MAJORS MEET TO SPEED UP OMAHA QUOTA FOR LOAN

Douglas County Subscriptions Lagging in Victory Loan Campaign; Man Puts Arthur County Over.

The Central committee, Victory Liberty Loan, is formulating plans to help Douglas county toward its goal in the campaign to get $9,171,550, the quota given to Douglas county by the tenth federal district chairman.

The central and executive committees of the loan met Tuesday afternoon in the Federal Bank Reserve to discuss ways and means.

Definite action will be taken today as to what shall be done to put Omaha "over the top."

Puts County Over. One Nebraska county went over its quota with a single subscription. The man who made the subscription is a director in the Corn Exchange National bank of Omaha who has affiliations with the town of Arthur.

He sent the chairman of the county Victory Liberty loan committee his check for $1,000, covering payment on the first installment of a $10,000 subscription.

Subscription Stands. "I wish to assure you that this subscription is very much appreciated. I feel, however, that it is only just to make an explanation to you. This is a little more than our total county quota, and I think that you should know this before we enter your subscription. Please understand that we shall be more than glad to take your subscription for this full amount, but we are holding your check and subscription blank until we hear from you again, and if it is your wish to cut this down a little, and if you wish to send another check for a subscription, we will return this one we now hold."

The subscription for $10,000 will stand and the county committee can smile in contentment that their full duty is accomplished, a thing which the Douglas county committee, with $3,000,000 to make up before its quota is met, would like to be able to do.

HOW TO GROW LATE CABBAGE Late cabbage is usually grown on land that has been utilized for peas, early potatoes, or early beans during the early part of the season.

The seed should be sown in a seed box or a special bed four to six weeks before the plants are needed for setting. The seed should not be sown too thickly, and it is a good plan to thin the plants to an even stand in the seed bed, so that they will develop uniformly.

The land on which late cabbage is grown should be well fertilized, and the plants set 18 to 20 inches apart in rows three feet apart. Where the work of cultivation is to be done entirely by means of hand tools, the plants may be set 18 to 24 inches apart in each direction.

The number of plants to be set in the home garden will depend upon the requirements of the family. Late cabbage matures about the time of the first heavy autumn frosts, and will withstand considerable cold. The crop usually is stored in pits in the garden, or sometimes in a cool cellar.—United States Department of Agriculture.

Omaha spent $25,205,287 with railroads in 1917. This amount is estimated by the bureau of publicity of the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, and includes freight charges and ticket sales for that year.

Of this amount the Burlington received over $7,000,000 and the Union Pacific over $5,000,000. Other roads follow in close succession. It is estimated by Chamber of Commerce officials that $30,000,000 will be spent this year on transportation.

In many cases he has taught sons and daughters of pupils of other years.
