

DISCUSSION OF PEACE TRENDS IN PLEASANT BAN

Premier Clemenceau Tells German Delegates Rule Laid Down for Them; Hun Leader Replies.

at once proceed in the way indicated by this document. M. Clemenceau spoke in French. Power of German Arms Broken. Count Von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German delegation, speaking in German, said: "Gentlemen: We are deeply impressed by the sublime thought which has been brought us hither to give a durable peace to the world. We are under no illusion as to the extent of our own and the degree of our own power. We know that the power of the German arms is broken, the power of the German will is broken, the power of the German will is broken, the power of the German will is broken..."

"BILLY" LEET ASKS DIVORCE IN LOCAL COURT

they lived in beautiful apartments in the Stanford Court, San Francisco's finest apartments.

"Mr. Leet is deeply in love with his wife and is ready to let bygones be bygones and go back and live with her. I think he isn't drinking, he didn't touch a drop of anything intoxicating on the train. He talked much of his wife and said he hoped she would become reconciled to him again."

"Billy" married his present wife in January, 1918. She was Miss Martha Ruddy, daughter of a wealthy manufacturer in Aurora, Ill. They went to San Francisco about three months ago.

"Billy's" first wife was Anne Robertson, sister of Mrs. Fred Hamilton. They eloped to Blair January 11, 1915, and were married. They lived for a while at the Hamilton apartments here and then "Billy" built a magnificent home on one of his Iowa farms and they lived there for a while. On January 1, 1917, Mrs. Leet brought suit for divorce. This was withdrawn, but another was filed a little later and Mrs. Leet secured the divorce and $50,000 alimony.

Young Leet had a brief career as a soldier at Fort Omaha and later at Camp Dodge.

The suit filed by Mrs. Martha Leet in San Francisco about three weeks ago is for separate maintenance. She alleges in the petition that her husband drinks to excess; that he associates with "low female companions;" that he kicked in the door of their apartment, and that he threw her and a companion and the chauffeur from an automobile. She asks $250 a month separate maintenance.

She has also filed another suit to replevin an automobile worth $6,700, which she says belongs to her and which, she claims, he took from her when he met her and a friend out driving on April 23.

Laughs at Attempt. Mrs. Martha Leet laughs at her husband's attempted suicide. She says he was just "bluffing."

"He has done it before," she said. "I know what it means. He had the slightest intention of killing himself."

Mrs. Leet, as well as her husband, is wealthy. It is stated on good authority that their combined fortunes are well over $1,000,000.

The district court records of Douglas county show that as long ago as 1912 "Billy's" property in Nebraska, Iowa and Colorado, consisting chiefly of rich farm lands, was worth more than $500,000.

"Billy" passed yesterday at the home of his mother, Mrs. F. M. Leet, 209 South Thirty-third street. Judge Sutton said in the evening that he had left the city to recuperate for a few days in a quiet place. The wound in his arm is still painful.

Fire of Unknown Origin Destroys Court House. Falls City, Neb., May 7.—(Special Telegram.)—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the court house at this place shortly after noon Wednesday. Most of the furniture and office records except those of the county superintendent of schools were saved. The loss, which is estimated at $40,000 is partly covered by insurance.

Hold Safety First Meeting. Three hundred men and women attended a meeting of the Safety First league last night in the city council chamber in an effort to promote "Safety First." Judge A. C. Troup and Mayor Ed P. Smith addressed the gathering.

Judge Troup cited several cases which have tried before him recently where if either of the principles had been careful enough to watch for safety first the accident would have been avoided.

Wilson's Principles Binding. "The principles of President Wilson have thus become binding to both parties of the war—for us as well as for us and for our former allies. The various principles demand from us heavy national economic sacrifices and the holy fundamental rights of all peoples are protected by this treaty. The conscience of the world is behind it. There is no nation which might violate it without punishment."

"You will find us ready to examine upon this basis the preliminary peace which you have proposed to us with a firm intention of rebuilding in common with you that which has been destroyed and repairing any wrong that may have been committed, principally the wrong to Belgium, and to show to mankind new signs of political and social progress."

"Considering the tremendous quantity of problems which arise as soon as possible to make an examination of the principal features of the reconstruction of experts on the basis of the treaty which you have proposed to us. In this will be our chief task to re-establish the devastated victor of mankind and of all the people who have taken part in the international protection of the life, health and liberty of the working classes."

