

UNI STUDENTS INSPECT OMAHA BUSINESS LIFE

Four Hundred Young Men Are Guests of Commercial Bodies On Tour to Supplement Studies.

Yesterday was University day in Omaha and everybody knew it. Four hundred of the young men students of the state university, aboard a special train over the Burlington, arrived shortly after 10 o'clock.

At the Union stock yards, about 100 of the students, interested in live stock and various departments of the packing house industry, detoured and spent a considerable portion of the day.

At noon they were the guests of the Union Stock Yards company, lunching at the exchange. Carl Smith was in charge of groups, 1 to 5, inclusive, and during their tour of the big plants they saw everything that goes with the production of the output of the houses that have made Omaha famous as a meat packing center.

Rain Dampens Ardor. When the special train reached Omaha, a drizzling rain set in and for a time it dampened the ardor and the clothing of the students.

Another group interested in chemical matters went to the smelter, the art glass factories, the engraving plants and the manufacturing plants of the pocking chemists. Other groups, interested in botany and plant culture of various kinds, journeyed to Forest Lawn, the woods in the vicinity of Florence and to a number of the larger greenhouses.

Students interested in mechanics and engineering, and there were a host of them, toured the Union Pacific shops, electric light plant, waterworks, pumping station, gas plant and power plants of the numerous large buildings in the business center.

A large number of the students went to the flouring mills and the great grain elevators of the Omaha terminals, while still others visited the Linger art gallery and the several large private galleries of the city.

Boys who are specially interested in financial affairs made a tour of the banking houses, a still greater number going to the implement establishments and jobbing houses. Visit Medical School. Among the students were a number who are preparing themselves for the medical profession.

At noon there was a gathering of students at the Chamber of Commerce, where lunch was served, after which they again, a little tired, but anxious to see the city, resumed their rounds.

Beautiful Second Mrs. Leet and "Billy" Who Shot Himself

San Francisco, May 2.—(Special.)—"Billy" A. Leet, wealthy Omahan, who recently attempted suicide following the filing of a divorce petition by his second wife, is recovering here. Mrs. Leet, who has been separated from her husband for some time, emphatically denied that she intends to arrange for a reconciliation.

His first wife, formerly Anne Robertson, who was granted a divorce from him in January, 1917, on a charge of cruelty, is now living in San Francisco.

The second Mrs. Leet, now suing the young Omahan for divorce was married to him in November, 1917. Before her marriage she was Miss Martha Ruddy, daughter of a wealthy manufacturer of Aurora, Ill.

Brandeis Booking for Next Season Include Good Things

Managers of the Brandeis theater have been busy for some weeks arranging the schedule of attractions for next season at that theater and announce a list of plays and companies promised that looks very good.

Ruth Chatterton, who appears here as co-star with Henry Miller during the first week in June, will go on to California. On the way back she will be seen at the Brandeis on August 29 and 30 in her new comedy by George Scarborough, "Moonlight and Honeyuckle."

U. S. Reconstruction Hospital-Teaches 150 Different Trades

One hundred and fifty trades and professions are being taught at the reconstruction hospital for wounded soldiers at Des Moines, according to Charles Leving, director of the Army and Navy club, who just returned from Des Moines after inspecting the hospital.

Any soldier who is unable to hold his old job is welcomed at the hospital, said Mr. Leving. "A man with a 10 per cent or higher disability compensation may enter the hospital. We have had numerous cases in Omaha of boys who found they were unable to hold their old job. Although they have been discharged from the army, they may enter the hospital as civilians and be trained."

POLICE CONDUCT PROBE IN DEATH OF MATT RAKIC

Police Surgeon Says Death Probably Caused by Fall Down Stairs; May Discover Foul Play.

Police are investigating the circumstances surrounding the death of Matt Rakic, 1246 South Thirteenth street, who was found yesterday, fully dressed, with a probable fracture of the skull, lying in a pool of blood at the foot of the stairs of his home by John Vupetich, a room-mate.

Whether Rakic was the victim of foul play or of an accident is what the police are trying to determine. Police Surgeon Edstrom, after an examination of the body, said death was probably caused by a fall down the stairs.

Divorce Courts

Charging that her husband, Walter V. Straley, struck, beat, smacked, kicked and choked her since their marriage in 1917, Hazel Straley has filed suit in district court for a divorce. She also charges that Straley drinks to excess. He is a taxi-cab driver and makes about $100 a month, she says. She asks to have custody of their 4-year-old daughter.

Rose Frankl charges in a petition for divorce in district court that her husband, Joseph, abused her, called her vile names, and went out with other women.

