the most important things to be accomplished in the reconstruction period is to take the medical profession and place it in the hands of sanitary engineers, who will put the emphasis on sanitation and hygiene, leaving the matter of treatment to the free choice of the patient who certainly should have some right in the matter. The chiropractors are willing to risk the judgment of the American public when it comes to choosing between the changing theory of medical practice and the simple mechanically exact theory of chiropractic. The modern chiropractor does not need to argue the possibility of spinal subluxation cutting off life power to the various parts of the body. The impartial scientific X-Ray has settled that mooted question. The X-Ray locates the trouble and the chiropractor removes it.

Fly Paper in Stock.

A man who seemed to have hazy ideas of what he wanted entered a shop. He looked at playing cards and he looked at pencils. He inquired the price of this magazine and that, and examined the postcards and the books.

The young woman who was in charge of the counter became rather weary answering questions without making a sale. At last the prospective customer asked:

"Have you any flypaper?"

"Yes, sir," was the prompt reply.

"We have the Airman's Journal and the Aviators' Gazette."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Showing Herself.

At a Washington reception a lady said to Senator Nelson in a shocked voice:

"Look at that Cortlandt Bleecker girl. I never saw such a décolleté blouse, such a short skirt and such transparent stockings. I'm astonished, for I always thought her a very quiet creature."

"Perhaps," laughed Senator Nelson, "she's the sort that believes in the old saying that young girls should be seen and not heard."—Minneapolis Tribune.

Findley B. Jenkins, an Omaha boy, has won signal honors at the Princeton Theological seminary, having been awarded the fellowship which entitles him to two years' study abroad, and he has elected to go to Holland and study under Dr. Babineck. Although the degree of Bachelor of Divinity is given at Princeton only after an extra year's study, Mr. Jenkins was given his degree by the faculty on the basis of his excellent work without the necessity of attending the extra year.

Findley B. Jenkins

Findley Jenkins is a graduate of the Central High school and later attended the Wooster university of Ohio, where he graduated with special honors. His father is president of the Omaha Theological seminary.

Taking No Chances.

Katherine Stinson, the famous aviatrix, who is doing her best to win a commission in the Flying Squadron and to go to France, gave her idea of the Germans at a dinner the other day. She said:

"Nobody believes them—take Switzerland for example. Germany, not long ago, solemnly swore to Switzerland that its neutrality would not be violated. Switzerland's answer was to send out a hurry-up order for 350,000 gas masks."—New York Mail.

Attempt to Work Get-Rich-Quick Scheme at Capital

Nebraska Girls in Washington Discover Scheme Which Rivals Famous Wallingford Stories; Representative Reavis Turns Evidence Over to Postal Authorities for Investigation.

Washington Bureau Omaha Bee. Washington, April 19.—What looks like a well developed case of Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford was called to the attention of Congressman Reavis this week, and after full consideration the congressman placed the case over to the Postoffice department for investigation.

During the past winter the girl workers from Nebraska, to assist in entertaining the soldiers from the home state who happened to be located in or about the national capital, organized "The Ak-Sar-Ben" club, of which Miss Wetherald of Lincoln is president and Miss Hazel Norris, daughter of Senator Norris, secretary. The club has been giving a series of monthly dances at the Wilson Normal Community center, and their social affairs have attracted a great number of the soldier boys. The expenses for the entertainments have been borne by the girls themselves, in some cases real sacrifices having been made by the members of the club.

Receives Letter.

Last week one of the soldier boys received a letter from a man who had attended one of the dances and who presented the president to give him a list of the Nebraska boys located hereabouts. The letter follows: "The name of the writer being withheld until the Postoffice department makes its report on the alleged fraudulent use of the mails to exploit an organization that has no existence."

"Upon receipt of $3.30 we promise to notify you of the dance and reception given the first Saturday in each month by the Ak-Sar-Ben club under Mrs. Congressman Norris; to furnish upon request lists of all Nebraskans, 430, in Washington; to promote social and theatrical parties for Nebraskans, such as the Belasco theater dance; and aid in any manner that a secretary might wish to be a member of the George Washington law university, and who is from Omaha."

"Have an office at 102 Continental Trust building, where appointments can be made by that powerful agency, the mails, for obtaining Nebraska stuff. General Pershing is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, '93, law college, and the undersigned as a side issue, is publishing a book to be titled 'College Days of General Pershing, U. of N. Law '93.'"

