Somewhere in or near Omaha there is a young man who wants to devote a lifetime to advertising work, because he believes it to be useful, interesting and remunerative. The young man we have in mind is in his '20s. He knows something about advertising now, but does not think he knows so much that he has already forgotten more than older men know.

This young man is clean-cut, straight-forward, dependable. His word is as good as any man's bond. He can write plain American in readable style. And he likes to work.

The advertiser is the sales and advertising manager of a food product factory. But he must be able to carry on, once the plan has been determined.

If you believe this advertisement is aimed at you, please let us hear from you now. Tell us about your education, experience, ambitions, etc.; whether you are married, or living at home, or boarding, and about how much saiary you want to start.