Agree to Reconstruction. "As our next aim, I consider the reconstruction of the territories of Belgium and of northern France which have been occupied by us and which have been destroyed by war."

"To do so we have taken upon ourselves the solemn obligation and we are resolved to execute it with the greatest care and at the least expense as in any way possible. This desire can only be fulfilled by a clear understanding about the best methods to be employed. It would be the worst method to go on and have the work done by German prisoners of war. Certainly this work is cheap, but it would cost the world dear if hatred and despair shall seize the German people when they consider that their brothers, sons and fathers who are prisoners are kept prisoners beyond the preliminary peace on the former penal code."

Economical System Menaced. "Without immediate solution of this question, which has been drawn out too long, we cannot come to a durable peace. Experts of both sides will have to examine how the German people may come up to their financial obligations to repair, without accumulating upon their heavy burden, a great weight, because those who have a right to repair, to the advantage to which they have a claim, and to the right to irrevocable disorder of the whole European continent, as well as the vanquished peoples, must guard against this menacing danger with its incalculable consequences. There is only one means of banishing this—impartial control of the economic and social solidarity of all the peoples in a free and rising league of nations."

"Gentlemen: The sublime thought to be derived from this is that the disaster in the history of mankind is the league of nations. The greatest progress in the development of mankind has been pronounced and will make its way. Only if the gates of the league of nations are thrown open to all who are of good will can the aim be attained and only then the dead of this war will not have died in vain."

"The German people in their hearts are ready to take upon themselves their heavy debt, if the bases of peace which have been established are not any more shaken."

"The peace which may not be defended in the name of God and of the world always calls forth new resistance against it. Nobody will be capable of absorbing it with good conscience. Nobody could be able to take upon himself the responsibility of its execution which ought to lie in its signature."

"We shall examine the document handed to us with good will and in the hope that the final result of our interview may be decided to be all of us."

Clouds Delay Flight.

Bayonne, France, May 7.—Major Darley of the British army, who started from Margate, England, yesterday to fly to Madrid, landed on the French coast near the Biarritz lighthouse. Low clouds prevented the aviator from seeing the peaks of the Pyrenees. The flight will be resumed when the weather clears.

RELATIVES OF HOSPITAL MEN GIVE GREETING

Wednesday, the men being lined up and discharged in alphabetical order. As a result there were but 47 who received their discharge papers in time to catch the noon train out of Des Moines. None of the commissioned officers had been discharged up to noon.

Several Omaha Boys. Of the 47 who arrived on the early train nearly half of them were from out in the state. These boys, anxious to get home, found no attractions in the city and, waiting at the depot, caught the first trains out for their homes.

War was no summer outing for the members of Nebraska base hospital No. 49. The boys reached their base, some 90 miles back of the battle front, early in September, and from that time until the armistice were busy night and day working in shifts. At no time were they under fire, but a good deal of the time they were close enough to the front to hear the roar of the artillery.

Handled Many Cases. The cases that the members of the unit had to handle were among the worst. Wounded soldiers were given field treatment and then taken to the base hospital. Some days during September and October, while the fighting was the hardest, they handled as high as 500 or 600 cases daily.

Among the boys who returned on the early train, one of the happiest was Sergt. Charles R. Connolly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Connolly of The Bee. He was met at the station gates by his parents, showered with kisses and then carried bodily to a waiting automobile and whisked down to a real breakfast dinner, the first that he had eaten since leaving Omaha. Young Connolly was a member of the Nebraska Dandy Sixth regiment, and prior to going into the hospital unit served under Captain Metcalfe.

As the man got off the train they were quickly surrounded by a chosen few. Pvt. G. McNamar was nearly smothered by his beautiful little wife, his cousin, Mrs. S. W. Spratten, and his sister, Mrs. R. E. Buchtel. Louis Connolly, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Connolly, was greeted by his mother and father, his sister Frances, and a group of friends that were no relation whatever.

Glad to See Nurse. Every man in the second section was jubilant as only returning soldiers can be, when the train pulled in at midnight. Every man was glad, of course, to feel himself bound "round by the arm of mother and of wife or sweetheart, but every man there seemed every bit as happy to see Miss Josephine Chamberlain, a nurse, who fought shoulder to shoulder with them to nurse back to health wounded heroes in France.

