Dun's Trade Review.

New York, May 2.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

Economic aspects, while still reflecting many contrasts of light and shade, grow steadily brighter. Some of the dark spots, as those in the great iron and steel industry, remain conspicuous; but that decisive recovery from the after-the-war repression has occurred in some other leading branches is no longer to be doubted, and, best of all, there has been a further strengthening of that confidence which is essential to sustained progress.

It is not now a question, in short, as to whether conditions have improved, but only as to what length the commercial revival has already carried, and as to how soon the general peacetime expansion which seems to be clearly portended will make its appearance. All the traditional elements of prosperity are present; economically, the country has moved into a powerful position, and but for the delay in the adjustment of those complex international problems which have inevitably come as an aftermath of the greatest war in history, the domestic business development would probably be more far-reaching and rapid.

Cattle—As usual, the Friday's run of cattle was rather light, only 34 loads, estimated at 900 head. Offerings included few desirable beef steers, and on what were here the market was fairly active at steady to stronger prices. For the week receipts have been rather liberal, some 8,000 more than last week, and prices declined fully 50 and 75 cents during the first three days on both beef steers and cow stuff. For the last day or two, however, the feeling has been a little firmer, and with better undertone to the eastern beef market closing quotations are generally not more than half a dollar lower that at the close of last week. Stockers and feeders have been in meager supply, active demand and quotably steady all week.
