Crowds Turn Out to Cheer Boys Who Helped Relieve Suffering of Wounded on Battlefields.

With glad acclaim, music and cheers, the 12 members of the Omaha ambulance company were officially welcomed home at noon yesterday. The boys arrived last week from overseas and yesterday the city turned out to extend the official welcome.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the Omaha boys assembled at Twenty-fourth and Farnam streets, where preceded by Desdunes' band they marched to the Chamber of Commerce, passing down Farnam street between crowds that lined and packed the street from curb to property line.

At the Chamber of Commerce the soldier boys were guests at luncheon, occupying the tables in the center of the main dining room. Dr. Jones presided, with Gould Dietz, Mayor Smith, Colonel Bannister and Captain Linquist at the speakers' table.

Following the dinner the official welcome home was extended by Mayor Smith, to which Captain Linquist responded, reciting some of the experiences of the boys in France.

HIS LITTLE GIRL IS PICTURE OF HEALTH, HE SAYS

Suffered Day and Night for Years—After Taking Tanlac Looks Like Different Child.

"My little daughter, Jean, has gained ten pounds on Tanlac and now she's the very picture of health," said Jim Snell, well known poultry and truck farmer of Raleigh, Tenn.

"When Jean was only seven years old," continued Mr. Snell, "she was taken with something like nervous stomach trouble, and there wasn't a day or night she didn't suffer, until we got Tanlac for her, and she's now fifteen years old. Her stomach was in such a bad condition she had to live on toast and eggs and milk, and she couldn't eat any kind of meats or vegetables. She complained of pains in her stomach all the time and would spit up half digested food. She was nervous and would toss and roll all night, for she couldn't sleep well at all. She was bilious and her complexion was bad, and she looked pale and sickly all the time. We gave her most every kind of medicine we could think of, but nothing helped her.

"After hearing of some of the good work Tanlac was doing, we got some for Jean, and it has done wonders for her. She actually looks and acts like a different child, and she's taken only two bottles of the medicine. She commenced picking up as soon as she started Tanlac, and she has gained ten pounds. She never has indigestion now, and she's just anything she wants—even such things as beans and other vegetables, and meats of all kinds. Why, she ate corn for dinner yesterday, and it was the first time in eight years she dared taste corn, and she ate boiled bacon that's cooked with vegetables. She's not nervous or bilious now, and sleeps like a baby, and we never hear anything out of her from the time she goes to bed until she gets up in the morning. Her skin has cleared up and her cheeks look fresh and rosy. You can just look at her and tell she's enjoying good health."

Tanlac is sold in Omaha by all Sherman & McConnell Drug Company's stores, Harvard Pharmacy and West End Pharmacy. Also Forrest and Meany Drug Company in South Omaha and the leading drugist in each city and town throughout the state of Nebraska.—Adv.

Omaha Man Tells of Food Distribution in Europe

Charles T. Neal, Head of U. S. Food Administration Grain Corporation at Hamburg, Describes How Flour Is Sent From German Port to Bohemia.

Charles T. Neal, vice president of the United States Food Administration Grain Corporation, who is now stationed at Hamburg, Germany, tells in a letter to Leigh Leslie of the work he is doing in assisting Herbert C. Hoover in distributing foodstuffs in Europe and of financial and other conditions as he has found them in the land of the boche. Accompanied by his wife, Mr. Neal left Omaha February 19 for New York, whence he sailed for England, from where he has since been directing the distribution of foodstuffs in a number of European countries.

Mr. Neal was for many years a well-known member of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce. For a long time prior to going to Kansas City he was engaged in the grain business at Lincoln, Neb. When the United States entered the war against Germany he offered his services to the government and they were promptly accepted. Last year he served as zonal agent at Omaha for the big grain corporation charged with handling the wheat crop for the government.

Mr. Neal's letter reads in part as follows: "Such courtesies as were shown me by the Omaha boys, prior to my departure, leads me to conclude they might be interested in my movements since then, particularly as to our work here.