"I'm going to kiss an army nurse, if it's the last thing on earth I do," said Frank Sanders, Omaha lad, as he broke away from mother and family just a moment and threw his arms around the astounded Miss Chamberlain. Miss Chamberlain's neck became rigid, her eyes bulged, her hands started up, an awkward pause, and it was all over. All the others were brim full of joy at seeing Miss Chamberlain again.

Miss Chamberlain returned to Omaha several weeks ago, having left the hospital company at their point of embarkation. "If it weren't for Miss Chamberlain," said C. O. Almqvist of Loomis, Neb., "I'd probably be in France yet. That applies to several other fellows, too. Here's why all the boys are so crazy about Miss Chamberlain. When they broke up the hospital at Allery, they transferred all the nurses."

Two Nurses Remain. "Miss Chamberlain and Miss Dill, however, asked to be allowed to remain with our fellows, who were still in the hospital. There were four of us. Miss Chamberlain nursed us back and we were able to leave when the company did."

The Nebraska Base hospital 49 was one of the nine hospital units centered at Allery, France. Allery was the largest hospital center in Europe when the armistice was signed.

The officers of the company have not yet been mustered and will probably be home in a day or two, according to the men who returned last night.

Beatrice Boy Returns. Beatrice, Neb., May 7.—(Special.) Dr. F. W. Buckley, who left Beatrice last summer for France with hospital corps No. 49, arrived from overseas Tuesday at New York, according to a message received by Mrs. Buckley. He is expected home in a few days.

Taft Favors Making Issue of Return of Railroads to Owners

Chicago, May 7.—Former President Taft, speaking in Chicago before the Hamilton club, urged the republican party to make an issue of the return of the railroads to private ownership.

Fair treatment of the new labor class, he said, should be another issue. He advised the club's republican membership that confirmation of the league of nations and peace treaty should not be withheld, because confirmation might possibly add to President Wilson's prestige.

Body of Unidentified Man Found on West Bank of River. The body of a man, apparently about 32 years old, was found by Coroner Butler of Council Bluffs on the west bank of the Missouri river just opposite the Thirty-seventh street pumping station and a short distance from the Illinois Central bridge, late yesterday afternoon.

One arm was buried in the sand of the river bank and it is thought that he may have fallen from the bridge. No identification marks were found other than a registration card of September 12, 1918, which gave the name of Mike Bozesse, 1023 Capitol avenue, Omaha.

Upon inquiry at the above address it was learned that he had roomed there until last January, when he was taken sick and sent to St. Joseph's hospital. Hospital authorities say they have no record of any such name.

Makes Sick Hair Well Doubles Its Beauty in a Few Weeks

Single Application Stops the Itching

Science has now proven that dandruff and scalp eczema are caused by a very active germ so infinitesimally small that it can be detected only with a powerful magnifying glass. It is the activity of these germs that produce the miserable itching of the scalp, sap the life and vitality of the hair, making it dry, brittle, scraggy, and eventually causes baldness. Shampooing will cleanse the hair, of course, but it will not kill the deadly germs; in fact it only tickles their fancy, but just give Lucky Tiger a chance at them, the one remedy that makes no excuses and takes no prisoners.

Lucky Tiger is a real specific, the greatest weapon ever arrayed against the microbe family—the one remedy that will quickly enable nature to give you a strong, vigorous scalp and a thick, lustrous head of hair.

Crucial Test Proves Its Efficiency

—And yet dandruff, which is considered incurable by so many people, is so very easy for Lucky Tiger that we suggest a more difficult test. We invite you to look about among your friends and pick out the worst case of scalp eczema you can find. (No matter if the infection is on the hands, face or elsewhere, Lucky Tiger will do the work just the same.) Suggest to your friend that they try Lucky Tiger. Follow the simple directions on the bottle and in a few days note the eliminating, healing process—the glow and the lustre of a healthy scalp—the one chance for nature to restore soft, luxuriant hair. Thousands of grateful letters prove six to eight applications sufficient, but to be dead sure, we base our money back guarantee on one 12-ounce bottle or 15 applications at your barber's.
