

TO POUR LIQUOR IN STREET HERE FIRST OF JULY

Women's Christian Temperance Union Plans Big Day of Victory By Destroying Vast "Booze" Stores.

Whisky and beer and brandy and gin and wine and other of liquids which "cheer and also inebriate" will flow down the gutters of Farnam street on Tuesday, July 1, according to the plans of the local Women's Christian Temperance union.

The day of victory for national prohibition is to have a big celebration in Omaha and plans for it have already been mapped out.

The gutters flowing with beer and whisky will be one feature. The white ribbon women, assisted by the men who have come to "see the light," propose to get an order turning over to them the vast stores of "booze" in the Douglas county court house.

Bands Will Play.
These bottles, cases, jugs and kegs will be carried out to the Farnam street curb where they will be smashed, while bands play "The Brewers' Big Horse," "The Cold Water," "The White Ribbon" and other popular—or perhaps unpopular—airs.

Addresses are to be made and a general jollification indulged in to celebrate the dethronement of Demon Rum after his long and disastrous rule.

There are also stores of "booze" in the federal building and in the police station. These will also be secured, if plans are carried out, and will be broken in the gutters.

To Drive Away "Thirsty."
Guards of trusted teetotalers, it is said, will be stationed along the gutter at intervals of five feet to drive off any of the thirsty who might seek to dip up as much of the alcoholic stream as possible before it finds its way to the sewer inlet.

The big drive which the W. C. T. U. is making for 1,000,000 members and $1,000,000 by July 1, will be resumed in Omaha next Monday. It was stopped temporarily to make way for the victory loan drive. Mrs. Jennie Kemp, Oregon state president of the W. C. T. U., is in Omaha conferring with the local workers on the local drive. She has been traveling all over the United States in the interest of the drive.

Ministers in Omaha churches will speak of the million-members campaign in their pulpits next Sunday.

Pure-Bred Hog Ranch Developed at Ralston By Skinner Interests

A new and valuable enterprise, which will add to the many facilities now offered by the Omaha live stock market, is now being developed at Ralston by the Skinner pure-bred hog ranch. This is the breeding on a large scale of pure-bred hogs for the improvement of herds everywhere, and which the farmer, on his trip to market, can see and buy at moderate prices.

Heretofore all buying of fine pedigreed hogs has been done at public sale, the selection at any sale not being too wide, and the intending purchaser to attend them has been forced to journey considerable distances, frequently to fail to find what he wanted, or the price too prohibitive.

Now, hog growers will be enabled, when in the city on other business to go out to the Skinner ranch and look over a large variety of stock, for it is intended to keep on hand four large foundation herds of the leading breeds. The ranch is within three miles of the stock yards, at Ralston, and is reached by paved road and street car line.

The finest of breeding stock will be installed there. From $100,000 to $200,000 will be put into hogs, the best that can be bought, and selected by the best experts and authorities. A purchaser of stock at the ranch can be absolutely sure consequently that he is buying the highest grade pedigreed stock to be secured anywhere. The hogs will be sold at moderate cost, commensurate with cost of production, for it is high prices and large premiums that has deterred thousands of farmers from establishing herds of pure-bred hogs for stock purposes. The common practice has been to sell a pure-bred at a price, including premium, about five to 100 times the cost of production.

Police Aid In Search For Boy Who Mother Says Is Held by 'Vamp'

In spite of the pleadings of Mrs. N. N. Panches, 2861 Bristol street, who is trying to get her son, George Panches, from the alleged "vampire" clutches of Hilda Swanson, 48 years old, 1711 North Twenty-fourth street, her requests remain unanswered.

Miss Swanson steadfastly affirms that when she finds George Panches, a recently discharged soldier and an oldtime acquaintance of hers, she will marry him. "Just to spite his mother who is trying to separate us, I'll marry him," she said.

Mrs. Panches has asked police to locate her son. The father, 68 years old, suffered a third stroke of paralysis Thursday, and his only solace is the presence of his son. "Oh please help me find him," the mother cried. "I know that Swanson woman has him, and won't let him go." Since the boy left home to be with Miss Swanson, the parents have not heard from him.
