

South Side WOMEN LAY DOWN LAW TO MAN WHO ABUSED HIS WIFE

Neighbors March in Body to Home of Joe Vodica; Threatens to Cut Heart Out.

Enraged because of the repeated beatings administered by Joe Vodica, to his wife, Bohemian women in the vicinity of the Vodica residence, 5403 South Twentieth street, took up the cudgel in defense of the lone member of their sex. They went in a body to his home and so frightened Vodica that he deeded over all his property to his wife in an attempt to conciliate her.

Mr. and Mrs. Vodica have but recently moved to the South Side. When Vodica was aroused from his slumbers Monday morning by his wife, who told him that it was time to go to work, he was so infuriated that he proceeded to punish her for disturbing him. He was so infuriated that he proceeded to punish her. Her cries aroused the neighborhood. A council was held among the women and it was unanimously decided to frighten the man.

March to Home.
Accordingly, in the evening the women marched in a body to Vodica's home. They demanded admittance, and the husband, hearing of their intention, fled to a corner in an attempt to escape their wrath. "If you ever beat your wife again I'll cut your heart out," said one of the particularly large women threateningly confronting Vodica.

"You are living in a large town and this is a civilized place, so you had better be careful," another is alleged to have told him.

Vodica was so frightened that he signed over all his property to his wife as reparation.

When Vodica appeared before Police Judge Fitzgerald to defend a charge of abusing his wife he was discharged, the judge believing he had been sufficiently punished.

Sheriff Mike Clark Married for 20 Years Grows Reminiscent
Twenty years ago yesterday Sheriff Mike Clark was married. The event took place at the home of his bride, Miss Anna Shinker, 1502 Corby street.

Mike laid off two days from his job as motorman. On the day before the wedding his fiancée and he went around to all the clothing stores in town to find a wedding suit.

"We put the clerks to a lot of trouble," said Mike. "Every dollar counted and we were out looking for the best bargain in a wedding suit we could find. Finally we decided on a very nice one that cost $12.50. I tell you I certainly was proud of that suit when I wore it next day."

Henry Dunn, at that time a captain on the police force, was my best man, and we certainly had a fine wedding. A bunch of boys charivareed us and after they had kept up the riot for a while one of them came up and said I ought to treat them to cake or at least give them a dollar. I made a speech and said I was ashamed of them for asking for a dollar. I said I had been in many a charivaree myself and we never took less than $2.50. Then I gave them $2.50 and those boys have been my friends ever since."

Mike says the best thing he did in his whole life was to get married. He has had nine children, six of whom are living.

GOODRICH NEW ROTARIAN HEAD AT ANNUAL MEET
Retiring President Welch Makes Plea That Business Men Take Time Each Month to Help Scoutmasters.

O. C. Goodrich, president of the Goodrich Drug company, was elected president of the Omaha Rotary club for the year at the annual meeting of that organization in Hotel Fontenelle last night.

John H. Beveridge, superintendent of schools, was chosen first vice president, and A. B. Currie of the Currie Coal company, was elected second vice president. Ray Kingsley of the Columbia Optical company was elected secretary and B. A. Wilcox of the Omaha National bank was chosen treasurer.

Dan Johnson, retiring secretary, and John Beveridge were chosen delegates to the national convention at Salt Lake City June 17 to 21.

John W. Welch, retiring president, made a plea for the Boy Scout movement as his final official act. Welch requested each member of the Rotary club to promise one evening of each month to Scout Executive Hoyt during which evening the Rotary would address a troop of scouts and explain the methods of his particular business to them.

"Once the boys feel that you are interested in them," said Mr. Welch, "their energy and enthusiasm in this great movement will be doubled. It will be a mutual help to you in many ways, but especially because these boys of today are the men of tomorrow." Mr. Welch is Scout commissioner for the Omaha council Boy Scouts. Seventy-five members pledged themselves to give one evening a month toward this work.

Just at this time the Boy Scouts need your help more than they ever did before," said Welch. "The sedition being sown by I. W. W. and kindred organizations is falling among the youth of the country. The literature that these radicals spread is coming into their hands every day. It is up to you to take this one step against the menace of bolshevism."

The newly elected directors, A. B. Currie, Jay Sutphen and Charles Wagner will meet Monday noon to outline the club's plans for the year. At that time Miss Alice Douglas, 3023 Leavenworth street, will take up her duties as assistant secretary in the place of Miss Emma Snauld, who is retiring. The saxophone sextette from Chin-Chin gave several numbers at last night's meeting. Three hundred rotarians attended.

Welch was given a silver bon dish and Dan Johnson a silver cigarette case in recognition of their "splendid work during their term of office."

A CARLOAD OF FANCY FRESH FROZEN FISH

DIRECT TO YOU FROM THE ATLANTIC OCEAN

FROM THE BOSTON FISH PIER CO. DIRECT TO PRODUCERS AND DISTRIBUTORS OCEAN FISH BOSTON MASS.

King Cole Co. Omaha, Neb.

10c per lb.

The Dawn of a New Era

Great Events Are Happening in the FISH Business

The first carload of Ocean Fish, containing 25,000 pounds of popular varieties, ever shipped west of the Missouri River by the Boston Fish Pier Co., Boston, Mass., has arrived in town, and will be distributed by the King Cole Co. to all retail dealers of Omaha and vicinity.

These Fine Ocean Fish Will Be on Sale This Week at the Leading Markets at 10c per lb.

ABOUT COOKING FISH

Fish must be thoroughly cooked—use plenty of salt and pepper. Ocean fish may be cooked in the same manner as any fish—baked, broiled, boiled or fried. Fish should never stand in water. Cooked fish need never be wasted; it can be made into a stew or delicious salad. A good cook can do more with fish than any other food. Plain boiled and mashed potatoes, squash and green peas, go well with any kind of fish.

SUPERIOR IN QUALITY and FLAVOR

These fish are frozen alive from the cold waters off the North Atlantic Coast. They are then dipped in cold water which forms a jacket of ice around them, thus sealing them up air tight. Fresh frozen ocean fish are more reliable than fresh fish shipped under ice, and are superior both in quality and flavor.

UNCLE SAM'S APPROVAL

Uncle Sam approves this method of distribution because fresh fish taken from the Atlantic Ocean cannot be shipped in its fresh state to the people of the great western states. The Boston Fish Pier Co., through modern methods of refrigeration and improved transportation facilities, have solved the problem, and are now supplying the tables of the middle west with delicious ocean fish, heretofore obtained only in eastern homes.

KING COLE CO., Distributors Douglas 351 10th and Howards Sts.

Attention Dealers—Call us by phone early Thursday for full particulars regarding our great fish sale.