"I arrived in London March 8. The general European office of the Food Administration Grain Corporation is located here, Mr. Hoover and his staff of American relief administration workers being in Paris. "We have subagents in Rotterdam, Copenhagen, Danzig, Hamburg, Trieste and Constantinople, with representatives at other points like Ragusa, Constanza, etc., in the southeast, and Hango and Helsinki in the north. From this you will observe that we cover a large field. Only today I was in telephone communication with one of our field men in Prague who was enroute to Schladau, Bohemia, to insure safe conduct of foodstuffs we are transshipping from here to the Czechoslovaks up the river Elbe by barge. Always Communicate With London.

"The London office is in touch at all times with all relief ship movements, allocating them before their arrival at Falmouth or Gibraltar. When they reach ports of final destination and discharge their cargoes, distribution to interior points begins. This distribution has been in operation for some time from Finland in the north to Constantinople in the southeast.

"These supplies consist of flour, wheat, rice, packing house products, cocoa, condensed milk, etc., attention being given to the requirements and necessities of each section, particularly as to cocoa and milk for invalids and children.

"This gives you an outline of our activities. Details, such as dispatch of 400 tons of clothing on one of our food ships destined to Poland, make up the general program.

"I had been in London about two weeks when it was necessary to open the port of Hamburg in compliance with the Brussels agreement, which provided for delivery to Germany of foodstuffs, it turning over to the allies about 2,500,000 of German shipping tonnage. You are aware of this agreement. I only mention it that you may know by what means this work is being done. It is incumbent on us to divert promptly food ships to Hamburg, both for the Germans, under this agreement, and also for the Czechoslovaks, who were needing it so badly. Under this arrangement, the German government was to transport this food in barges up the river to Czech points as far as Prague, it having been found unsatisfactory to try to reach this territory from Trieste on account of the wretched rail conditions. Hamburg having the most perfect port facilities imaginable, means quick discharge, prompt dispatch and unimpeded barges that were idle, made this an ideal scheme.

"Sailed on U. S. Destroyer. "To reach here about the same time that our first ship did was my assignment. A United States destroyer brought me, and I had the satisfaction of seeing the first food ship enter this harbor flying our flag. A few hours after our arrival barges with flour were on their way to Bohemia. In 10 days we have discharged cargoes of five ships and more are enroute.

"While none of the destruction of the battle front is in evidence here, this being some distance from the industrial and commercial destruction of what was a great pre-war commercial city is complete. "It takes money to make the mare go, and it is a grave question whether this currency has any value. There is no current rate of exchange. At present in a small way for local use 11 or 12 marks can be secured for our American dollar. Before the war you got about four. With most of the workmen idle in a city of over a million population, and no commerce with the outside world, you can readily imagine conditions. I have had all sorts of experiences that you would be interested in, but our work, rather than my personal experiences prompts and is the subject of this letter.

"The minister of foods, who came from Berlin for a conference advised me that flour rations would be increased. He and his associates also hoped that fats could, and that this increase would be to those that work. He hopes this incentive will increase labor, particularly in the coal districts. The unemployed are a perpetual menace. Anti-Bolshevistic posters with gruesome illustrations appear on the walls of buildings. Bolshevistic propaganda is also in existence. It leads one to wonder if the reasonable quiet of today can continue.

"I conclude from conversation with the people that they hope rather than believe that their present government is strong enough to endure. "Before this reaches you, new history may have been written. Let us trust that it may record order and an advance toward a better day."

Douglas Fairbanks tells this one regarding Edgar Selwyn, the playwright, and the latter's feelings on bidding goodbye to his wife, Margaret Mayo, who, you remember, went to France with the overseas players to entertain the soldiers in the trenches.

"How did you feel being separated from your wife after your long, happy 18 married years?" "Like Nathan Hale," answered Selwyn, with a bright promptness, "sorry I had only one wife to give to my country!"

"Guilty" Plea of Negro Refused by Judge Sears

District Judge Sears refused to accept the plea of guilty to the charge of burglary which James Trice, a 21-year-old negro, sought to enter.

"Let me tell you," said the judge, "if you're innocent I would be guilty if I sent you to the penitentiary, and I won't accept a plea of guilty from an innocent man."

