Delegation Which Represents Packers and Stock Exchange Find Conditions Good in Nebraska, Idaho and Utah.

Feeling that they had fully accomplished what they set out to do, 30 Omaha live stock commission men, representatives of the packing interests, bankers and stock yards, returned to Omaha yesterday via the Union Pacific after being gone for about 20 days.

Farmers and live stock producers are enjoying a period of unprecedented prosperity and seem to be completely satisfied with existing conditions, according to the reports of the returned group of boosters.

Optimism prevails in all sections of the west and a feeling of co-operation seems to have resulted from the common sacrifice and sharing of the burdens imposed by the war.

Plenty of Cattle. There are more and better conditioned cattle in the western states at the present time than at any previous time in the history of this country, according to C. A. Smith, traffic manager of the Union Stock yards.

A mid winter and a sufficient amount of feed has brought about this condition, he stated. The delegation was heartily welcomed at every point in its itinerary.

Attend Conventions. More than 16 towns were visited by the members of the delegation. The itinerary had been so arranged that the delegation was enabled to attend many of the live stock producers' conventions in progress at the various points.

At Ogden, Utah, a special athletic carnival was held for the benefit of the town's water supply was shown to the travelers. Forty-seven artesian wells supply Ogden with her water.

Utah's Cache valley was also visited. The beauty of the country in that section was in itself worth the trip, said many of the men.

At Ogden, Utah, the trip was made by automobile. The beauty of the country in that section was in itself worth the trip, said many of the men.

Women to Have No Part In Serving Annual May Dinner of M. E. Church

Women had better look to their laurels, it is asserted by both F. A. Cressy, proprietor of the Cressy shoe store on the South Side, and A. F. Stryker, secretary-traffic manager of the Omaha Live Stock exchange that women will be relegated to a place of secondary importance when the male members of the Grace M. E. church invade the culinary field.

A dinner is to be given by the men of the Grace M. E. church Thursday afternoon from 5:30 to 7:30. Women will have no part in either preparing or serving the dinner.

Though none of the men who will assist in preparing and serving the Men's annual May day dinner are devotees of the domestic art, they are confident that the feast, the preparation of which they are already planning, will be a success in all its details.

Wives who complain of the difficulty of satisfying the palates of their lords and masters will for once find themselves occupying the enviable positions of their husbands at the board. But the men anticipate little difficulty in pleasing their spouses so confident are they in their ability to put forth an "incomparable meal."

Male members of the Grace church say that the experience derived in preparing and serving the dinner will put them in good trim for the coming days of woman's suffrage when the position of the male and female will be reversed.

The women on the other hand take this infringement of their natural domain in good-natured sympathy. "Let the poor things suffer," they say, "and go blithely on in their own sweet way."

BAPTISTS HOLD CONVENTION AT GRAND ISLAND

More Than 1,500 Delegates Expected to Enroll Before Monday Evening; First Sessions Held Saturday.

Grand Island, Neb., April 26.—The delegates to the Nebraska State Baptist convention have begun to arrive by train and auto. The crest of the registration will come Monday evening, by which time probably 1,500 will have enrolled.

Preliminary business meetings of the various committees and board of the convention were held at the Y. M. C. A., and the First Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon and evening. There was also held an important meeting of the college of trustees of Grand Island college at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday evening.

The first public service was the World Wide Guild rally at the First Christian church which closed with a banquet. The World Wide Guild is the national missionary organization of Baptist young women. There will probably be 200 of them at the rally.

The first public service at the Liederkreis auditorium began Saturday night and was the opening session of the State Young Peoples Sunday school convention. Dr. D. E. Magnuson, banker of Chapman, Neb., is president and Rev. J. D. Collins of Lincoln, Neb., is state director. A banner is awarded each year to the Sunday school which brings the most people and travels the most miles to the convention.

Another banner is awarded, in like manner, to the best represented Young Peoples' society. Musical Talent. Prof. E. O. Excell, world famous composer of Sunday school songs and editor of Sunday school songs books, with his equally famous pianist, Mr. Roper, had charge of the convention for the first 45 minutes Saturday evening. There will be a similar musical program at the beginning of each session.

Following the musical program State Director Collins brought before the committee some reports of the work in the state. The evening's session closed with an address by Rev. James Asa White, Ph. D. of Chicago, who is general secretary of the International Baptist Young People's Union of America.

One of the most unique features of the convention will be the convention Sunday school beginning Sunday morning. All delegates and visitors will assemble just as they would at their own churches for the Sunday school hour. State Director J. D. Collins will act as superintendent.

Arrangements have been made to bring in all the Baptist Sunday schools of the nearby towns in autos and by train to hold their session in connection with the convention Sunday school. Convention Sermon. Rev. Gilbert M. Brink, D. D. of Philadelphia will be the preacher of the convention sermon at 11 o'clock. Dr. Brink was for years in charge of the educational work of the American Baptist Home Mission society. In this capacity he supervised more than 30 schools and colleges. Within the past year he has been elected as the general secretary and the chief executive officer of the American Baptist Publication society.

The Sunday afternoon session will be devoted largely to the discussion of methods in Sunday school and in young people's work. The closing address of the evening will be given by Pres. E. Y. Mullins, D. D., LL. D., of the Southern Baptist Theological seminary, Louisville, Ky. Mr. Mullins will be the guest of honor of the convention and will speak each morning and each afternoon.

College a Feature. The chief features of the convention Monday will be the celebration of the interests of Grand Island college. A college banquet will be held at 5 o'clock in honor of the new president, Arthur D. Belknap, and the evening session will be given over to the inauguration ceremonies. Chancellor Avery, of the state university, will be present and officiate. The entire new faculty of the college will be presented to the convention at this time.

There are about 200 Baptist churches in Nebraska, with a membership of about 21,000. There are about 125 ministers. The membership is increasing at the rate of about 10 per cent every year. The religious activities of the convention cover the expenditure of about $10,000 a year. Rev. Ray E. York of Lincoln, Neb., is the executive secretary. Rev. O. H. Bancroft of Omaha is financial secretary.

Real Estate Market in Council Bluffs Active. Wallace Benjamin & Company of Council Bluffs report the following sales for the past two weeks: Geo. W. Turner, two lots at 5th and 6th streets.

DeWitt, Neb., April 26.—(Special)—Cretes gave a rousing reception to its returned soldiers and sailors this week. The program included a banquet, addresses, music, singing and dancing. Including the guests, there were plates set for 200 persons. The Rev. Mr. Cressman pronounced the invocation and Charles E. Matson delivered an address of welcome to the boys who had returned to their homes.

Dance and Style Show. Invitations are out for a dance and summer fashion show to be held in the Auditorium Saturday evening, May 10, given by the Union Outfitting company. A band of 25 pieces has been engaged.

Ohio Fruit Crop Damage Estimated at $2,000,000. Columbus, O., April 26.—Vernon H. Davis of the state department of agriculture estimated the fruit damage in Ohio at $2,000,000.

Blow by Propeller Blade. Indianapolis, April 26.—Mechanic Frank Pride of Uniontown, Ala., enlisted man attached to the Victory loan flying circus, was fatally injured today when his head was crushed by a propeller blade on a machine which he was attempting to start.