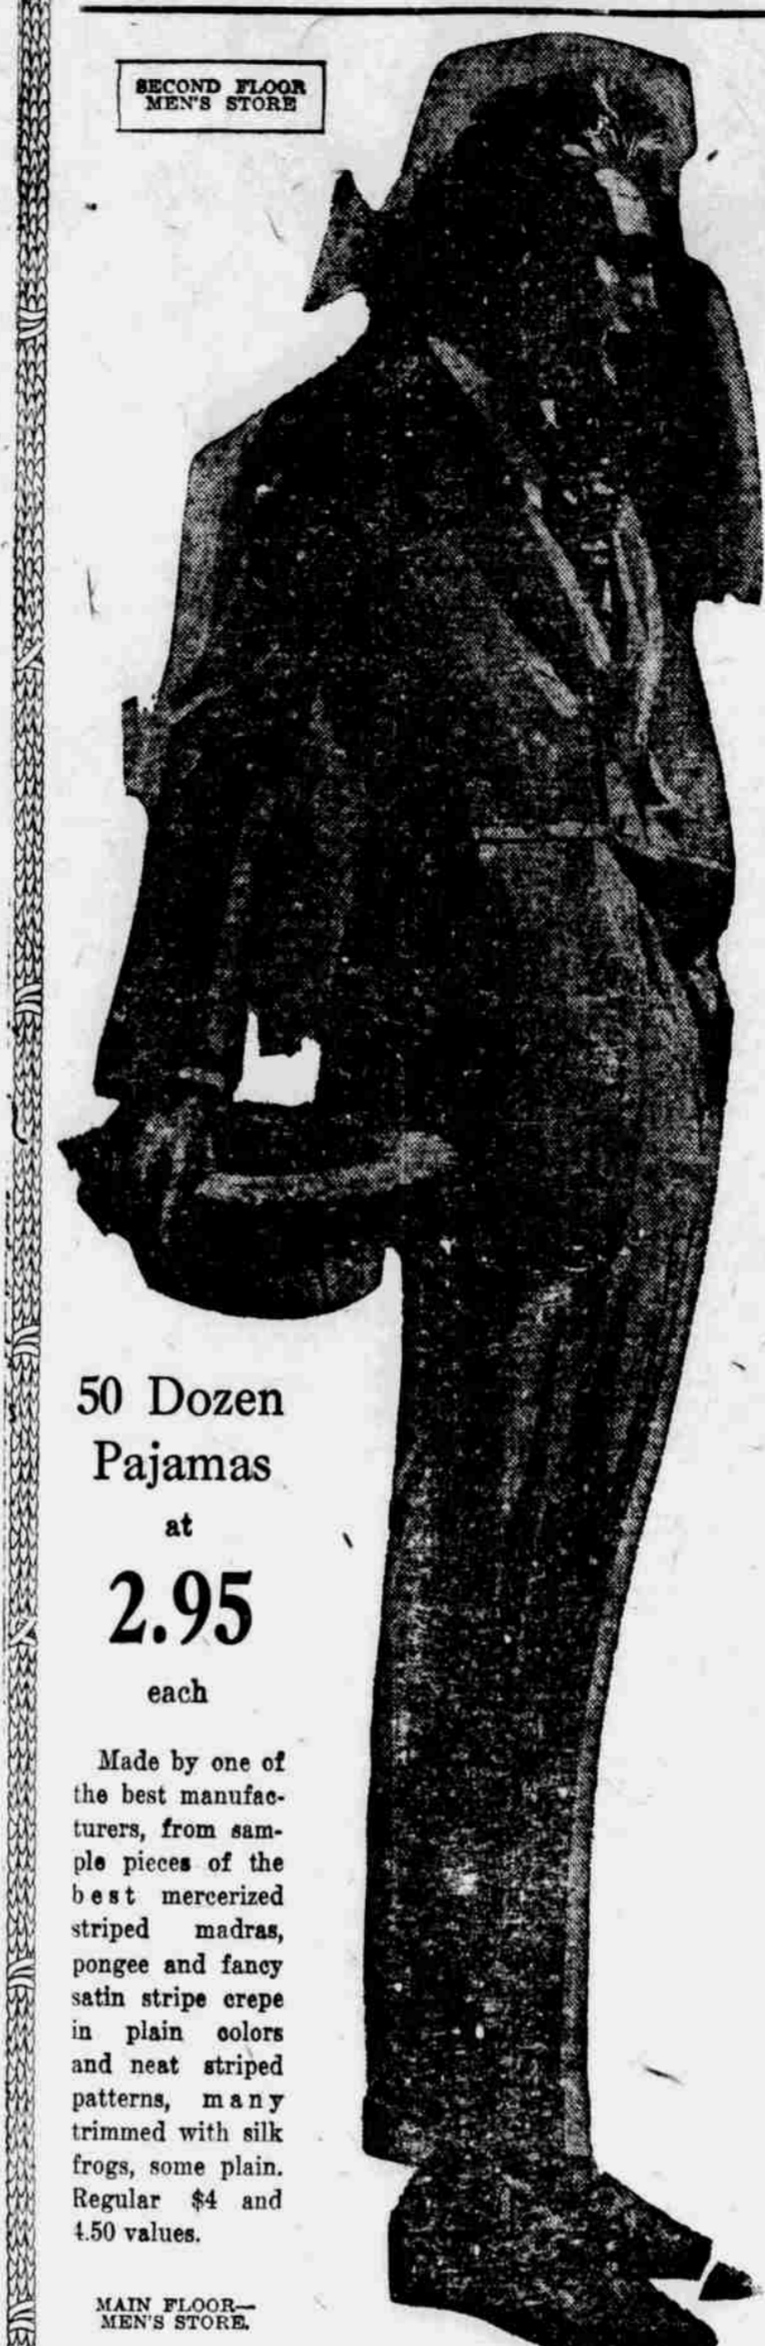

Marie L. Matousek alleges that her husband, Frank, accused her of infidelity and she has applied to the district court for a divorce, alimony and the restoration of her maiden name, Novak. They were married in Omaha in 1917.

Porter Camp, 3026 Evans street, has applied for a divorce in district court from Laura, a woman to whom he was married in 1915. He says she left him in April 1917, and that the last he heard of her she was living at 504 South Dearborn street, Chicago.