"Well, judge, Ah jes don't like to lay in jail," said James, smiling. "You wouldn't like to lie in the penitentiary, either, would you?" snapped the judge. "Enter a plea of not guilty," he added to the clerk.

AT THE THEATERS

ETHEL BARRYMORE, whom we are to see at the Brandeis theater for four performances, beginning Thursday, May 8, in R. C. Carton's comedy, "The Off Chance," throughout her present tour will visit only a few of the larger cities, subsequent to her appearance in New York later in the season in a new play by Sir Arthur Wing Pinero. It was in Pinero's "Mid-Chance" that Miss Barrymore scored one of the most emphatic successes of her career. "The Off Chance" was the best liked of the group of plays contained in Miss Barrymore's repertoire during her engagement of an entire winter at the Empire theater in New York last season and for this reason, since it appeared to appeal strongest to the enormous Barrymore following, was chosen by the actress and Charles Frohman company as her vehicle on her present tour.

Something unexpected happened at the Brandeis theater last night and indeed was a surprise to the patrons of "Mickey," when the Glee Club of the High School of Commerce occupied the box and accompanied Miss Nina Dally singing the ever popular song, "Mickey." The audience appreciated the same by joining in the chorus and many encores were given. "Mickey" will be seen at the Brandeis today and tomorrow for the last time of its return engagement.

The management of the Brandeis theater and "Mickey" entertained the members of the Omaha Ambulance company at the performance of "Mickey" last night when they had a delightful time and joined in the singing of the popular song, "Mickey."

Frank Hunter, by many said to be the funniest black-faced artist on the stage today, is the headlined in James E. Cooper's company, "The Best Show in Town," at the Gayety theater this week. Last season "The Best Show in Town" was proclaimed by all who witnessed the performance to be the biggest laughing show on tour and this year it not only upholds that reputation, but is also making a popular bid as the best singing organization. Ladies' matinee daily at 2:15.

Not for some time has such a pleasing bill been presented as at the Empress now, music being the outstanding feature. In the stellar attraction, a Hawaiian novelty, Bell-Hawaiians, singers, dancers and instrumentalists, display their ability as entertainers to good advantage. The principals are costumed lavishly and the settings are very beautiful. The popular song, "The Red Lantern," receives a big hand when sung by the capable artists, Hal and Francis, whose voices are exceptionally good.

At the Orpheum this week two headline attractions are the playlet, "Tom Walker in Dixie," offered by John B. Hymer and company and the dance feature of distinction presented by the Marmine sisters. The Swedish violin virtuoso will give a special recital, to follow the regular performance Friday afternoon.

Bread Prices May Advance in Omaha in Near Future

Consumers Will Be Asked To Pay More Soon, According To Bakers—Increase In Flour Prices In Past 60 Days Given as Reason.

Price of bread in Omaha likely will advance in the near future, according to the announcement made yesterday morning by local dealers.

Pursuant to word received from Chicago that bread has advanced 20 per cent in that city, P. F. Petersen, president of the Petersen & Pagan Bakery Co., declared that the probability Omaha consumers would be asked soon to pay more for their bread.

"The price of flour has gone up materially during the past 60 days," declared Mr. Petersen, "and if it continues to advance, of course bakers will be compelled to ask more for their loaves. It is hard to say just when it will be necessary to boost our price. This depends to a great extent on the volume of business. For the present there is no need in raising the price of bread, because the volume of business is good. It is likely, however, the conditions, soon will demand an increase.

"I believe Omaha bakers will be compelled to ask more for their bread in the near future," said R. T. Boot, manager of the Federal System of Bakeries. "The fact that the price has gone up in Chicago is an indication that it will soar here also. Flour has gone up and probably will continue to advance. This means that bakers will have to look to the consumers of bread to pay more for their loaves."

ities of wheat for milling purposes would be brought in from Canada. It is understood that Omaha grain dealers neither lost, nor made money by reason of the rapid fluctuations of corn. They were not in any deals, not having gotten back into trading to any extent since the drop in corn prices a week ago.

Before the break new high records for the crop had been established owing to wet weather. July touched $1.72 and September $1.67. The break carried July down to $1.62 and September to $1.55. Just before the close July rallied to $1.65 and September to $1.60.