"We expect to pay Caesar what is due Caesar and be under government control abiding by the following federal revenue act of 1918:

"Section 819. That from and after April 1, 1919, there shall be levied, assessed and collected and paid in lieu of the taxes imposed by section 701 of the revenue act of 1917, a tax equivalent to 10 per cent of any amount paid on or after such date as dues or membership fees, to any social, athletic or sporting club or organization."

"Section 802. That every person receiving any payments for such admission dues or fees shall collect the amount of the tax imposed by section 800 or 801 from any person making such payments; or admitting any person free to any place for admission to which a charge is made, shall collect the amount of the tax imposed by section 800 from the person so admitted.

"Beg of you to buy this bond of service, and order this balance of power."

Reavis Investigates.

Miss Wetherald, greatly exercised over the "holdup" that was being attempted, at once called Representative Reavis' attention to what has been described as being a neat piece of extortion, in view of the fact that the "league" spoken of has no existence whatsoever and the "secretary" being a self-appointed officer to receive money.

Reavis wrote to the writer of the letter and demanded that he bring to the congressman's office assurances that all moneys collected had been returned, otherwise he would be compelled to put the matter in the hands of those who are suggested by the character of the correspondence, and the writer of the letter disavowed any thorough investigation. Mrs. Norris and Mrs. Reavis have acted as chaperones at all these social affairs and are as greatly put out as are the girls of the Ak-Sar-Ben club.

Special Easter Overture At Strand Theater Today

Harry H. Silverman, director of the Strand theater orchestra, has arranged a special Easter overture for today. The selection chosen is "Easter Chimes," by Lake. The description follows: "Chimes are heard in the distance playing 'Lead Kindly Light,' then a reverie on the way to church. The arrival at the church, then the chimes are heard alone again this time playing 'Jesus Lover of My Soul,' followed by the orchestra playing the Palms, A Prayer, then 'Rock of Ages,' on the chimes. The return from church then the chimes fading away in the distance again."

Rather Discouraging.

"Miss Willing," began the young man as he wiped the cold perspiration from his brow, "are you fond of stories?"

"If they are new, Mr. Woodby," replied the fair maid. "I simply dote on them."

"But the one I was going to tell you, Miss Willing, is not new," said the young man. "It is, I might say, Miss Willing—or, Clara—the old story, but—"

"O, never mind, George," she interrupted. "Even if it is a chestnut I'm sure I never heard it. Go on please."—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

YANK DIVISION HEARS ADDRESS BY NAVAL HEAD

Secretary Daniels Tells Men of Second Division He Hopes to See Army Back Home Soon.

Coblentz, April 19.—(By The Associated Press.)—Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, speaking to the men of the Second division of the American army of occupation, today told his audience that he hoped the army would be taken home as soon as possible.

"As captain of the ferry boats which brought the American army to Europe," he said, "I wish to say that I have under my command 70,000 American boys who also are clamoring to return to their homes. I have told these sailor boys they would get home but that first they must help get back to the United States the boys who fought in France and Belgium."

Want to Come Home.

Mr. Daniels contrasted today's assemblage with that of the Germans who stood on the same ground in 1914 before beginning the war.

"Their chiefs," he said, "had visions of conquering the world, but America entered the war without desire for territorial gains."

The secretary's reference to the soldiers' return home was answered with cheers and shouts of "how soon," were heard. When asked for the dates when the men would be taken back to America, the secretary smiled but did not answer.

Confers War Crosses.

This morning during the review of the division the Belgian Order of the crown was conferred on Capt. Gaines Mosely and the order of Leopold on Capt. Robert Balke. Both are officers in the marine corps. Thirty-three distinguished service crosses and 65 French war crosses were presented officers and men of the division.

On the reviewing stand with Secretary Daniels were Mrs. Daniels, Maj. Gen. Joseph T. Dickman, commander of the Third army; Maj. Gen. John A. LeJeune, commander of the Second division; Brig. Gen. John L. Hines, commander of the Third corps, and naval and army officers who are accompanying the secretary on his trip.

Following the review, Secretary and Mrs. Daniels were given a ride across the fields to the speakers' stand on a caterpillar tractor.

Mr. Daniels and his party will be guests of General Mangin, commander of the French army of occupation at Mayence, today.
