Washington Folks Are Looking Forward To the Return of The Wilsons

Many Other Prominent Families Will Open Their Homes Soon and Enter Into The Spirit of 1919 Spring.

(Washington Bureau of the Bee.)

WASHINGTON'S spring season is looking up quite a bit, with the prospect of a return of our president and his wife, and the opening of a new congress shortly. Congress is the real spice to the Washington season. The Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Daniels will return here about the middle of May and Secretary Baker is already en route home. Secretary and Mrs. Daniels after having been almost all over the war zone in Europe, are in London this week where they are being entertained by royalty and the royal navy, in glorious fashion.

The spring here sees many changes in the diplomatic circle, the principal one being the return this week to England of the eminent Ambassador and British High Commissioner the Earl of Reading, and his countess, who have endeared themselves to all with whom they have come in contact. The earl is returning to his distinguished duties of lord chief justice of England. They spent a few days in New York where they were guests at the horse show of Mrs. Burke Roche, in her box, and at dinner preceding.

Washington is filled with soldiers, the khaki of the army and the blue and the forest green, of the navy and the marine corps, being constantly within sight, on the streets. The men are all dance-mad. Those who come from over-seas especially, and everywhere, when there is a strain of music and two or three people, they are taking advantage of the rhythms and tripping about, sometimes on the sidewalks and in the parks, within sound of the hurdy-gurdy. At all cafes or restaurants where there is any kind of music, the dance is in evidence between courses.

Potomac Park To Open.

The plan to open the Potomac park to easy access for those who have no motor or horses, is received with enthusiasm and people of all ages, can hardly wait until the needed improvements are made, for the landings of the government ferry which is to ply between the lower wharves of the river, and the landings on the south end of the beautiful park, which runs far out into the river. A beautiful view is gained down the river and far up, and across to the barracks, and up the eastern branch where the navy yard and the government hangars and Bolling Field are located. The plan is to open up the park for picnic parties, and for tired and hot humanity to get a whiff of fresh air, with a chance for an al fresco supper or lunch. The day trips to Norfolk and Old Point, by the river boats, is another step in the direction of making more comforts and even luxuries for city dwellers, and mer residents of Washington. For all these years, one could only make the trip to Norfolk at night, and the same for the return trip. From early in this month, through the summer, there will be a regular daily schedule both ways, which will make a lovely summer outing.

The Norris' Return.

Senator and Mrs. Norris of Nebraska returned to their Washington home on Sunday from their month's visit at Panama and Haiti. They had an ideal trip, for although it was scheduled as the early part of the rainy season, the rain was held off until after their return. They found on the day of their arrival in Panama that Governor and Mrs. Harding had mapped out almost every hour of their time on the isthmus, in entertainment of one kind or another. They were entertained at a dinner party that night, by the Governor and Mrs. Harding who had a large company to meet the visitors from the states. Another night the American minister, Mr. Prince, had a dinner in their honor, and then the president of Panama and Mme. Porras entertained them, and some other distinguished residents of the isthmus, including Senor Arrias, the wealthiest citizen of Panama, had a beautiful fuction in their honor. The party included Senator and Mrs. Norris, Miss Hazel Norris, Senator and Mrs. Wesley Jones of Washington state, Representative and Mrs. Lehlbach of New Jersey, and son and daughter, and Representative and Mrs. Fisher of Tennessee, and their two sons. They had an equally interesting and brilliant three days in Haiti.

Mrs. Burk, widow of General Berk, of Omaha, has returned to her apartment at the Dresden, from Atlantic City, not very much improved in health, so she is not doing much in the way of social festivities. Her daughter, Miss Anna Burk, who has been in France doing Red Cross work for more than a year, is now going into Czechoslovakia to continue that work, of which there is plenty to be done. It is something of a disappointment that Miss Burk is not returning to the United States this summer, but she writes she is much too interested in the humane work she is doing over there to return to idleness. Colonel Maish, son-in-law of Mrs. Maish, is also on the other side, with no prospect of immediate return.

Mrs. Stewart Wildman.

Mrs. Stewart Wildman of Omaha, spent a busy week here as the guest of Maj. and Mrs. Thomas Bell Sweeney. They had a round of entertainments for her, including a

Crepe Sports Blouse

By GERTRUDE BERESFORD.

ORANGE is an exceedingly popular sports color. The vibrant tones of this shade are found in the heavy silk crepes which are made up in peplum blouses to be worn with white skirts. A picturesque model of crinkly orange crepe is embroidered with a border of flowers in shades of white, black and Chinese blue. The sleeves and round neck are also treated with this embroidery, which is done in heavy mercerized floss. Black jet buttons fasten the neck and appear on the slashed sleeves. The fullness of the beltline is held by a narrow sash of black velvet ribbon. The sports hat worn with this effective blouse is vivid orange trimmed with field flowers, which repeat the coloring of the embroidery. Black and white daisies, cornflowers and nasturtiums predominate.

"DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR

Stop dandruff and double beauty of your hair for few cents.

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of "Danderine" at any drug store for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff. Your hair appears soft, glossy and twice as thick and abundant. Try it!—Adv.

Mother of Seventeen Made Ill By Absence of Runaway Son

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Casale and family

Mrs. Marie Casale, of Newark, N. J., the mother of 17 children, is ill at her home from worry because of the absence of her 14-year-old son, Frank, who "ran away" from home several weeks ago. Mrs. Casale declares that the cares of raising her large family never caused one-half as much anxiety as the absence of Frank. Charles H. Casale, father of the children, is a member of the New Jersey assembly. There are 17 children, eight boys and nine girls, and all except two daughters, who are married, are living at the Casale home in Newark. Mr. and Mrs. Casale are shown standing in the back row; next row, left to right: Rose, Elizabeth, Jennie, Margaret, Helen and Michael. Front row, left to right: Frank, Joseph, William, John, Evelyn, Charles, Josephine with Rya the baby. Dominick, Eugene and Catherine.

Balkans Know Value of The Red Cross

Balkans Know Value of Red Cross. In the Balkans, as may be readily surmised, Red Cross work in the various states has been brought to the highest development, this efficiency being due to experience as a result of the almost continuous wars in that part of Europe. Greece, Montenegro, Serbia and Roumania, all support capable Red Cross societies. Of the latter group, the organization in Roumania, because of the labors of the beautiful Queen Marie, director of all activities, is best known to the outside world. Red Cross work in China began in 1904 during the Russo-Japanese war, being inspired by a desire on the part of the Chinese to alleviate the suffering of those who were not being provided for by the Red Cross organizations of the combatant countries. The Chinese Red Cross is planning a reorganization this year on a scale that will carry the message of mercy to every part of the vast empire.

South America, Central America and Mexico have many efficient Red Cross societies. In some of the smaller countries, the Red Cross organizations have had a struggle to keep going, and these are to receive special attention from the congress at Geneva.
